By Go Soccer Editor

GEOFF STEAD

At the Sydney Cricket Ground last week, two of the world's greatest clubs — Manchester United and Juventus — clashed in what was billed the Match of the Century.

As it turned out, the two sides played an uneventful scoreless draw which was broken only by a late decision to take penalty kicks.

Although both teams were keen to win, their on-field performances were nothing out of the ordinary. And that in itself raises an interesting point.

Are we over-rating overseas teams and being far too critical of our own sides?

The football we see weekly from Britain and Europe is packaged highlights — the best 15 or so minutes. Similarly, we only ever see the big Cup finals and not some of the more unimpressive earlier round matches.

What Manchester United and Juventus gave the Australian public was no better, and in fact at times worse, than the football played over the past month by the Australia A and B sides.

Yet the fans cheered, waved flags and fired sky-rockets. When Australia played a scoreless draw with Manchester United, they were booed off the field.

It is high time Australian soccer supporters took a positive attitude towards the game here. If they appreciate the game, then they should be looking to remember the good aspects of matches, and not complain about some of the not so impressive patches.

Points to ponder

They could have staged a mini-tournament at an inner city hotel on a recent Friday. No fewer than seven clubs were represented with some boasting nearly a full team of revellers. At one stage the soccer boys' rendition of "You'll Never Walk Alone" completely drowned out the pub's own singer.

The Perry Park staff got the last laugh over our recent item concerning their afternoon eating habits. Guess who got ice cream sticks in his copy of the management committee minutes the following week?

Don't be surprised if another former NSL player bobs up at Rochedale Rovers before the transfer deadline expires at the end of this month. The player reportedly is not happy at his present

A team is not going to play brilliantly every time — Manchester United and Juventus proved that. And it also holds true for the Soccerroos, a National League side, a Premier League team or even a lower division club.

Australian soccer is suffering from a huge inferiority complex. And the international tournament of the past month has shown that should not be the case.

At their very best, European teams are obviously ahead of their counterparts in Australia. But on a match by match comparison, we are definitely on the same park.

In a code which seems to change its direction almost yearly, the Ampol Cup competition is one of the real survivors of soccer.

The Cup competition has grown in stature and prestige over the past few years and is unique in Queensland football as it encompasses the whole of the State.

No other football code can boast a competition which annexes so many teams from so many parts of Queensland.

And the introduction of the out-of-the-hat draw from the quarter-finals this season has added further to the Cup magic.

Intermediate League club.

Olympic United officials were far from impressed after a recent visit to a northside ground. After having been told the dressing rooms could not be locked, the club had several Reserve teams shirts stolen from a kit during the main game.

It will be interesting to watch the progress of the new Kenmore Fifth Division side. The team, which will boost the numbers of the withdrawal-plagued division, will come into the competition at the start of the second round. They will be playing for points and will be giving away a 10 point start for a top four position. But stranger things have happened, and an undefeated run might see them snatch a semi-final berth.

HAWKS ARE HOT IN CUP BETTING

Last season's losing finalists, Mount Gravatt, are hot favourites to win this year's Ampol Cup competition in a special market framed for Go Soccer.

Intermediate league team Rochedale, loom as the value bet while no doubt supporters of premier league clubs Wynnum and Taringa would be keen to get their teams at 10-1.

"To be honest Mount Gravatt and Ipswich are so far ahead of the others it's not funny. If the draw is kind and they don't meet until the final, it could be anyone's cup. But if one knocks the other out before then, I would rate the winner as odds on for the Cup and anyone could write their own ticket for the opposition," the mystery Bookie said.

But Mount Gravatt will also have to break a cup hoodoo if they are to live up to their favouritism. The Hawks have always done badly in the Ampol Cup and the trophy has eluded them many times.

Mount Gravatt coach Eric Thompson admits he would dearly love to win the trophy.

Everyone wants something they can't get and we would like to make a clean sweep of the trophies this year. The championships are obviously our main concern but a trophy like the Ampol Cup is the icing on the cake," he said.

After the Hawk's scintillating 6-1 win over North Star last week they have been posted at 7-4 in the hypothetical Go Soccer market.

That price is shorter than that for the

THE ODDS . . .

- 7-4 MOUNT GRAVATT

- 3-1 LIONS
- 7-2 ROCHEDALE R.
- 4-1 ACACIA RIDGE, NORTH STAR
- 5-1 SUNNYSIDE

Cup holders Ipswich United, who fill the second line of betting at 5-2.

In framing the odds, our "Mystery Bookie" said the market would obviously be reviewed after the next round of matches but he considered the eight quarter-finalists easy to pick.

NOTE: The Ampol Cup market above is totally hypothetical and framed only as a talking point, Go Soccer and the Queensland Soccer Federation in no way advocate betting on the competition nor do they stand by any of the odds quoted. Similarly, the identity of the odds-framer will not be revealed, nor does he wish to enter any wagers on the cup.

QANTAS CUP SET TO GO

The highly popular Qantas Cup for lower division teams is set to start soon.

Nominations for the competition will close on Monday, June 18.

The QSF management committee has ruled that teams in the following divisions will be eligible to play in the Cup, although participation is not compulsory: Division One and Reserves, Division Two and Reserves, Division Three, Division Four, Division Five, Division Six, Premier Colts, Colts A and teams participating in competition with country affiliates.

The nomination fee is $50 per team. Strict rules apply to eligibility and the QSF should be consulted if clubs are in doubt.

Acacia Ridge, who are on the fifth line of betting for the Ampol Cup, will be looking to prove the odds wrong by reaching the final. They will need a better performance though than last week when they went down to Olympic 1-0. Pictured above is action from that match (from left): John Gillespie, Brett Beves, (diving), and Graham Wilson.

The divisional representative teams selected by members of the Professional Footballers' Association this year make for some interesting line-ups. The teams are:

FIRST DIVISION: P. Shilton (Southampton), M. Duxbury (Manchester United), M. Lawrenson (Liverpool), A. Hansen (Liverpool), K. Sansom (Arsenal), B. Robson (Manchester United), G. Souness (Liverpool), G. Hoddle (Tottenham Hotspur), I. Rush (Liverpool), K. Dalgligh (Liverpool), F. Stapleton (Manchester United).

SECOND DIVISION: A. Williams (Manchester City), M. Sterland (Sheffield Wednesday), M. McCarthy (Manchester City), M. Lyons (Sheffield Wednesday), J. Jones (Chelsea), G. Megson (Sheffield Wednesday), J. Case (Brighton), K. A. Grealish (Brighton, now West Bromwich), K. Dixon (Chelsea), K. Keegan (Newcastle), M. Hateley (Portsmouth).

THIRD DIVISION: D. Felgate (Lincoln), G. Nisbet (Plymouth), S. Bruce (Gillingham), M. Shotton (Oxford), R. McDonald (Oxford), T. Hebberd (Oxford), K. Brock (Oxford), B. Flynn (Burnley), K. Edwards (Sheffield United), W. Hamilton (Burnley), C. Morris (Sheffield United).

FOURTH DIVISION: R. Jones (York), C. Price (Hereford), C. Greenall (Blackpool), J. MacPhail (York City), S. Richardson (Reading), I. Snodin (Doncaster), J. Harvey (Hereford), T. Quow (Peterborough), T. Senior (Reading), J. Byrne (York), K. Walwyn (York).

The sale of Brazilian ace Socrates to Fiorentina ($2.7 million) means the whole of Brazil's magical midfield from the 1982 World Cup is now in Italy, ironically the country which denied the South Americans their expected place in the final in Spain. Zico, Flacao and Cerezo have been playing in Italy's First Division for some time.

A Letter to the Editor . . .

Dear Sir,

One must have faith in the human race because at a recent match between Ipswich and Thistle, a G.T. supporter not realising a goal had been disallowed threw his nil-all double into the bar ash tray at Perry Park.

On talking over the game at home, he was informed of the correct score. He quickly phoned Jim Gilbert at Perry Park who must have rummaged around the ash tray to find the winning double, for in this week's mail came a surprise cheque for $10 — from St. Helens United Soccer & Recreation Club.

Thankyou Jim and Ipswich United for the follow-up in the above matter.

Soccer Bar Supporter.

Let's hope the ticket No. 80753 — No Go — comes up for the three of us.

Liverpool manager Joe Fagan holds the European Cup after his team Liverpool beat AC Roma on penalties in the final in Rome. The group is pointing to the loyal band of supporters who made the trip to Italy.

European champions Liverpool have confirmed Italian side Sampdoria have moved in with a firm offer for club captain and Scottish international midfielder Graeme Souness. The English League champions also said 31-year-old Souness was attracting interest from another Italian Club Verona.

Chief executive Peter Robinson said: "No offers have as yet been accepted or rejected. We may have to part with Graeme, but we will talk over the situation with him as soon as he returns from our tour of Swaziland."

Hungary has won the European Youth Championship, defeating the Soviet Union in a sudden-death penalty shoot-out after the teams had been locked at 0-0 after extra time and 2-2 after five penalties each.

The match was played in front of a crowd of 72,800.

It was the third time in 11 days that a major European trophy had been settled by a penalty shoot-out. Liverpool beat Roma to lift the European Champions' Cup and Tottenham won the UEFA Cup on penalties against Anderlecht.

Poland beat Ireland 2-1 (halftime 2-0) to take third place.

Yugoslavia beat Spain 1-0 (halftime 1-0) in a soccer friendly here.

The scorer was Safet Susic after only 28 seconds. Attendance: 12,000.

In Moscow, Zenith Leningrad and Dinamo Moscow will meet in the final of the Soviet Football Cup on June 24.

TED JEFFERIES

TALKING TOUGH SOCCER

The use of penalties to break deadlocks is far from the answer to create more excitement in soccer.

In recent weeks, not only did we see penalties used in the Manchester United-Juventus game in Sydney, but the shoot-out method was used to decide three major European finals, the European Cup, the UEFA Cup and the Youth Cup.

The method obviously produces a winner but makes a mockery of the whole game. Why don't teams just go out and take penalties and forget about running around the park for 90 minutes?

What is needed are rule changes to ensure goals are scored in normal time. Many suggestions have been put forward and perhaps the time is ripe for FIFA to initiate some form of investigation.

Perhaps the introduction of a short corner, as used in hockey, could produce more goals. At least, it would put the emphasis on the team to score or stop a goal, and not put the responsibility on individuals as does the penalty shoot-out.

TED JEFFERIES is an independent contributor. His views are not necessarily those of Go Soccer nor of the Queensland Soccer Federation and its officials.

GO SOCCER ALLSTARS

With the National League in recess, and only Lions advancing to the next Round of the Cup and playing away, Premier League players again dominate this week's Allstars team.

In fact, only six NSL players gain a position in the rankings on their recent performances in Brisbane.

This week's rankings, as decided by our panel of experts, also contains some players making their first appearance in the Allstars side.

They include George Potter, Mike Savage, John Charlton, John McNairn, Brett Kitching, Billy Williamson, Wayne Corbett and Craig Dickson.

Jim Hermiston again dominated the voting on midfielders while Steve Jackson won back his No. 1 ranking, lost last week to City's Luciano Fabrizio (although Fabrizio has not played in Brisbane for three weeks.).

This week's rankings are:

FOR THE JUNIORS

The Queensland Junior Soccer Council will stage its state championships in three age groups at the end of this month.

The championships in the Under 13, Under 14 and Under 15 age groups will be held from Saturday, June 30 to Saturday July 7 (for the U/13 and U/14) and Friday July 6 (for U/15).

Unfortunately the North West Qld. team (centred in Mount Isa) has had to withdraw from the U/15's due to lack of personnel to look after the team.

The Venues are:

Under 13 hosted by the Brisbane North Zone at North Star Soccer Club, Zillmere. State Coach and Sole Selector is Jim Dolan, coach of the winning U/15 team in 1983 National Championships.

Under 14: Barber Park, Mackay. Hosted by the North Qld. Zone and the Mackay Junior Soccer Association. State Coach and Sole Selector is John Burgess, coach of the 1983 U/13 team which came equal first, but third on goal difference.

Under 15: Endeavour Park, Cairns. Hosted by the Far North Qld. Zone and the Cairns & District Junior Soccer Association. State Coach and Sole Selector is George Pagan, coach of the 1983 U/14 team which came fourth in the National Championships.

All selected players will be brought to Brisbane for a four day training camp from August 3-6 and will then have a further week prior to departure for National Championships.

The National Championships this year are:

Under 13 — Melbourne — Sunday, August 26 to Saturday, September 1

Under 14 — Newcastle — Saturday, September 1 to Sunday September 9

Under 15 — Perth — Friday, August 31 to Sunday September 9.

Guest team in the U/15 National Championships will be a Kent (U.K.) Schoolboys team.

Ballboys for the recent International Games were all Queensland representative players from 1983 Under 13 and Under 14 teams.

Palm Beach Club on the Gold Coast, in the South East Queensland Zone, are the hosts for the half-State Harry Linning U/12 Competition which will be played from Sunday July 1 to Saturday July 7.

Zones competing in this competition are South East Queensland, Brisbane North, Brisbane South, South West Queensland, and Wide Bay. Mr. Harry Linning will be an honoured guest again this year at the competition.

The Gino Paris Competition, for the U/12's in the northern half of the State, will be conducted in the September school holidays.

"Battling" Bob Frazer, Under 8's coach extraordinaire, Club President, and Equipment Officer for Brisbane Southern Districts Junior Soccer Association, is a man with a mission — and that's to push soccer back up to the top of the ladder.

Usually mild-mannered, Bob's neat black beard fairly bristles when he talks about soccer's treatment by the media ("slowly improving" says Bob), the lack of co-operation between a lot of senior and junior Club administrators ("The opposition is the other codes, not ourselves", he asserts), and the apathy of Coaches to improving their knowledge of the game ("Every Coach has his limitations — few will admit theirs").

Bob's Under 8 Annerley side recently took part in the successful mini-game curtain-raisers to the recent Queensland v NSW match.

Taking over the reins of President at Annerley Juniors last year following the death of his great friend Alex. Ingram, Bob intends to keep Annerley Juniors' facilities and reputation high with the aid of a hard-working Club Committee.

This is his fifth year as Equipment Officer for the BSDJSA.

IPSWICH COMMENTS

"The Changing Face"

By TERRY BROWN

Soccer in Ipswich has always meant coal-miners.

Ipswich clubs grew out of the coalmining industry.

However, that situation is rapidly changing because of the steady decline of coalmining in Ipswich.

The trend has been there for some years, but the swiftness of the past 12 months has caused many old timers to wonder what has happened.

The answer is simple.

Personalities like Col Kitching and Chook Vogler, and dozens of other supporters and promising young players, now work in new coal towns.

The new faces coming into Ipswich soccer are not from the coalmining industry. It has caused the local clubs to be less of a closed shop to non-Ipswich based players, though there still is great pride in seeing a teenager like Peter Vogler do well in top competition.

It also seems that the gaps caused by departing miners are being filled by people with a commercial business background.

However, remember a few home truths about Ipswich. All good teams display skill, but Ipswich became unique in Queensland and Australia by adding skilful players who had superb physical fitness and a fierce determination to win.

The fitness and competitive spirit of the clubs meant anyone coming into the town to play, knew they would have to fight.

The point is: Competitive spirit and fitness were the legacy of the miners. It lingers still in Ipswich and infects all players who come to play and stay.

It is vital that it continues to remain healthy, for without it, Ipswich will become just another place where football is played.

AMPOL CUP — ROUND 1

IPSWICH UTD. v NTH. QLD. FED.

Bundamba, Sunday, 3 p.m.

TEAMS

Ipswich are the Cup holders and have a better record in the competition than any of the other 16 finalists.

Their battles in the Cup with former State League side Townsville United helped make the Ampol Cup the interesting competition it is today.

While based in the same city, North Queensland are not Townsville United. They gained their berth in the finals only after a controversial ruling which relegated original winners Far North into second place.

North though will be out to prove they are not the villains of the competition and deserve their spot.

But Ipswich have all the big guns. With Ron Millman seemingly back to his goalscoring best, and the United midfield finally firing, it is hard to see a North win.

Aggression will be the key note, but Ipswich are set to make it two wins in a row on the Bundamba turf.

This is the only tie which pits teams from the same competition against each other.

Lions have dominated the Intermediate League this season while Sunnyside are lurking just behind the leaders.

But the Rocklea team goes into this Cup tie with a psychological advantage. They caused one of the upsets of the league when they downed Lions 4-3 in the opening fixture.

Lions since have gone on goal-scoring sprees in many of their matches and are looking to win everything this year to prove wrong the QSF's decision to relegate them out of the Premier League.

Like many Croatian teams, Sunnyside will play either brilliantly or badly. If they get their noses in front they could be hard to stop.

And if the Lions team has a weakness it is its defence. But the team has the strikers to compensate.

AMPOL CUP — ROUND 1

TARINGA v VALLEY TRIDENT

Perry Park, Wednesday, June 20. 6.30 p.m.

TEAMS

Taringa coach Iain Kesson has publicly stated he needs a good Cup run "like a hole in the head".

But Valley Trident would be foolish if they believed that.

While it is easy to understand Kesson's concern over injuries and the like as Taringa battles to hold onto its Premier League spot, everyone likes winning — and Taringa is no exception.

In fact the team prides itself on winning matches in which no-one even gave them a chance.

But Valley Trident have a point to prove in this match.

Last year they were relegated out of the Premier League while Taringa stayed. Valleys have always maintained they should have gone into the new league ahead of Rovers.

Valley Trident's form has been good in the Intermediate League this season and providing the stick to playing football, Iain Kesson may not have to worry too much about the Cup.

Acacia Ridge have always fancied themselves for a good run in the Cup.

They are still smarting from that semi-final loss on penalties to Townsville three years ago and believe had they got through then, they would have taken the trophy.

The biggest problem for Acacia Ridge in Cup-type matches is their inconsistency. The team runs hot or cold.

If they are on, the Ridge will wipe the floor with City. But if one or two players don't fire, particularly up front, then it will be a struggle all day.

The City team has a sprinkling of NSL players, but always seems to look like a reserve side — disjointed and not playing to a pattern.

The team has the same problem as the club's NSL side — no-one to score goals.

In fact goals probably will not be abundant in this tie and Acacia Ridge could get through by the narrowest of margins.
