NEWMARKET HAS ALL THE IDEAS

In the shadow of Brisbane City's magnificent million dollar grandstand is a club which if it maintains its current rate of progress could well surpass its Philips League neighbours.

The club is Newmarket, which since its foundation in 1949 has always been respected in local competition but it has only been in the past two years that it has been discovered as a sleeping giant.

And plans are now under way to tap that potential and direct it towards the future security and progress of the club. Later this month Newmarket president Bob White will head off to the West coast of America where he hopes to finalise one of the most ambitious plans ever undertaken by a lower division club in Australia.

It is Bob's and Newmarket's desire to set up an exchange player system where some of the top young players in United States' competitions will play in Brisbane while some of Newmarket's brightest prospects will be sent to America.

The idea has been greeted enthusiastically by United States Soccer Federation president Gene Edwards and secretary general Kurt Lann who have been in constant telephone contact with Bob White over recent weeks to finalise his trip itinerary. And Queensland Soccer Federation officials this week confirmed their support for the Newmarket proposal and QSF secretary Mr. Alan Vessey said that other than the usual visa problems he could envisage no difficulties in an exchange player system operating.

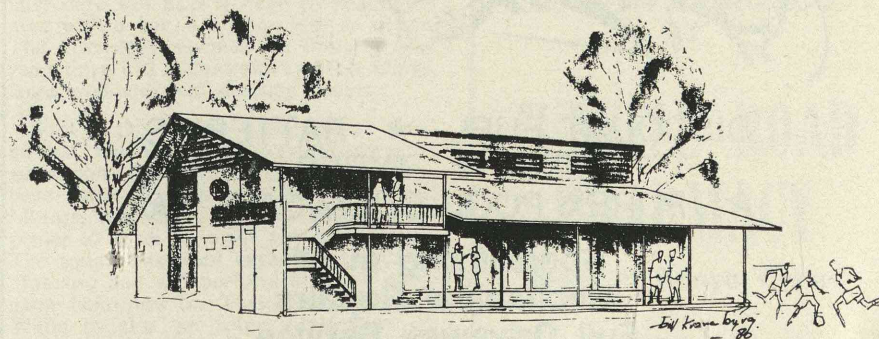

If all goes to plan, Newmarket are confident of setting the exchange system operating by next season. "I intend visiting at least four clubs in America and I will be putting to them the exchange system and hopefully working out some kind of sister club arrangement," Bob White said this week.

"The Australian and American seasons overlap so any players who come to Australia will be in peak condition and no-one will be here just for a holiday. And I have no doubts that when our players return from the States they will be much better for their experience."

The talent of American players should not be underestimated. The US Youth team qualified for the world youth championships in Australia last year and played their first round matches at Lang Park. Although they finished bottom of the group, players of the likes of Tom Cain, John Stollmeyer, Tom Gardiner and Jay Ainslie proved they could hold their own in top company. And the talent of the Newmarket side similarly should not be taken too lightly this year, as many second division and second division reserves sides have found.

The club this season made the ambitious move of bringing back Ian Steele as player coach and they have been rewarded with results on the field. After eight games the first and second teams are on top of their respective tables with the second division side yet to be defeated, scoring 25 goals and conceding only five in the process. The club's Colts B side is also sitting on top of its league.

"Steele" has not been the only reason for the promotion-chasing form of Newmarket this season and credit must be given to players like midfielder Kerry Felsch, sweeper Jim Reiken and strikers Rob Peterson and Peter Richards, and in fact, every other member of both teams. If the exchange program is finalised, Newmarket officials are very open as to who will be the first to go to America. They say it won't be limited to just first team players and even talented youngsters like Duane Quinn and Greg Irwin could be sent as investments for the future.

In the true style of the new go-ahead Newmarket committee, which in under three years has converted a $3,000 debit into a very favourable bank balance, the American exchange program is not the only thing the club has on its plate this season. The committee fully expects the first stage of the club's new $100,000 club house to be completed by mid July with the official opening planned for late August or early September. Local Alderman Joe St. Ledger has committed himself to officially open the clubhouse.

The clubhouse, which is designed to be extended further down the sideline at a later date will have a huge entertainment area with a bar, a kitchen and an office. The extensions, planned for three to four years time, will include among other things, large well-equipped dressing rooms.

Such is the revival of support at Newmarket, that not only have they attracted good sponsorship from businesses like Brisbane Insurance Services and Cromwell Motors, but supporters have gathered together to form an eight girl cheer squad. The squad has been organised by Cathy Mancuso and will perform at every home game from now on. They have asked Bob White to also get some information on American cheer squads while in the States and they hope to incorporate some of the American ideas into their routine.

All indicators are pointing towards not only a good year for Newmarket but a great future and with many clubs battling these days it is pleasing to see one standing on firm ground. With the foundations which appear to have been laid over the past two years there seems to be only one way the club can go — and that's up!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir,

At Perry Park on Wednesday, May 26, I attended a first division match between Mount Gravatt and Sunnyside and I wish to express my disgust at the appalling display and unsportsmanlike conduct of some supporters.

I will admit that I am a supporter for the Mount Gravatt team, and that I agree with each person's right to support their own chosen team, but I watched with disgust while the Mount Gravatt team returned to their dressing room as supposedly grown and intelligent men scrambled over the tunnel booing, heckling and spitting on the team as they passed.

I have never witnessed such a revolting display at any other game I have attended, no matter how devoted the supporters were. All I can say is I hope I never will again,

Disgusted supporter.

Dear Sir,

I am writing this letter of personal feelings not as the Public Relations Officer for Mt. Gravatt Soccer Club.

After attending the game between Mt. Gravatt and Sunnyside I am compelled to write to your magazine to complain and bring to view what is happening to the game of soccer in Queensland.

On the evening of the above game a number of women supporters spat and abused players as they made their way from the field. The way I saw supporters act angered me bitterly. The way that Queensland soccer is headed is shown by these people and you will find a message in the way that the Australian Youth squad was selected. That is what the selectors thought of Queensland. They could not have cared what the boys played like. No, it was Queensland that they looked at.

The supporters of every club please note. You should not only support your club but promote soccer in general. The way that I saw supporters at the match I mentioned could only make me think "Why should a few people promote soccer both in their clubs and in the surrounding area and have a few people like the ones on Wednesday night destroy it in a matter of minutes."

COME ON BRISBANE WHAT ARE WE COMING TO!

WAKE UP. Promote soccer as it should be. If you love the game. Think and have a look around. See what is happening!

I would also like to suggest while I have pen to paper, that the Queensland Soccer Federation think seriously about employing a promoter-organiser that could handle the responsibility of advertising and getting sponsorship so that soccer can live for another 100 years in this country,

Lindsay Stewart,
Mt. Gravatt.

Dear Sir,

The structure of the divisions in the QSF competition requires reorganisation. Higher competition would result of the best 12 teams in Brisbane played in one division, the next best 12 teams (and not necessarily clubs) played in the next division and so on.

Apart from the State League which is the highest standard division? It is most probably First division but are all First division clubs better than South-east Queensland League sides? Are Salisbury and Mitchelton (bottom of the First division on May 23) better than St. Helen's and Rochedale (at top of the SEQL at the same date.) There is no promotion and relegation between first division and SEQ League.

There are good teams who should be playing against each other which are playing against lower standard teams. I will assume all first division teams are better than SEQ League teams. What then is the next best division after first division? Is it SEQ League or second division or perhaps first division reserve? In short, good teams are spread all over the shop and the standard of competition in any given division is correspondingly reduced.

Clubs with depth should be encouraged. Thus Lions and Brisbane City should be able to field teams in the SEQ and State League if they are good enough. Likewise Mount Gravatt and say a club like North Star should be allowed to field teams in SEQ League and say second division.

Promotion and relegation would mean teams would find their own level within a couple of years if any grading mistakes were made originally. Meaningless lopsided reserve competitions would disappear,

Peter Cumming, St. Lucia.

WHO THEY WERE . . .

Our Cobweb Corner column recently jogged the memories of quite a few people around Brisbane.

On May 26 Go Soccer featured some photographs from Queensland's colourful soccer history and sought to identify the players involved (see cutout below).

Among the first to contact Go Soccer and help identify the photos were Andy Thompson of Mitchelton. Jim Binnie now with Brisbane Lions and Queensland Times soccer writer John Roderick.

But probably the most interesting letter Go Soccer received was that from Taringa stalwart, Jack Speare, which we have published below.

28th May, 1982

Here's some more photos in Go Soccer's Cobweb Corner series. The information we have in these two photos is almost negligible. We understand they were taken during the 1950's and the bottom one possibly at the Woolloongabba cricket ground during a "Test" with China. Go Soccer has no idea who the Queensland players involved are but is keen to find out. If you can recall the action captured here let Go Soccer know and help us revive some of Queensland's glorious soccer past.

And remember next year is Queensland soccer's centenary. Plans are already underway to make it the biggest year ever in Queensland soccer. If you think you have something which may help QSF officials in their centenary plans or if you just want to get involved, contact Perry Park.

and another one

Since Go Soccer published the photos on May 26 we have found another which was taken during the same period.

Our picture at right was taken on August 6, 1955 during the "Test" between Australia and South China at Woolloongabba Cricket Ground. The player facing the camera is R. Bignall while the No. 5 is Joe Marston, who incidentally is the New South Wales player on the far right of the top photo above.

Remember next year is Queensland soccer's centenary and the QSF is interested to hear from anyone who may have something of interest which could add to the flavour of our 100th year celebrations.

Dear Sir,

Re the Cobweb Corner pictures published on May 26. I am fairly certain that the players in the top photograph were Graham McMillan (nearest the goalkeeper) and Gordon 'Bunny' Nunn (No.7).

I was the "Courier-Mail" soccer writer for a lengthy period about that time, and if my memory serves me correctly both Graham and 'Bunny' represented Australia.

Nunn, who played with St. Helens and Bundamba, was a prolific goalscorer in local competitions and McMillan, a member of the Y.M.C.A. team, was a first class winger. McMillan went to England, I think, and trialled with a top English club for a season.

The players in the bottom picture are more difficult to recognise. No. 9, whose face is contorted with the effort he is putting into his shot, could be Col. Kitching, a member of a well-known Bundamba soccer family. (Note — others identified the No. 9 as Bobby Lawrie, also of Ipswich — Ed.)

I would hazard a guess that No. 10 in the background was Mal. Wild of Easts, whose cannonball left foot shots were feared by most goalkeepers.

It seems to me that the creation of the PSL and State Leagues has severely curtailed international team's visits to Australia. In those days I covered games between Queensland and Australia and such international teams as English professionals and amateurs, China, Yugoslavia, Palestine, Czechoslovakia, India, South Africa and others. Most of the Indian players, incidentally, played in bare feet!

I can recall two incidents from some of these matches. In a "Test" in Brisbane the goalkeeper of one European team was so upset by the referee's decision to award a penalty that he walked out of his goal and gave the Australians a "free" shot.

A member of another European side, sent off by the referee in another game, pulled out the flag on the half way line and hurled it like a javelin at the referee, but fortunately his aim was poor.

Yours sincerely, Jack H. Speare.

THE VALLEYS' ECHO . . .

By Dave Heywood

Valleys Trident has gained a sponsorship from the go-ahead and expanding airline Air Pacific.

Club officials secured the deal last week and one of the highlights of the sponsorship will be an end-of-season trip to Fiji for the club's State League side.

Everyone is eagerly looking forward to that and are hoping they can go on their holiday as Queensland champions. The Air Pacific logo should appear on Valleys players' tracksuits within the next few weeks. Incidentally, the stunning new track suits the boys have been wearing lately are thanks to the work of Mick Hayes and his sportswear company.

Speaking of Mick Hayes his battle with Richie Shortman for a State League team berth is developing into one of the most interesting duals at the club. Both players are top professionals and would walk into many other State League teams and the competition they are creating can only benefit the Blues' premiership chances. "Shorty" has the edge at the moment but Mickey has been superb in SEQ and it must be becoming harder each week for coach Mauro Saftich to decide who to select. It will be interesting to see who takes the field in Valleys' match against Lions at Richlands this weekend. . . . .

Another player who is coming back into first team calculations is Phil Cruese. Phil has made a remarkable recovery from strained knee ligaments, an injury many thought would keep him on the sidelines for several months. Phil looms as an ideal replacement for Dave Watson, who left recently for the Solomon Islands.

Valley Tridents must have one of the most unique teams in Brisbane in our seventh division side. The team totally comprises of Fijian Indians with the only odd man out being manager Nick Hrechka, who is a Yugoslav. And the benefit of having the Indians is the great Fiji-Indian nights they put on at the club. Their last one was so successful that they are putting on another at the clubhouse on Saturday, June 26. It is definitely not a night to be missed so get in early and contact Nick if you intend going.

State League coach Mauro Saftich and the boys still haven't stopped talking about the red carpet treatment they got from Capricornia in their recent match in Rockhampton. It was a pleasant change from the reception some other clubs have given and Valleys will make certain they repay the favor when Capricornia play at Perry Park later in the season.

Surely one of the most improved players at the club this season must be SEQ team fullback Albert Canezuli. Albert's performances in recent weeks have been outstanding and even attracted the eye of the State League coach. Maybe it has something to do with his constant marking of the tricky John Kennedy in our regular practice matches? But anyway, good on you Albert and keep up the improvement.

Three other players who have been impressing are Jeff Jesch, Anselo Vico and Shane Rideout in Ross Belle's senior colts side. The three youngsters are very talented and destined for future State League teams. The team as a whole have been doing very well this season and after six games were still undefeated. Other Valleys teams who have been doing well include Romano Naderic's and Paulo Fabri's under 13 teams and John Mengotti's commercial side which has lost only two games and has a win over competition leaders Ajax to their credit.

One of Valleys Tridents most ardent supporters is 16-year-old Kim Jackson. Kim is looking forward to the Blues' next home game the local derby against Brisbane City on June 27.

This weekend Lanham Park sees a top of the table clash between two prolific goal-scoring teams, Grange Thistle and Acacia Ridge.

The 1st Division match commences at 3.00 PM with the Reserve Grade match at 1.00 PM.

The return of this column coincides with another big day of soccer on the home front with the above 1st Division matches during the day, followed at 6.00 PM by the Senior Colts v Mt. Gravatt and the 3rd Division taking on Albany Creek at 8.00 PM. A veritable feast. Sandwiched in between the big boys' games, is a junior fixture between our Under 11 Division 3 team and Pine Rivers.

The extra matches currently being played mid-week in the 1st Division, are having weird effects on the points tables. Some clubs appear to be in very strong/poor positions, only because of the backlog of games. We are, naturally, very pleased with our position, having played the maximum number of games with the necessary points already on the board.

Player movements

As read in the press earlier in the year one or two players have moved on, John Ferguson, Pat Leatham and Alistair Pagan have gone to Nambour and Len Pollock to Valley Trident.

Other movements of less spectacular nature include David Whyte to Souths United, Derek Barron has moved back to "sunny" Melbourne and is playing with Keilor Austria, and Sandy Woodside, now that he is a father and must be on call to domestic duties, now plays a little closer to home, at The Gap.

Steve Dolan, meanwhile, has decided to see 1982 out at Lanham Park and made his fixture debut this year against Mt. Gravatt two weeks ago. Despite opinions to the contrary, the playing strength is as strong as ever with QLD Youth Team player Glen Archer now a fixture in the 1st Team and Steve Lindsay doing very well between the sticks.

COUNTRY ROUND - UP — ROCKHAMPTON

By John Ward

The local soccer competition in 1982 is proving to be very close with a change in format by introducing promotion and relegation between the bottom club in First Division and the winner of Second Division.

Last year's champions and grand final winners Nerimbera are not the same force this year, having lost some of its top players from last season.

The team to beat this year is Leichhardt who at the end of May led the competition by two points. Wayne Druery not playing State League soccer to concentrate on coaching is obviously a gain for the club which is paying dividends.

Frenchville, who have eight players with the Capricornia Rams squad, have introduced young players into the team and through senior coach Peter Pirog are having some good results to show for their efforts in encouraging youth.

Bluebirds are also another club which has plenty of young players who are forcing their way into the team at the expense of older players. Bluebirds were also in the top four at the end of May.

Blackwater, who joined the Rockhampton competition two years ago, are beginning to be a force. The team travels into Rockhampton most weeks to play in the competition, a distance of 200 kilometres each way.

The Rockhampton Soccer Federation allow them to play some games in Blackwater and they are a hard team to beat at home.

St. George make up the First Division of six teams. Last season they finished in the top four however they have lost some players and their coach since then.

In second division, Berserker, who were on top have dropped a couple of points lately to thwart their chances of a quick return to First Division. The club that is chasing that honour is C.I.A.E. which has two teams, Institute Blue who are on top of the division and Institute Gold who are in third place at the end of May. These teams are made up of students from all over Queensland. But if they do win the league this year they may not be able to go up into First Division because of study commitments.

Parkana, a strong junior club, are a club with a future if they can keep their players coming through the grades. Yeppoon, First Division last season, are not faring too well this year, but are plugging away with only a small squad of players to select from. Wolves make up the second division of six teams and play all their games at Etna Creek prison.

When one of the First Division coaches took his team to the prison to play in a friendly game he approached their best player to play for his team. The player said "yes", the coach then asked "when do you get your release?" The player replied "in 1997 I'm in for life" !!!

The action of former Rockhampton player Pat Leathan who is now with Nambour Reds after playing with Brisbane club, Grange Thistle last year. Leathan will clash against Capricornia when they play Nambour on the Sunshine Coast on July 3.

THE DARRA DATELINE

by 'The Maltese Falcon'

ANNERLEY 3 d DARRA 1

A game of missed chances for Darra gave Annerley two well-deserved points.

On a partly waterlogged pitch, both teams played really great football and it was Darra who created the early chances. But their forwards failed to capitalise when in easy scoring distance and it was Annerley who took the lead after some fine work by John Bridges, who waltzed past three Darra defenders then slipped a neat pass to Brian Lampitt and he made no mistake with a great shot.

Ten minutes later Lampitt again broke down the left wing and crossed a perfect pass to find Brian Hudson standing unmarked in the 18 yard box and his shot also found the back of the net. Darra changed its combination in the second half and it seemed to be proving a winner until Geoff "Weetbix" McIlwaine mistimed a high cross only to palm the ball onto the head of oncoming Wayne Cook and Darra were down 0-3. Darra then pushed everything into attack and in the last 30 minutes had no less than eight clear cut chances. But again our players failed to take their chances. Darra were rewarded with a goal in the 60th minute when Dragi Simjanoski showed some brilliant skill in receiving a high ball. He brought it under control then delicately lobbed it over the Annerley keeper.

Annerley's best were Neil Catchpole, Brian Hudson and Brian Lampitt while Darra were best served by Trevor Thomson, Dragi Simjanoski and Steve Travers.

DARRA 1 d ANNERLEY 0

In a highly entertaining game, both teams showed a tremendous wealth of talent which can only be good for the game. Darra started well and should have been one up after a minute when a great through ball from Stewart Purves found Dave Murray in the clear, but his shot went wide of the post. Both teams played end to end football and only a nasty accident in which an Annerley player broke his leg, marred an excellent first half.

In the 60th minute Darra broke the deadlock. An Ian Robbins corner kick found Graham Dyer's head and he glanced it onto the path of Dave Haggart and his fine shot gave the Annerley defence no chance. Darra's best were Tony Owen, Graham Dyer and Dave Haggart.

POINTS TO PONDER

It's a wonder any correspondence is being circularised from the Q.S.F. office as some of the directives given by a certain short, rounded boss has the girls wondering if he has Irish blood in him.

When he was told "I can't type this tape in the dictaphone, it is completely blank." He asked — "Why? What are the letters about".

This is just one of the few that has happened in the past couple of months. If it has you wondering just think how the girls feel working with him.

QUOTE — My season finished three weeks ago. I'm only here for a holiday — UNQUOTE.

One top coach who was under considerable pressure recently may be smarter than a lot think. Those in the know say the coach took the precaution at the beginning of the season to have it written into his contract that he could not be sacked, irrespective of what happened on the field.

There have been reports recently that the mood at one established first division club has not been as rosy as some would like. Good results in the past few weeks have helped to quieten things but the word is the player-coach will call it quits at the end of this season.

Last year's State League leading goalscorer Gary Bohan has come out of temporary retirement to re-sign with his old club Mount Gravatt — and that can only benefit soccer.

Gary who scored 22 goals last season is one of the real characters of the game, and love him or hate him, he's the type of player people will come and watch.

Mount Gravatt have had mixed fortunes in the first division this year and the re-signing of Bohan could signal a return to the top of the table.

ANNERLEY ANALYSIS

by Bill Williams

ANNERLEY 4 d SALISBURY 1

With Tom Shirane working the ball nicely down the right, and his cross finding Wayne Cook's head, it looked a certain goal until a great save from Salisbury's keeper denied us. Shortly afterwards a similar save from our John Di, prevented Salisbury from opening the scoring. Just before half time, we opened our account when a Wayne Cook corner was headed in positively from the far post by Brian Hudson and an entertaining first half ended with that score.

Seven minutes into the second session, Salisbury scored a great goal to put us back to evens. Nine minutes later we took the lead again when Brian Lampitt's header went in from close range. Within three minutes we went further ahead from good work by John Bridge and Glen Harkness with Wayne Cook scoring the goal. Advantage played by the referee saw Brian Hudson's cross converted by Brian Lampitt for his second and took the score to 4-1.

Salisbury tried hard to narrow the gap, but our back four withstood the pressure and the result was a good one for us.

ANNERLEY 1 v SALISBURY 1

Against the bottom team, we seemed to be coasting, thinking it would be easy, and we had most of the first twenty minutes play. Our best chance was a good shot from Archie Wilson which was just tipped over the bar. A dramatic change came in the 24th minute when a through ball caught our defence napping and their forward rounded our keeper to put the visitors in front. Eight minutes from half time we equalised through a ground shot from Bill Perry and almost got another when John Murphy, David Crane and Nigel Fisher combined, but the keeper turned the shot round the corner.

At half time the one-all score was unsatisfactory for us. It took twenty minutes into the second half before two shots in succession by Neil Meurant lifted our game, but it was a short-lived burst. With no score in the second half, the game ended at one-all, a fair result on what we saw. I'm sure it was a match we will do our best to forget.

Marconi goalkeeper Allan Maher grabs onto the ball as Brisbane City strikers Bevan Bohan (left) and Steve Glockner look on during the match played at Spencer Park two weeks ago. Despite the extremely wet conditions that day, the Gladiators showed some good football, something they will be hoping to repeat against Preston at Spencer Park on Sunday.

MITCHELTON STABLE TALK

by Stable Hand

FIRST DIVISION

NORTH STAR 4 d MITCHELTON 1

It was obvious from the kick-off that our visitors intended to upset our play and concentration and the method adopted was not only effective but it appeared to be either unseen or ignored by the referee. Had he demonstrated his authority as effectively to the players as he did to the bench, he would have had a much easier and better game.

Maybe I am a purist, I do not apologise for it, but after being involved in the code for more than 50 years I still believe it is a game of skill and if played as such will attract and deserve greater patronage. Other codes provide sufficient physical mayhem and, in fact, tell us and their followers that they provide too much.

North Star scored their first goal on the first five minutes and Peter McDonald was unlucky not to equalise five minutes later. Their second goal came in the 20th minute off the upright and the third five minutes later. We have come from behind many times and it looked like one of those times when Lex Robins forced an own goal off their defence after a good shot rebounded off their keeper. We deserved another seven minutes later but it was not our day and they scored their fourth with only seconds to go.

RESERVES

MITCHELTON 2 d NORTH STAR 1

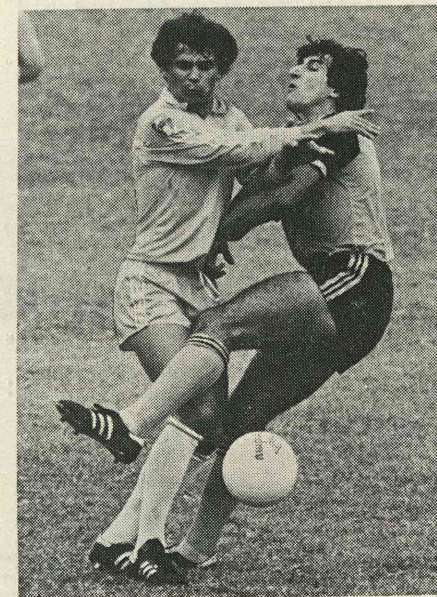

I thought we would have won this by a greater margin for we had more chances and forced twice as many corners as they did. In spite of the pushing and shoving, we still played a better game but it was only 12 minutes before halftime when Ross Denny tried a long shot from the left wing and found the net. Unfortunately their keeper collided with the upright and injured his back five minutes before half time and could not continue. About half-way through the second half persistence by Grant Tanzer won the ball then he beat two players and sent Wayne Marstella in with a chance and his low drive after beating two others made it 2-0. Less than five minutes later they made a break, caught us thin in defence and it was 2-1 and that was the final score.

SEVENTH DIVISION

WOODRIDGE 7 d MITCHELTON 2

A disappointing game in that we did not appear anywhere near match fit. When we did have our breath or played as we can we scored top goals but generally did not offer much opposition. We are capable of better.

KER - RUNCH !

Brisbane City's Joe Palinkas and Heidelberg's Charlie Yankos clash during a recent Spencer Park match. Palinkas is cementing a place in the Gladiators side now after missing much of the early part of the season with a groin strain. He could be one of the stars in City's home clash against Preston Rams at Spencer Park this weekend. City desperately need a win to start climbing away from the relegation zone.

RIDGE REPORTING

by Mike Collins

FIRST DIVISION

ACACIA RIDGE 2 d DARRA 1

Once again the Ridge were very slow in getting their act together and it could have cost them dearly with Darra doing most of the early running. On more than three or four occasions they were very lucky to keep Darra out and it was "ye Olde" Matt (Philosan) Jackson who had two good efforts in this half blocked on the line. At the other end the Darra defence were going well with anything the Ridge could throw at them, being well marshalled by Ronnie Hartley who kept his cool throughout the game. The only time the Ridge got through his defence with a good shot from Nick Griffin, keeper Geoff McIlwaine made a good save.

The second half was a complete reversal with the Ridge dominating the mid-field and dictating the game. The first goal came after 52 minutes when Ian Proud struck a good looking free kick at goal which slipped out of keeper McIlwaine's hand into the net. With Nev Cruickshank and his duo of John Gillespie and Jimmy Spence playing so well it was no surprise to see the Ridge go 2-0 up when Spence put Gerry Kay away with a good through ball. He dummied to keeper McIlwaine and finished off with an empty net. In the 80th minute the Ridge had their first goal scored past them after 710 minutes in the League this year when Darra were awarded a penalty for handball and they made no mistake from the spot to make it 2-1. The Ridge should have scored more goals with Gerry McMahon, Steve Gallagher, John Kean and Cruickshank all missing good chances.

GOODNA 1 d ACACIA RIDGE 0

The Ridge crashed to their first defeat of the season at the hands of Goodna who on the day thoroughly deserved it. Over the past few weeks I have mentioned that the Ridge have been slow to settle down. This week Goodna never let them settle throughout the game. Goodna took the lead after 24 minutes with a good cross from Karl Watson which was headed into the net with a nice flick by Paul Spruce. Goodna were using their wings well stretching the Ridge defence to the extremes at times, whereas Goodna were containing any threats the Ridge offered with ease with Jim McCabe and Bob Wilson playing well at the back. The nearest the Ridge went to scoring was just before halftime with a shot from Jimmy Spence going just wide.

The usual comeback by the Ridge that we have been used to this year never eventuated as every time a Ridge player received the ball they were swamped by yellow shirts. In fact the only time the Goodna goal was under threat was in the last 5 minutes when the Goodna defence went through a rather torrid time, with Jimmy Spence going very close with a good effort and the Goodna keeper Paul McClure bringing off a magnificent save from a cracking shot from Steve Gallagher.

OTHER GAMES

I missed the first half of the reserve game against Goodna with the score being 1-1 at that stage with Gerry McMahon putting away a Steve Gallagher pass. The Ridge should have scored a few goals in the second half but poor finishing and bad luck at times let them down. Fulltime score 1-1.

The U/12's had a narrow 3-2 win over Mooroondu on Saturday with Darren Scott scoring with a good header and Steve Woodward chipping in with two good goals. On Sunday they beat Lions convincingly 3-1. Darren Scott scored a cracker after 7 minutes Lions replied with a goal 9 minutes later, but Darren made it 2-1 shortly after following up a shot by Steve Woodward that hit the uprights. The Ridge sewed the game up just after halftime when Mike Butchard put Woodward away to score. A good game by Darren Marshall, Anthony Diakomonolis, Jess Zok and Andrew Hill for the Ridge.

THE CLASH OF THE GIANTS

This Monday at Perry Park Brisbane City and Lions clash in the first round of the revamped Phillips Cup competition.

It will be the first of two meetings between the two sides in a period of only six days.

Not only will the winner of the Cup tie have a psychological advantage for the derby the following weekend but the winning team will hold Queensland's hopes in the Cup in which we have a great tradition.

Brisbane City have won it twice while Lions go into this match as the Cup holders. This couldn't have been a tougher first round match as irrespective of their current placing on the PSL ladder every game between the two clubs is a Cup final.

One of the highlights of this tie though will be the clash between former Lions sweeper Jim Hermiston and Lions' guest player Alan Sunderland, who has been given permission to play.

Both sides play tough PSL matches the preceding day, Lions against Footscray and Brisbane City at home at Spencer Park to Preston.

Lions will be hoping to continue the winning form that Sunderland inspired when they downed West Adelaide last weekend while City will be hoping to recover from the 2-0 loss to Adelaide City.

It was the first win in five weeks for the Adelaide team and following the surprise win by Newcastle over Sydney Olympic, it took the Gladiators to bottom position for the first time this season.

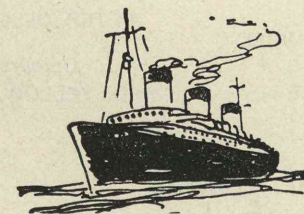

Adelaide City opened the scoring in the fourth minute with a header from Bobby Russell and added their second goal in the 52nd minute with another header from Neville Flounders. The win temporarily relieved Adelaide City of relegation problems but Brisbane City now face a bleak winter. Brisbane City played well in patches but its strikers rarely troubled Adelaide goalkeeper Bobby Ferguson.

Brisbane City was well served by veteran sweeper Jim Hermiston and fullback Steve Perry, who both continually pushed forward in a bid to boost Brisbane's striking power. The loss was Brisbane City's ninth away from home and in those matches it has scored one goal and conceded 24.
