EVERYONE knew the Philips League road, in this first season would be pitted with setbacks. We were confident there would be periods of success, but realised those happy times could just as quickly be replaced by stark disappointment.

Both City and Lions now have experienced that situation, Lions beginning with a draw against Adelaide City, then struggling manfully until securing those two successive draws against Marconi and St. George.

Those two efforts will be forgotten by a lot of people following last Sunday's disaster (let's face it, Eastern Suburbs could have won the match 6-0). And Lions existence remains just as parlous as they travel to Melbourne this weekend to do battle with South Melbourne and Supermac.

Brisbane City have suffered similar frustration. Victorious over South Melbourne, Mooroolbark and Lions and the draw with Eastern Suburbs gave them a healthy seven points, in fact a point a match.

The loss to Canberra City and Saturday's 4-0 drubbing by Sydney Olympic, in many ways, means both sides virtually have to start all over again. Lions last two home gates have not been outstanding. In fact, last Sunday's crowd was the lowest of the season, and it should not have been in view of the club's previous two results. We'll know on Sunday if City's support is suffering similarly when they line up against fifth placed Fitzroy United.

If crowds are dropping away slightly, the onus again must fall back onto the two clubs. They were criticised earlier in the year and both responded — and both were rewarded for their efforts. But that apathetic attitude seems to be creeping back again, if Lions approach to the Easts match was any guide. There was not ONE piece of promotional work effected during the entire day.

We are not counting the GO SOCCER award to Paul Laslo or the farcical and boring attempt to promote a brand of energy-giving drink. Maybe a few bottles of the stuff should be given to the people who are supposed to be promoting these games in order that they provide a spectacle for the paying customers.

The Coach's Viewpoint

The Personality of the Coach

By Queensland
Director of Coaching

DENIS FORD

TO become a good coach it is essential to be a willing learner and also to be self critical. Coaches must be willing to learn from everyone they meet — players, public, the press, the coaches, etc.

They must be willing to accept the fact that they will make mistakes but more importantly they must learn from those mistakes. After every coaching session I examine critically whether I achieved what I set out to achieve, and if not, then I want to know why.

Talking openly and honestly to the players can help in this direction. They will let you know whether the session was a success by their overall understanding (or misunderstanding) of what you were trying to achieve.

By this type of open discussion we may well discover some home truths about ourselves as coaches, for whilst as coaches, we tend to complain about players' behaviour and attitudes. But do we ever stop to consider what they think of our behaviour and our attitude towards them. Lloyd Percival, a coaching expert in Canada for the last two or three decades ran a superlative survey on exactly this question with 382 outstanding athletes.

Their responses indicated 15 positive and 25 negative behaviours of their own coaches. The list briefly represented coaching behaviours in the following fashion:

POSITIVE—

- Supportive of athlete to public
- Calmness, relaxed
- Inter-personal effectiveness
- Reinforcing
- Personally attentive
- Treats everyone equally
- Not hyper-critical or aggressive
- Helpful with problems
- Knowledgeable
- Organised
- Inspirational, but low key, etc.

NEGATIVE—

- Hyper-critical
- Shouting
- Withdraws privileges
- Punishes through training
- Chokes during competition
- Unsympathetic
- Poor instruction
- Rigidity
- Opinionated
- Pessimistic
- Ostentatious in congratulations
- Negativistic
- Whines, sulks about mistakes
- Disorganised
- Ignores fundamentals
- Too concerned with strategy
- Dictator
- No personalisation
- Superstitious
- Lazy
- Sarcastic
- All inspiration, no information, etc.

It would be useful if coaches asked players to write down a checklist of what they consider positive and negative. We may well be in for a nasty shock.

The Premiership Action

SOUTHSIDE Eagles again had their supporters heading for the bar for a double scotch at one stage of their match against Merton East in the second half last Saturday. The Eagles have picked up an alarming trait of apparently easing right up when they appear to have the opposition by the throat.

Tony Brennan missed a goal he would normally score with his eyes shut after Ritchie Wilson put him through, but after that 8th minute raid, Merton were very much in the picture for the next 20 minutes or so. Young Russ Griffiths was the most prominent member of the Merton aggression, first beating the off-side trap to cross from the left, only to see Mal Bland waste his efforts with a blast over the top.

Griffiths and Gary Bohan found an opening for Phil Thompson, but he trundled it too far and John Bennett made the first of a number of strong saves. Merton kept up the pressure and kept it together and another foray at the Eagles backline ended with Thompson's left footer sailing over the bar.

Then the match took a dramatic about face, and within the space of five minutes, Eagles were an incredible three goals up. Chris Carroll completely misjudged a dipping shot from Brennan (good work from Alan Sinclair) to make it 1-0 and only minutes later, Brennan outjumped everyone to head in No. 2 (Ritchie Wilson's cross). Just to complete the onslaught, Brennan crossed from the right and Ivars Melbergs, who doesn't miss many headers, dived forward to slot home No. 4. No doubt Bland was saying some harsh words to his boys at the back at this stage.

Bennett helped to keep the slate clean just before halftime when he reacted quickly to save a shot from Bevan Bohan after Bland had taken a free kick quickly while Eagles argued about the decision. The shot was going like a rocket and Harry Stewart arrived just in time to pump it away for a corner. Merton started the second half as if completely oblivious to the fact they were down 3-0 and Bland struck quickly on two occasions, again bringing out the best in Bennett.

Merton dragged one back with Lee (yes we were all calling him Lex last weekend—same family different brother) Donsky's booming shot which looked to have been slightly deflected past Bennett and shortly after, Griffiths missed a golden opportunity to grab No. 2 when he was put in the clear by Bevan Bohan, did everything right by drawing Bennett out, but then shot agonisingly inches wide.

Finally No. 2 did come when Thompson made a great run onto a lovely through ball and Stewart gave away the penalty which Griffiths struck in from the spot. Eagles in fairness also missed a couple of chances but by now they must have learned the lesson. We thought they would have learned it before this, following their debacle against Wynnum.

Annerley were at home to Richlands, and as the latter had won the first round clash 2-0, there was plenty of interest, as Annerley had gone from strength to strength after that meeting. One of the best First Division games of the season resulted, with exciting clever football from both sides and a sensational incident during the final minutes.

The home side started at a great rate and created three scoring chances in the first 10 minutes, and it was 20 minutes before John Ferguson was tested. The game then flowed from end to end with chances for both sides and both keepers being called on regularly. There was one near miss by Richlands when the ball went untouched across the face of goal.

Finally, after 38 minutes, a good header by Campbell beat McKenzie to put Annerley one up but in the 42nd minute, Richlands equalised from a good cross from the right by Dench, which Mangan banged in, making it 1-1 at halftime. Often games like this fall away in standard in the second half, but not this one. Good chances were created again notably an Annerley header which rebounded from the crossbar into the 'keeper's arms, and a Richlands header which was just wide. Ferguson was injured and replaced by Scanlan. Neither side was able to grab the winner and in the 87th minute, there was a sensation.

A Richlands player coming down the left wing was brought down by an Annerley defender. The referee blew for the infringement and then to the amazement of all, produced the red card and ordered the Annerley player off. The send off seemed unbelievable as the player had not been in any trouble during the game. Cooler heads in the Annerley camp thought that perhaps the referee had mistaken the player for his brother, who had been cautioned earlier, and officials discussed the matter with the referee afterwards. It was established that mistaken identity had occurred.

As there were only three minutes to go, the incident probably did not have any bearing on final score, but what if it had happened earlier and changed the result? This referee is one of our most senior men and had allowed the game to flow on up to then, because he frequently played the advantage to either side.

However, surely with his experience, he should check his numbers before sending off what turned out the wrong player. For Richlands, Mangan, Lawrie, Wery and Walker (replaced at halftime) all had good matches while for Annerley Campbell was at his best, and his best is a delight to watch, Rooney was busy as usual and was supported by Tom Gray and Greg Steel.

From the Ipswich point of view, a happy result with Saints 3-1 win over North Brisbane. Saints were on top for most of the first half hour, then for the next 30 minutes, 15 in each half weathered a cohesive Norths attacking machine, and in so doing, blunted the attacks before they were really goalkeeper testing.

Then back to the ascendancy came the home team, with two goals in 10 minutes to seal and steal the match, and cement their climbing position on the table. In the first 5 minutes, Norths attack failed twice when Biedak gave Walker a headed pass and the latter failed to do anything with it; then Steele cut the ball across to Kirk, who just managed to kick the ball weakly away from the danger area. Biedak almost scrambled the ball to the goal line but the smothering Saints defence conceded a corner.

Then came Saints first goal, A Scottish three headed trick. Geo Williamson used his head to direct his feet to place the ball on to Lavan's head, near the goal post. Tom backheaded it and Martin Breen showed a head has other uses than for parking a "glengarry" on it. Norths defence appeared shaky at this stage and on two occasions they were lucky to scramble the ball clear. Peter Nielsen was beginning to fit into Saints' style of play and initiated what was one of the finest moves of the day. From inside his own half, Peter slipped the ball to Lavan, who gave him a return pass and then gave Breen a chance but the latter's shot was too wide.

A Norths attack saw Steve Dann shepherd Biedak right out of the attack and referee Jack Wood had no hesitation awarding an indirect free kick inside the area to the left. The ball was tapped to Steele, who fired it through a wall of defenders past Jenkins to equalise in the 25th minute. Saints attack kept Barlow busy. He had made a point blank save from Williamson, he just managed to get his hands to a Brian Kathage shot.

In the second half, first 20 minutes Saints defence stood firm against repeated Norths attacks. Jenkins leaped high to concede a corner from an Ian Tosh shot after he had moved from fullback to make the overlap. How firm they stood is realised when it is noted that Norths big three (Steele, Biedak and Pollock) between them have scored 22 goals this season and not once did any of them get in a worthwhile shot. And full marks to Glen McKeand who lifted his game in the second half — he was passed only once and made repeated driving thrusts along the left flank. Saints two goals that gave them the match both came from the left wing, the first in the 67th minute and the second 10 minutes later.

For the first, Peter Nielsen sent Brian Kathage along the touch line in a run that beat three players and his low cross found Williamson, who "bumble footed" it into the net. It appeared to hit the boot of his right foot and ricochetted across the line as he was trying to steer it in with his left foot.

Anyhow it was a goal, and a valuable one. And it seemed to take some of the spirit out of Norths as Saints again stormed to attack after being on the defensive for so long. Kathage forced Barlow to dive wide to concede a corner and then came the final goal. Nielsen again sent the ball up the left wing via Williamson, whose cross found Randall McKeand in position to slam it home and seal things. Go Soccer travelled to the bayside suburb last week to see the all important battle for survival between Wynnum and Bardon the two bottom teams in first division. Wynnum had new capture Jim Carpenter as captain for the day playing centre half with Peter Edwards while Bardon under new coach Derek Attwood had a rearranged side with Bob Wilson at centre, Iain Young in midfield and Dave Elliot in goal.

What a start Wynnum had, they gained a free kick straight from the kick off and from the set play Brian Lampitt back headed a ball into the goal where it beat Hayes and Elliott to give the baysiders the best start possible. The Bardon side looked completely deflated and for ten minutes or so Wynnum pressured the goal area where the defence looked awfully unsettled and liable to collapse at any moment. Gradually however the Bardon players got over the initial shock and began to run at the Wynnum goal and it was the turn of the Wynnum back four to look shaky. Wilson was beginning to look very dangerous and from one of his moves when he had drawn Carpenter and Edwards out of the area he suddenly swivelled and placed a perfect ball through the defence. Denny collected the ball at speed, passed the fullback and drove a low shot true to the back of the net. Bardon began to push the ball first time now and showed the potential that this team has and the Wynnum keeper had his share of work to do and was quite relieved to see corners galore being given away by his defence. Suddenly fate took a hand in this game and after a tackle Wilson was seen to be on the ground. The big centre had to be carried off on a stretcher with a suspected broken leg and Bardon once again had an uphill fight in front of them. Phil Cruse moved to centre forward and a heavily strapped substitute McDonald came on at outside right. The initiative now slipped away from Bardon and they held on grimly until half time, 1-1.

The game now entered one of these phases all too common in first division football just now with a lot of elementary errors being made and both sides degenerating into speculative football, balls being passed with more strength and hope than skill and accuracy. During this time Bardon should have taken a lead when Cruse chased a loose ball to the line and cut it back to the far post where Denny was standing all alone. Ross headed over the bar when it would have been easier to let the ball hit him and go "in off". Wynnum then took the lead in a move almost a duplicate of Bardon's goal. Lampitt speculated a long ball through a strangely static Bardon defence and Rehbock appeared from nowhere to roll the ball under Elliott for Wynnum's second goal. Bardon to their eternal credit now took the bit between their teeth and proceeded to put Wynnum 'through the hoop' albeit a bit rough and uncontrolled. They fought and ran themselves to a standstill and with a little more composure and understanding would surely have had a point. Wynnum's contribution to the game in the last half hour was a few isolated breakaways which should have brought goals but no doubt coach Bill Bryant will have something to say about that.

Bardon must be careful of this practice of throwing everyone into attack with no thought to the consequences. They could have lost this game 4 or 5 to 1 and that would have been a travesty. They deserved a point but with a few positional changes and the procurement of a couple of experienced forwards they could give more than a few teams in the division a fright.

For Wynnum, Lampitt is in a class by himself as a player, Edwards and Carpenter had a quiet debut in understanding while the goalkeeper did everything he had to. Bardon had few stars on the day, their play is too spasmodic but always there are flashes of cohesion and teamwork, which, if it blossomed would bring results. Hogg and Orford played consistently in defence while Cruse has an underlying threat in his play just bursting to get out. Not a great game but just as good as some others recently witnessed by GO SOCCER. Another very poor crowd.

P.S.—Bob Wilson has broken a bone just above the ankle and could be out for four weeks. This is a blow to Bardon as "the big man" has been one of their recent stars.

BUCKY IS BACK

QUEENSLAND'S I've been everywhere player bobs up again at Perry Park on Saturday for the first round of the 1977 Ampol Cup.

Representing the Sunshine Coast against Redlands will be one of the representative team's most consistent goalscorers, Ken "Bucky" McLean. Thistle and Saints were two of McLean's Brisbane clubs, and he also came to Brisbane with a Mt. Isa side in a previous Ampol Cup.

McLean and Lyle Bryce have been two of the chief goalscorers in Sunshine Coasts preliminary round 7-1 win over the Gold Coast and a victory over Stanthorpe. The rules of the competition however had to be exercised to actually sort out the winner in that match when the teams were locked together 4-4 after extra time with Sunshine Coast coming through to the first round with a 1-0 corner kick margin.

Players in the Sunshine Coast squad, which is coached by David Wield come from various clubs, including Beerwah-Glasshouse, Caloundra, Maroochydhore, Nambour Reds and Noosa. The goalkeeper is Alan Smerdon and his deputy is John Boyd.

Defenders in the squad are Neil Beavis, Les Kunde, Chris Dunk, Graham Stevenson, Terry Roe, Gordon Cooper, Tony Dobinson and Howard Skerman. The other squad members, all midfielders or forwards are Mike Evans, Ken McLean, Philip Shaw, Lyle Bryce, Trevor Jones and Grant Thomson.

4th June 1977 - Independence Day for Mt. Gravatt

MT. GRAVATT Soccer Club returned to Dittmer Park after 18 months of banishment. During this time they were forced to impose on the hospitality of Merton East and hold their "home" games at Heath Park since returning to division one in 1976. After 18 months of hard work and the expenditure of over $10,000, Mt. Gravatt held their first home game in division one since 1974 against competition leaders St. George.

The Club responded to the occasion with a Gala Day for players and spectators. With the generous support of local business houses, a full page feature was taken with the telegraph to announce the occasion. Mt. Gravatt Soccer Club would like to take this opportunity to thank all those people, including the St. George players and officials, who helped make it a Grand Day.

It was an early kick-off for the first team squad. They were met at Dittmer Park with a bus, courtesy of Ira Berk, and taken to Garden City for personal appearances. The boys reacted well to the interviews and the admiring stares of spectators as they went through their repertoire of ball skills. The club not only has some fine ball players, but some budding "hams" as well. From Garden City it was off to the Newnham Hotel for lunch with the Manager of the Newnham, Pat Reilly. After a great steak, the squad relaxed which coach Billy Haigh went through final instructions and tactical talks about their 3 o'clock showdown with St. George.

Back at Dittmer Park spectators were busy watching the junior and reserve grade games with the "mighty midgets", the under 7 As and Bs, playing at half time of the reserve grade game.

At the conclusion of the reserve grade game, the first team squads from both clubs came onto the field for some light hearted competition. Unfortunately, St. George won both the dribbling and target shooting contests and carried off the booty of 3 cartons of Brisbane Bitter.

Prior to the kick off to the main game, the President of the Mt. Gravatt Club, Mr. Alan White, announced the club's sponsor for the 1977 season, Palmdale AGCI Insurance. This makes Mt. Gravatt the First Division One Club to have such sponsorship. Mr. White then invited Mr. Wally Dann from the Q.S.F. to open the ground. Mr. Hugh McMaster from Palmdale AGCI was introduced to the spectators and he announced his Company's support to the Club. The players came onto the ground wearing for the first time their new strip bearing the sponsor's name.

It was really a great game, fast free flowing football for the whole 90 minutes. St. George scored from a goal mouth scramble after 20 minutes and Mt. Gravatt bouncing back 10 minutes later with a good goal from John Stewart from a Harry Stewart cross. It was a celebration for these two youngsters after being named in the Australian under 18 squad earlier in the week. It was a good effort to come back by Mt. Gravatt after a disastrous game against Redlands the previous week. At half time the crowd was treated to an exhibition of ball control by future stars of our code from the Mt. Gravatt under 14 and under 13 premiers.

The second half started at a furious pace but both sets of defences held for 44 minutes until Alan Marley snuck in the winning goal for St. George. It was a magnificent game and it served a warning to other Clubs Mt. Gravatt are back . . . and not only at Dittmer Park.

NEW FORMAT

SYDNEY — Australian soccer supporters will see a bigger feast of soccer in the four nations tournament in July, involving Arsenal, Celtic, Red Star and Australia.

Promoters have decided to make the tournament a round-robin event, adding two more matches and including Adelaide as a venue.

The series will now be a round-robin of six matches with each team meeting the other three, and the two top-placed qualifying for the final.

Prizemoney has also been increased with the winner collecting 36,000 dollars, the beaten finalist 18,000 dollars and third place 12,000 dollars on top of their guarantees.

If there is a tie for any position, the issue will be decided on goal differences, and if still dead-locked, the team scoring the most goals will qualify.

Promoter Reg Lambourne said today that three matches will be played in Sydney, three in Melbourne and one in Adelaide.

In the revised draw, the Sydney matches will be Arsenal v. Australia, Celtic v. Arsenal and Celtic v. Australia.

Adelaide gets the clash between Arsenal and Red Star, While Melbourne will host Celtic-Red Star, Red Star-Australia, and the final.

Mr. Lambourne said that because of the importance of goals in deciding positions, the accent should be on attack during the matches, which should also provide better entertainment for the public.

The tournament will come at a good time for Australia, as they will have played their first qualifying world cup match against Hong Kong on July 10, and the tournament will top them off for the second match against Iran in Melbourne on August 14.

Four nations series revised draw:—
Wednesday July 20 Arsenal v. Australia at Sydney.

Thursday, July 21 Celtic v. Red Star at Melbourne.

Sunday July 24 Celtic v. Arsenal at Sydney
Tuesday July 26 Arsenal v. Red Star at Adelaide and Celtic v. Australia at Sydney
Thursday July 28 Red Star v. Australia at Melbourne

Sunday July 31 Final at Melbourne.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT'S CUP VISITORS

PERRY PARK

6.30 — Spencer Park United v. Mackay

8.15 — St. Helens v. Rockhampton

MACKAY has one of the most impressive leadup form of the three country centres in the first round of the Ampol Cup, including preliminary round victories, 3-2 over Mt. Isa in extra time and 4-2 over North Queensland.

Mackay also won this year's annual Buxton Cup, played on a home and away basis with Rockhampton. Mackay won 1-0 at home and Rocky won 2-1 at home, but with away goals counting double, Mackay won on aggregate.

Six members of the Mackay side, plus coach Danny Beerhalter and manager Merv Brand, come from the Lions Club. They are strikers Simon Sunderland and Roger Green, goalkeeper Brian McIntosh, sweeper Bill Bland and midfielders Bob Dempster and Noel Davis.

The latter two are former Brisbaneites, Dempster formerly with Coalstars and "Chooky" Davis with Mt. Gravatt. Three players in the squad are from the Wanderers Club, midfielders Nev Hansen and Ken Lorimer and striker Gary Condie.

Rangers, Wests and D.M.P. Stars clubs each supply two players. Rangers have utility player Kev Willis and Gary Collie, nicknamed "Igor" because of his strong man defence. Reserve keeper Monty Opendbosch and forward Rex Cowan are from Wests and Stars supply fullback Rob Menzies and defender Bill Nicholas.

Fullback Menzies scored the extra time goal against Mt. Isa and the other two scorers were Sunderland and Condie. The

BARKERS GO DOWN

MELBOURNE — Adelaide City fought back after Mooroolbark's second half equaliser to win 3-1 in the Philips Soccer League match at Middle Park last Sunday.

Australian International Gary Marocchi put Adelaide City into the lead after 11 minutes when he followed up a shot by Young which goalkeeper Lou Ivanoff failed to take safely.

Mooroolbark had enough chances to equalise in the first half but were denied latter scored twice in the 4-2 win over North Queensland, with one each from Sunderland and Hansen. Coach Beerhalter and striker Green were in Brisbane last weekend to watch Spencer Park play against Redlands, and realise that side will be even stronger with the return of Kim Wishart, Karl Herdle and Kevin Caldwell.

Rocky's team contains six players from Bluebirds United, the undefeated leaders of the local competition. They are the former Bardon midfielder Peter Pirog, goalkeeper Colin Balderson, defenders Ron Waters and Paul Bevan, midfielder Julian Parker and striker Alan Caird.

Wolves are running second in the Rocky competition, their only loss being to Bluebirds and their players in the squad are brothers John and Wayne Drury, both midfielders or strikers, reserve keeper Ken Hamilton and 18 year old centre half George Brabon, who the locals claim should be watched by State coach Denis Ford.

Fullback Colin Ward and left winger Stirling McQuire come from the Nerimbera club and St. George supply midfielder Peter Egan and striker Lindsay Hill. The side's player-coach is well known to Brisbane people. He is the former City and Annerley representative Tony Buesnel, who is the only member of the Frenchville club in the squad.

In the preliminary rounds of the Cup, Rocky downed Gladstone 4-1 and defeated Maryborough 3-0, all of the goals coming from Alan Caird.

by poor finishing and some good aerial work by Roger Romanowicz.

City captain Frank Lister was cautioned by referee Jim Dixon after a tackle on Paul Ontong as a number of scuffles broke out behind play in the second half.

In a later incident Brian Northcote and Geoff Ontong were also cautioned after exchanging blows.

Literally fighting their way back into the game Mooroolbark brought on Mike Cleary for Dave Ellis and with his very first kick the move paid off.

Knifing his way through a crowded penalty area Cleary cracked in the equaliser nine minutes into the second half.

Within the minute Adelaide City were back in the lead as Dave Leane beat Ivanoff from close range.

Mooroolbark followed up Adelaide's second goal by bringing on defender Geoff Ontong for Brian Thom.

However, Adelaide City were well on top and went further ahead when "Dixie"

Deans steered in a pass from Brian Northcote.

With time to spare Deans missed a glorious chance to put City further ahead when he spilled his shot into the side netting.

Deans' miss was the first of many as Adelaide took total command and Mooroolbark faded.

Adelaide City coach Eddie Kreft said that his team had missed too many scoring chances whilst Brian Edgley was disappointed with the Mooroolbark performance.

Full-time: Adelaide City 3 (Marocchi, Leane, Deans) Mooroolbark 1 (Cleary). Crowd: 250.

LINESMAN'S VIEW

"THAT was the week that was" is a saying that last weekend suited best our feelings on the Brisbane soccer scene. Saturday evening brought us the sad news that Brisbane City had been trounced 4-0 by Sydney Olympic in Sydney, then on Sunday Hakoah came to Brisbane, to play the buoyant Lions and "donkey licked" them 4-0, in itself a bad score but the way it was accomplished was full of foreboding. The news filtered through from Sydney that an ordinary 'run of the mill' English First Division side called Middlesborough with not one current international in the squad had thrashed Australia 5-0.

On channel seven's sports programme on Sunday morning we had film of the world famous Wembley stadium being taken over by a group of animals in disguise, characters who should be kept in Whipsnade Zoo with the monkeys and apes. To crown all this we had our esteemed president Bill Waddell on screen trying to convince the rest of Brisbane that all is well in the soccer world. Bill, Bob Menzies, reputedly Australia's greatest orator, would even have balked at that task, you never got off the ground, the evidence of last weekend was all against you.

For a few weeks past this writer has been sounding off about the troubles in our game. This has not meant to be destructive, but constructive, for if moves are made now we could get on a bandwagon created by the Philips Soccer League idea. Obviously it has fallen on deaf ears if our president was remotely serious in last week's interview.

TV is soccer's worst enemy. Since the advent of TV crowds have dropped all over the world in spectator sports. In Australia crowds have nosedived since the advent of Match of the Day and like programmes. Why is this so? People are being educated to the best in soccer. Live coverages of top class soccer is bad enough but when the programmes are edited to only give a high pressure, exciting precis of what actually happened, then the local home grown product just doesn't stand a chance.

Therefore consciously or unconsciously, our spectator who gets out of his armchair and along to Perry Park wants the best that's available. Philips League promised this and the fans responded, as in the post Perry Park opening, people turned up in their thousands. Just as it happened in the past, so will it happen in the future, unless the players and clubs come up with 'the goods'. People will gradually drift and it won't be long until we are back to the status quo. Looking around Perry Park last Sunday it would be correct to say the rot may have already begun. Lions treasurer could probably verify this. A game which should have attracted the season's biggest crowd based on recent results, visiting team's record, and weather conditions failed to 'make it' and worse still the match itself did nothing to enhance any match attraction of the future.

On Saturday Eagles drew 300 people, at the most, to Perry Park, an ethnic backed club going well, the week before North Brisbane drew 50 or so to a game when they were league leaders. This is going well? we think not, but what's to be done, as we don't want to gain the reputation as a knockers magazine. The writer doesn't think that any one man has the answer either but he feels it is time the many brains that are in soccer get together and work out some master plan for soccer's future in this State. People today being 'brought up' on the best of everything are going to be won back to our code only by the best of everything and this can only be achieved through a union of ideas and novelties. It has long been the boast of the Queensland Soccer Federation that they are progressive and the most unified of all State associations. Surely it is time to validate this boast and get this union to work for us.

A special committee should be set up to look into soccer at all levels. The men of the management committee do not have the time to do this sort of thing as most of them have commitments to their own clubs and the general business of Federation. A few years ago a group was set up but for some reason or other finished up on the heap. Volunteers should be called for and people with knowledge but not other commitments asked to be on the committee. This group could interview and sift through ideas and information gleaned from all levels of the game and co-ordinate all the 'good oil' into a working plan to be presented to the management committee and council for ratification or otherwise. This would have to be done immediately as it would take the rest of the season to do this mammoth task, but at least by next season soccer as a sport would have guidelines laid down to assist everyone in the game to work towards a common goal. This would surely be much better than the dog eat dog subterfuge that is going on just now.

Progress is a word covering a multitude of variables. Every AGM brings forth a President's report claiming progress in the code. How can true progress be measured?

There are knowledgeable people in soccer involved with clubs who claim their clubs are having good years. They will measure this success in the performance of the team in a league.

They will measure success in the amount of money their balance sheet shows at season's end. They will measure success in the fact that they can go into the transfer market and buy whoever they want on the local scene from other struggling clubs. They will measure success in the amount of players they can keep happy and win competitions at all levels. What they will choose to ignore is that they may have achieved all this success, but people are not being lured to watch their matches and this is the only true measure of progress in any type of professional sport.

There are two types of soccer, professional and social, and the two have completely different philosophies to follow. Social soccer demands nothing, other than participation of a few people who set out to enjoy themselves by being involved in the sport. Professional soccer demands an end product, that of providing the best possible entertainment for the money charged at the gates. If the end product is not good enough these gates will fall, if it is good enough they will rise. There are many ancillary arguments but this basis is an inescapable fact.

Brisbane professional soccer is at the crossroads. Decisions have to be made and made quickly, if they are not we will finish up with two professional clubs and an awful lot of social clubs. Unfortunately this interferes with the structure needed to bring youngsters through the ranks and when this happens the professionals are left with no option but to import, surely the nemesis of true progress.

Let's take a leaf from the Americans, the South Australians and the West Australians. Let's get organised now, from the top to the bottom. Let's lay down the master plan that will enable all soccer people professional or social to contribute and share in the "bandwagon" of Philips League Soccer. Soon it may be too late.

FITZROY UNITED CLUB HISTORY AND INFORMATION

1964 PROMOTED to State League

1969 STATE League

1974 WON Championship

Fitzroy United was formed 18 years ago by a small group of Greek Migrants. It was then called Alexander the Great the fore-runner of today's Fitzroy United Alexander.

Although it was a struggle in the early days, the Club gained rapid promotion through the Divisions of the League and in 1964 it was promoted to the State League.

The Club see-sawed between First Division and State League from 1964 to 1969 but despite this difficult period the Club steadily continued to grow and prosper.

The difficulties experienced during these years did not deter the Club and in 1969 it bounced right back into State League status and finally stabilised itself in the top Division.

The Committee decided to recruit players from overseas in 1973. The year saw the team finishing in sixth position and playing in the Final of the Dockerty Cup. In the same year, Vince Bannon won the Best and Fairest Rothman's Gold Medal Award.

The Team started brilliantly in 1974, challenging the Championship until the last few games which forced the Club to settle for fourth position. In this year, the Club was semi-finalist in the Dockerty Cup, semi-finalist in the Ampol Cup and played in the Final of the State League Cup. Pat Bannon followed his brother's footsteps and won the Best and Fairest Rothman's Gold Medal and a Chrysler Motor Car as the top player during the televised series by GTV 9 of the Championship games.

Jack Reilly, the Australian World Cup

Goalkeeper joined in 1975 and the Club won its first Championship. Frank Donachie won the $1,000.00 Goal Scorer Award. During this year the Club moved its home ground from Olympic Park to the Fitzroy Cricket Ground.

The team started the 1976 Season without two of its top players, Frank Donachie and Sam Cook and was able to reach the Dockerty Cup Quarter-Finals and also finish in fifth position in the Premiership Ladder.

POINTS to PONDER

FIRST Division club managements must have their heads truly buried in the sand. Any club happy with Saturday football and First Division standard in general must be living in "happy happy land" of junkies. Needless to say nothing being done about it.

—oOo—

SUNNYSIDE and Thistle raiding First Division market again proving their determination to get up top. Heartburn being caused in few club committee rooms with fancy money being bandied around. Causing all sorts of unrest in high places, but unfortunately not the high place.

—oOo—

Ex-Wynnum President Frank Ball witnessed Bardon v. Wynnum game. Rarely sees games now but not impressed with standard. Still reckons twelve team competition best thing that ever happened. Maybe that's why Frank now enjoys bowls as number one game!

—oOo—

FORMER Wynnum favourite Vic Leggatt, popular centre half of late sixties, enjoying PSL football. Reckons First Division has now dropped to standard of "his" Second Division days.

—oOo—

EX-ST. GEORGE, St. Helens, Grange Thistle favourite Matt Jackson reported to be retired after brief spell with Acacia Ridge. Reckons the legs are just too old for tremendously fast Second Division. Matt's brain should have been tremendous asset to youngsters at Ridge. He will be a loss to Geoff Green who is football purist, not a racehorse trainer.

—oOo—

WONDER if Sunnyside know Pele's contract with Cosmos ends this year. John Mesic will soon be on job.

—oOo—

SECOND "confrontation" in Second Division resulted in 3-0 hiding for Coalstars by Sunnyside who now move into second place behind pacesetters Thistle who appear to be after Latrobe's second Division goalscoring record of 1969 when they scored 124 goals in 22 matches for an average of 5.6 a game. Thistle have average of 4 after 10 matches, scoring five against Acacia Ridge to stay 3 points ahead of the pack.

QUOTE—

"Wake up, Federation officials, before it's too late, and provide some more entertaining matches, or attendances, already declining, will drop even further."

UNQUOTE

Source of quote, Brisbane Soccer News 11th March, 1966.

We've definitely had that song before then. Wonder what editor (still around soccer circles) thinks now with present set-up.

—oOo—

COACH Les Schienflug of Lions having crack at local critics in Soccer World. Come on Les, you can't make silk purses from pig's ears. All your boys are 110% triers we know that and are right behind them all the way. But the blunt truth is our PSL teams are among the tail enders and that's not good enough for next season. You won't continue to pull 4000 to Perry Park until you start winning. Win regularly and you'll get 7,000, and those 'critics' will be there cheering you on as they are now.

SOUTH Sydney, the Greek 'millionaire' club can vouch for value of importation. Pirie banged in two against our City team last week. Wonder what impeccable Jim Hermiston thought about playing against old team mate and coming off second best. Billy and Jim toured with Aberdeen a few years back. Wonder if Ian Kesson was thinking what we were thinking? Pirie has now scored five or six goals in his short stay. Where would City have been with six goals at crucial times? Lions even more so!

—oOo—

DICK SHORTMAN had good debut for Sunnyside against Coalstars. Blank score sheet vouches for that and two goals for Dick was a better bonus.

—oOo—

ANOTHER Second Division club could be sniffing around First Division players in next three weeks before deadline.

—oOo—

SURGE of transfer business will cause smiles on face of Federation treasurer Gerry Bergmann as he counts 10% all way to bank. Better source of income than Perry Park bar on a Saturday.

—oOo—

NORTH Brisbane Reserve Grade team's unbeaten run came to an end with 3-2 loss to Saints at Ebbw Vale. Incredible victory was achieved after Saints played for 80 minutes with only 10 men, following early send off by Benson Legge of John Dann. Rarely seen at Ebbw Vale was the goal scored by Laurie Devereaux, to put his team in front. What a sigh of relief for "Jonsey" but in fairness, he initiated the move in his own half. Alwyn, had your right foot been as good as your left, you'd have had two, and that's no "Blue".

—oOo—

AMUSING confrontation (for some) between Eagles Matt Carson and his former centre half at Merton, Rod Stein, during First Division match at Perry Park. Matt unhappy about Stein's attempted tackle on Brennan, was given "button-up" order from Deiter Klose. Scenario continued with Matt saying harsh words to Rod, receiving Winston Churchill signs in return and Rod apparently giving his version of Matt's walk while game was still in progress.
