TOP CLUBS HERE FOR A SOCCER EXTRAVAGANZA!

The biggest soccer tournament staged in Australia since the 1981 world youth championship finals will begin next week.

Teams from five countries will play for lucrative prizemoney in matches in six centres around the country.

The teams who will play include Manchester United and Nottingham Forest from England, Scotland's Glasgow Rangers, Italy's Juventus, Greece's Iraklis and an Australia and Australia B sides.

The matches scheduled for Brisbane are: May 31 — Australia B v Glasgow

Rangers, Lang Park, 8 p.m.; June 7 — Australia v Nottingham Forest, Lang Park 8 p.m.; June 13 — Australia B v Iraklis, Lang Park, 8 p.m.

While Manchester United will not play in Brisbane, they will have a training camp on the Gold Coast for four days from May 21.

This week Go Soccer takes a look at two of the visiting clubs which are certain to attract the crowds.

not necessarily tourists, include midfielders Bryan Robson and Ray Wilkins and strikers Frank Stapleton and Norman Whiteside.

MANCHESTER UNITED

Manchester United were formed in 1878 as Newton Heath and kept that name until 1902 when the present name was adopted.

The club plays at Old Trafford where the ground capacity is 58,504. The record attendance was 76,962 for Wolverhampton v Grimsby in an FA Cup semi-final in 1939.

The club record is 70,504 for a match against Aston Villa in 1920.

The club's manager is Ron Atkinson and president, Sir Matt Busby, a former manager.

The club's nickname is "Red Devils". Club colours are red, white and black. The change strip is primarily white. Manchester United won the First Division championship in 1908, 1911, 1952, 1956, 1957, 1965 and 1967. They were FA Cup winners in 1909, 1948, 1963, 1977 and 1983.

Manchester United won the European Cup in 1968, the first English club to take the trophy.

The club boasts a string of international players. Leading names, although The style of Manchester United goalkeeper Gary Bailey.

NOTTINGHAM FOREST

Nottingham Forest were formed in 1865 and turned professional in 1889.

The club plays at the City Ground, where it has been based since 1898 after playing at six other venues previously.

The club has one of the most well-known and outspoken managers in Brian Clough. The club's nickname is the "Reds".

The team plays in red with white trimmings. Their change strip is yellow.

The club's record attendance was 49,945 against Manchester United in 1967. Honours include a First Division championship in 1978, the FA Cup in 1898 and 1959 and the Football League Cup in 1978 and 1979.

Amid all the speculation of picking Brisbane and Premier League Select sides, Go Soccer's GREG RUSSELL has found a team which would provide a real match for the Queensland side.

FORMER NSL PLAYERS ARE LOGICAL STATE SIDE MATCH

The Queensland Soccer Federation has a top class opponent for its Queensland team — and a side which would draw supporters from all quarters — right under its own nose.

The team is one comprising former National League players now playing in the Premier and Intermediate Leagues.

The two competitions provide a selection base of nearly 30 players — just as many as what state coach Bruce Stowell had when picking his Maroon side from the two NSL sides.

And Go Soccer believes from those 30, a team could — and should — be picked to play an end of season exhibition match.

The potential within the Premier League and Intermediate Leagues is vast, and many of the ex-NSL players now with clubs in the two competitions are not necessarily there because they are in the twilight of their careers.

Changes of coaches, or simply a desire to change clubs, have forced many out of the national spotlight.

Go Soccer believes, that given the opportunity, many would rise to their exciting best for a match against the Queensland side.

In picking a team to play Queensland, Go Soccer's experts believe there was merit in Frank Arok's system to field five across the back.

The tough central defence effectively blots out the long ball forward. And when the team wants to go on the attack, the two fullbacks are pushed forward at will.

Because a five-man defence takes a player from the forward line, a Joe Watson-type player — a winger who has the workrate to drop back effectively into the midfield — had to be found.

The Queensland team also lost out to the fine finishing of John Kosmina in the recent interstate match, and although a player of that calibre was hard to find among the former NSL players in the Premier and Intermediate Leagues, we chose a striker who could be equally hard to handle.

Taking the Arok — NSW blueprint as a guide, the side we opted for to take on Queensland was:

Nigel Lownds, (Rochedale R.); Kevin

Three players who come into consideration for an ex-NSL players side (from left) Peter Tokesi, Billy Williamson and Craig Low.

Caldwell, (Coalstars); Jim Hermiston, (Nth. Star); Col Bennett, (Rochedale R.); Peter Tokesi, (Brisbane C.); Ian Lawrie, (Ipswich U); Steve Dolan, (Grange Thistle); Graham Wilson, (Oly. U); Craig Low, (Oly. U.); Barry Kelso, (Redlands); Ron Millman, (Ipswich U.); RESERVES: Gerry Lindsay, (Ips. U.); Tom McGregor, (Olympic U.); Brett Beves, (Acacia Ridge).

And consider the players we left out: Peter Tyson (Coalstars), Peter Carey (Valley T.), George Potter (Nth. Star), Billy Williamson (Oly.), Alan Marszalek (Ips. Utd.), John Reid (Rochedale), Mick Tripp (Nth. Star), Mark Brusasco (E.), Lyle Bryce (Nth. Star), Mick Gerritsen (Acacia R.), John Sime (Easts), and players in the City and Lions Intermediate Leagues sides like John Kowtan, Martin Coe, Angelo Falco, Andy Chapman. Peter McClurg, Mike Mulvey, Clarke Anderson, Greg Marshall and the list goes on.

There are probably some others we may have even overlooked.

The talent is undoubtedly there. Probably all that is needed is a good promotion and perhaps a small incentive for the players.

The ball is in the QSF's court.

By Go Soccer Editor

GEOFF STEAD

On the surface, the restructuring of the Queensland Soccer Federation's competitions appears to be an outstanding success.

It seems a new enthusiasm has been sparked in to the Premier League, and at many grounds, the crowds seem to be coming back.

The competition has not, as many predicted, turned into a two horse race and the unpredictability of many matches has captured the imagination of many soccer followers.

But it would be foolish for QSF and club officials to settle back and consider all the work has been done.

The time to plan for the future is while things are going well.

The federation and the clubs should begin now to assess what they have done — and more importantly what needs to be done.

It even may not be too bad an idea to call together representatives of the 10 Premier League clubs for a "working conference" at which steps could be taken to solve any minor problems. Concrete plans for the future should be outlined.

Similarly, those clubs which are finding the new competition a great success could offer hints and help to any club which was struggling.

The point is, it is time soccer stopped its day by day planning which many of our administrators at all levels are prone to do.

The break, and seemingly the right break, has been made with the restructuring and now all efforts should be channelled to get on with the job.

The restructuring of the federation administration should be completed as quickly as possible, because therein lies the key to the ultimate success of the bold steps taken last year.

And even if the two NSL clubs return to the local competition, as our story speculated last week, then contingency plans to accommodate them should be formulated now.

The last thing we want is a public row at the end of this season.

The restructuring was never going to be easy, but it seems many clubs are getting on top of the work load.

It would be a waste of time to let ourselves slip back now.

Points to ponder

The Queensland players were given an extra reward after the state game when it was decided they could keep their jerseys, a practice not afforded to state teams for many seasons. Sabre's Jimmy Rogers deserves a special mention for the shirts, which were undoubtedly the most stunning worn by a state soccer team.

Word has it that a well-known local goalkeeper may quit the game unless he is given a fair go in the first team of his new club. It seems the keeper has copped the blame for some recent defeats, yet the problem is elsewhere on the field.

Look for some upset results in the lower divisions as the QSF attempts to clear the backlog of washed out matches by scheduling mid-week games. Already it is evident some clubs have opted to field "mixed" teams featuring key players from higher divisions sides in their re-scheduled matches. "Stacking" might provide instant results, but in the long run the offenders can only be cheating themselves.

TED JEFFERIES TALKING TOUGH SOCCER

Last week I watched several of the training sessions held at Perry Park for the members of the Queensland Youth team, who are playing in the national championships in Canberra this week.

The squad, while possibly not THE best we have ever sent away, nonetheless contained some very talented players.

But what concerned me was the fact that I was the only "outsider" at the training sessions.

Although the squad contained five boys from the country — and one of them was picked as captain — I did not see one "talent scout" from either of the NSL clubs.

At the championships this week I would be very surprised if Canberra's Doug Collins, Sydney City's Eddie Thomson, St. George's Frank Arok and probably others were not seen poking around the various games.

And I would like to bet there isn't a representative from either City or Lions there.

You would think the clubs would learn from the Manis Lomons and Frank Farina episodes.

GO SOCCER ALLSTARS

Only four players managed to keep their No. 1 rankings from last week in this week's Go Soccer Allstars team.

Brisbane Lions right fullback Steve Jackson has proved to be a fixture at No. 1 in that position as has City's Frank Liddell as No. 1 stopper. Midfielders Bruce Penman (Ips. Utd.) and Cameron Bell (Mount Gravatt) also kept their top rankings. Brett Beves' fine form in goals for Acacia Ridge earned him a top spot as did bold showings from Jim Hermiston (North Star), Tony Bailey (Grange T.) and Ron Millman (Ipswich United).

This week's rankings are: ☆☆☆

NEWMARKET NEWS

Kevin Knipe is the club's Man of the Month for May.

Kevin has been a member of Newmarket for many years. He is a foundation member of the club's 12 month old clubhouse and has two boys — Shane and Mark — playing at the club.

Both already have shown that they will be more than capable players in the near future.

Kevin, due to his own occupation's requirements, cannot commit himself to committee involvement — however his efforts in working for, and in support of the club, is nothing short of outstanding.

He doesn't miss a working bee, i.e. painting, repairing, mowing. Name it, Kevin is there.

Preparing the field for weekend fixtures is always difficult and Kevin has been doing this job regularly in association with our grounds committee chairman, Barry Curtis, every Friday when he has time off work.

In short, if every club had a Kevin Knipe, they would be very lucky indeed.

The committee of Newmarket takes this opportunity to publicly thank Kevin for his efforts and I am sure ALL players will endorse this statement.

Two weeks ago our top side and reserves travelled "all the way" to Spencer Park to play Brisbane City. I feel I must congratulate all four teams that played for their performance.

Both games were very close — Reserves won 2-1, Intermediates lost 1-2 and were playing in the true spirit of soccer.

Again, congratulations to all players and coaches.

SOCCERWORLD

For those who follow South American football, Sportivo Luqueno of Paraguay drew 0-0 with Estudiantes de la Plata of Argentina in a group one qualifying match of the Libertadores Cup, the South American soccer club championship.

Olimpia of Paraguay, having played two matches, lead the standings with three points. Independiente of Argentina have three points after three matches, Estudiantes two points after two matches and Sportivo Luqueno two points after three matches.

Cameroun and Algeria, the surprise packets of the Spain World Cup, drew 0-0 in a semi-final of the African Nations Cup. Cameroun won 5-4 on penalties and now meets Nigeria in the final. Nigeria beat Egypt 8-7 on penalties in their semi-final after being locked at 2-2 at the end of extra-time.

Halifax Town will go part-time next season. The club plans to retain its present squad of 14 players but only half of them will be full-time professionals. Only 911 fans — the lowest gate in the club's history — watched a recent Tuesday night Fourth Division game against Chester at Halifax, although the home side had lost only once in its previous nine fixtures. ....

Borussia Moenchengladbach midfielder Lothar Matthaeus will play for table-topping Bayern Munich next year. Bayern, who will be without Italy-bound Karl-Heinz Rummenigge next year, are expected to pay over two million marks (about $7780,000 Aust.) for 23-year-old Matthaeus.

West Ham, threatened with expulsion from the next two FA Cups, because of crowd mis-behaviour, has begun to compile dossiers on well-known trouble-makers and could impose life bans on the wayward supporters.

GO SOCCER

FOR THE JUNIORS

This week's junior spot takes in some poetic inspiration by the Brisbane Southern District's Don Look. It's the first of a trilogy — watch for the others in future editions of Go Soccer.

I'M ONLY A DAD by D.J.L.

I'm only a Dad and it's just 'cause my lad joined Soccer, I've taken a team,
I do not know much about that "magic" touch
some coaches praise with a scream.
I'm a league man myself
(boots now on the shelf)
but the lad likes his game each weekend,
I've just taken a course
(Coach shouted himself hoarse) to learn some of the basics, my friend, and some may feel fools
learning the rules
so the referees we won't offend, but it's worth it you know when those lads really go —
IT'S ALL FOR THE KIDS in the end!

Southside clubs are getting organised for their RUN-A-THON PRIZE-A-THON this weekend. Top team prize (a set of shirts in Club colours) is a beauty, with other great prizes to players and Clubs. All club Secretaries have cards and details.

Hear the Referees are about to blow the whistle on those junior teams who do not have officials wearing armbands at games, along with a blow-up about incorrectly inflated match balls.

BRISBANE SOUTH JUNIOR TABLES

Each fortnight Go Soccer magazine will provide points tables for the competitions in the Brisbane Southern Districts Junior Soccer Association. The tables are current up to the fixtures prior to last weekend. The tables are unofficial, and contact should be made with the BSDJSA for confirmation of any points. Follow your junior team, and its rivals, every fortnight in Go Soccer.

PREMIER LEAGUE — ROUND 6 OLYMPIC UTD. v TARINGA

Goodwin Park, Saturday, 3 p.m.

TEAMS

As Iain Kesson attempts to rebuild Taringa, this week he comes up against some of the very first products of his youth policy at Lions.

Players such as Craig Low, Tom McGregor, Graham Wilson and Andy Ogden were nurtured by Kesson as youngsters before breaking into top-line football.

And more than any other coach, he knows their strengths and weaknesses.

Kesson also has a score to settle with Olympic — last year's grand final defeat when he was coaching Lions.

So a Taringa victory will be sweet indeed for the clever Scotsman.

But one player determined to stop that will be Olympic goalkeeper Geoff Daunt, a former Taringa player.

It should be close, but Taringa could make Olympic their first away scalp.

At their best, these two sides are the entertainers of the competition.

Mount Gravatt now have amassed a record which rivals that of any team in Brisbane before them — even the great Azzurri and Hollandia sides.

On the other hand, Ridge have always been just one step short. But ability wise, they can match it with anyone.

Acacia Ridge's record against Mt. Gravatt has not been good, and the Hawks don't make a habit of losing at home.

But it should be a sound tussle in all grades.

Mount Gravatt could spot a bit of height to the Ridge, particularly in midfield, but should have too much allround strength and will take the honours in an exciting thrill-a-minute match.

PREMIER LEAGUE — ROUND 6

EASTS v WYNNUM

Heath Park, Sunday, 3 p.m.

TEAMS

The early rounds have been a big disappointment for the Tigers supporters, but it will be a welcome return home this weekend for Easts.

Easts have played at home only once this season, when they drew with Taringa in the second round. And it is at Heath Park, running towards the pig-pen, that the Tigers seem to go best.

Although a little weak up front, Easts still may be able to find the holes in the Wynnum defence that one or two other sides have located in matches already this season.

Against Acacia Ridge a fortnight ago, Wynnum were totally in charge until Gerry Kay slipped through against the run of play and equalled the score.

Big Dave Mewburn is hard to beat in the Wynnum goal, but if Easts can get off to a good start, he should have plenty of work to do.

At the worst a draw, but probably two points for the Tigers.

Several former National League team-mates and opponents will meet again in this clash.

North Star's Jim Hermiston played with, and against, Coalstars' Kevin Caldwell when he was at Brisbane City while North Star sweeper George Potter also coached Caldwell at Spencer Park.

Hermiston and Potter also would have met Peter Tyson when he was playing NSL for West Adelaide.

In fact, the number of former NSL players involved in this clash indicates it could be a high-level footballing affair.

But there is a danger play could get bogged down in midfield.

North Star have been wanting in the attacking department and have been relying heavily on Ross Swan while Coalstars strikers have been running hot and cold.

A draw looks on the cards here.

Grange Thistle had some of their most successful seasons when Ken Gordon was scoring regularly in their forward line.

And the goals followed him when he moved to Ipswich.

Gordon and Thistle didn't part on the best of terms, and the talented striker no doubt would like nothing better than to knock a few past his old club.

But in Thistle's favour, Tony Bailey seems to have taken up the goal cause this season and skipped away to an early lead in the leading goalscorer competition.

Two of the fastest men in Brisbane football could also be in action if Ron Millman lines up for Ipswich and Garth Moloney gets his spot back in the Thistle line-up.

This one could be a game for goals with Ipswich taking the points through the odd one in five.
