Points to Ponder

It is not unusual for touring footballers to take the vow: "What happens on tour stays on tour". But as the days since the return pass by, the stories are starting to sneak out — and some make very interesting listening. But, boys will be boys.

Quite a few local players have been the ones embarrassed when Australian Associated Press' new soccer reporter Jan Martin has entered the dressing room after recent National League Game. Jan, a university women's soccer player and the daughter of North Queensland soccer official Bill Martin, hasn't batted an eyelid, but more than one player has sheepishly reached for a towel. Jan says she's just doing her job, and with her soccer background, doing it quite well.

A sign at Acacia Ridge advertising a Scouse night on June 22 carries the message: "All man United and Celtic supporters must be accompanied by an adult."

Who was the Premier League player who turned up about half an hour late for training last Saturday afternoon because he had to babysit? You would be a-MAYES-d.

What was the most important game last weekend? Some would say the National League match at Richlands. But if the television cameras were an indication, it was Thistle's home game against the Lions Premier League side. While that may be channel policy, some soccer officials do not agree.

Our item last week on the mysterious poisoned pen letter brought a few comments which are beginning to make the mystery a little clearer. It seems such a letter doesn't exist, except in the imagination of one or two others, according to the coach who is reported to have written it.

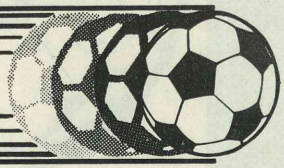

Another unsavory incident in a lower division match has come to light. A keen young boy offered to run the line in the absence of any officials then was abused, almost to the point of tears, by a senior player who objected to one of his decisions. Why don't players get on with playing football? And in this case, hopefully the club took action against its player, who no doubt has never made it himself, but could now also have cruelled soccer for the youngster.

Brisbane City's Brazilian signing Roberto Lettieri may only be learning English. But a keen band of friends are interpreting for him everything that has been written in the local media — good and bad.

THE COLUMN . . .

ON THE BALL

FOR THE CLUBS

A Bradford fire tragedy appeal night will be held at the Kuraby Hotel on Monday June 17. The dance evening, which starts at 7 p.m., will feature local bands; Wotzit, Shazzan, Miztra and DB's Disco, who have all donated their services. There will be a $3 cover-charge which will naturally go to the appeal. Anyone wanting further details can telephone 341 3444. Donations to the appeal can still be made to the QSF office at Perry Park and will be forwarded through the ASF to Bradford.

A "Scouse" night will be held at Acacia Ridge Soccer Club on Saturday, June 22. We understand organiser Bob Butchard has even obtained from the Liverpool Council some posters depicting the Merseyside. While Liverpool and Everton supporters will be in the majority, everyone is welcome and should contact the club for tickets.

Any youngster with nothing to do in the forthcoming school holidays can take his pick of quite a few coaching camps. The 4BC clinics at Perry Park start on June 24 and will cost $30. For booking telephone Steve Hill on 31 1311. Lions also are holding holiday clinics at Richlands. Anyone interested in attending should contact Alan Hunter on 372 5586.

Many clubs have now chosen their Queensland soccer Queen entrants and are busily fund-raising. If you have an event coming up soon why not contact Go Soccer and have it included in On the Ball, at no cost?

The Queensland soccer team's reputation is spreading fast throughout the Oceania Confederation following the successful tour of Fiji last month.

It is understood a number of other South Pacific nations are interested in hosting the Maroons and our northern neighbours Papua New Guinea could be the next frontier for Bruce Stowell's squad.

Queensland Soccer Federation officials were ecstatic over the tour, the best by a Queensland team for years. QSF president Ald. Ian Brusasco has no doubts that the Maroons would be welcomed again by the Fiji Football Association.

Touring is a costly exercise and the QSF will investigate all alternatives before next season. Cost is not the only factor though and fitting a tour into the Australian soccer calendar, in a World Cup year as well, could provide problems.

TOUR OFFER FROM PNG?

But a short tour of Papua New Guinea early next season would be an ideal preparation for the interstate clash with New South Wales. On returning from Fiji the Queensland squad and its coach Bruce Stowell were confident they could have beaten NSW.

The Queensland players were treated like heroes in Fiji and the pictures on this page capture some of the action in their three games. Queensland avenge an opening 1-2 loss to the Fiji National team in Suva by beating the Islanders by the same score in Nausori, then downed top provincial side Lautoka 3-1.

And as the pictures show, it was a great tour for Queensland.

GO SOCCER EDITORIAL

By Editor, GEOFF STEAD

It was pleasing to see the Federation, referees and coaches meet together at Perry Park this week. It was undoubtedly a move towards solving the problems which have begun to haunt our game in recent weeks.

But while our soccer mentors were all together on Wednesday night, it is hoped they took the time to get to know each other a bit better.

Communication between coaches at all levels of Queensland soccer is at an all-time low. And that is why we have situations like the events which prompted the QSF management committee to "invite" Lions coach Gordon Arrowsmith to appear at Perry Park on Tuesday night.

Go Soccer is neither criticising nor condoning what Arrowsmith said or how he said it. The point is, if Arrowsmith and state coach Bruce Stowell had communicated more before, during and after the Fiji tour, the problem would never have arisen.

But there seems to be an ever-developing pecking order and clique among Queensland's soccer coaches — and that spells for disaster.

Eighty percent of Queensland's best players are in the two NSL clubs, yet the coaches of those two sides are ridiculed and criticised openly and behind their backs.

Yet in the past 18 months, the pair have achieved as much if not more than any other previous NSL coaches in this state. So are the others jealous that they are not involved?

ACROSS MY DESK . . .

By QSF Secretary, ALAN VESSEY

Over the past weeks I have attempted to comment in this column on matters directly and indirectly associated with the administrative aspects of Qld. soccer.

As a paid servant of the Federation, it is not my role to pass opinions on the workings of the organisation.

But this week, Go Soccer Editor Geoff Stead has asked for my views on an aspect he believes should be aired in the interest of developing Queensland soccer, something as QSF Secretary is very much my concern.

The matter arose after Geoff Stead and myself watched the exciting clash between Grange Thistle and Lions at Lanham Park last weekend. After the game, Geoff remarked; "Don't you think it is a tragedy that exciting games like this are not gaining their deserved coverage because the Premier League is always overshadowed by the NSL."

I have to admit, I agreed with his assessment, which prompted him to ask me: "Well, what should Queensland soccer do?"

Although the answer is complex, I firmly believe our Premier League has to establish an identity for itself. The competition is too good to be playing its present secondary role.

Jack Craig, when Sporting Editor of the Courier Mail, summed it up when he stated, "I recognise your national and Premier Leagues are excellent competitions but I cannot give you twice the space because of that fact — rather it will be necessary for both competitions to share what space is available"

Therein lies the problem — not only do we compete against the other codes, we also find ourselves at top level competing against each other!

Is it therefore worth considering a season of 'Summer Soccer' for the Premier League to give it the opportunity to establish itself as a competition worthy of support from within and outside the code?

Some will argue that the National League is of no benefit to Queensland soccer and without that competition, the Premier League would soon establish itself but after some 8 years the National League appears to be here to stay therefore other alternatives have to be looked at in the interests of our Premier League.

Perhaps we can learn from others and in this respect the basketball organisation ensures that all local basketball competitions finish prior to the national basketball league season commences.

I would be interested to receive input from players, coaches, club officials and the media on these thoughts, which I stress again, are of a personal nature and not QSF policy.

ALAN HUNTER . . .

BILLY'S BULLETIN BOARD

You can't beat the Ridge, they always look after their boys — and even us guys up at Lions as well.

Normie Bell, Robbie Farrow and myself made a return to Proud Field last Monday to watch the Ridge play Mount Gravatt in a Premier League clash.

And once again, Lions walked away with the rewards. Norm and I shared the double and Rob won the meat tray.

Actually I wouldn't be surprised if John Burgess bans me from the ground. I have only ever won the double twice. Both times it was at the Ridge and both times they lost.

It was disappointing to watch the Ridge. The club has so much to offer yet I don't think I can recall them playing so badly.

For a start I don't think they're fit enough and there seems no purpose in their game. It's just the long ball all the time.

But I guess it's easy to knock a side when they're down, so I will look on the positive side.

The Ridge will not be relegated, club spirit will pull them through. I can see them beating Olympic in the second round to edge away from bottom and I can see them taking points away from Coalstars and Taringa.

I think it's odds-on that Olympic will drop into the Intermediate League and maybe then they will realise that you can't live forever on signing players from other clubs. You have to develop your own juniors.

I have seen a few Premier League games this season and sadly I think the standard has dropped.

I know that comment won't please

TED JEFFERIES

TALKING TOUGH SOCCER

Just about everyone north of Tweed Heads has at some time criticised Frank Arok — and last weekend we finished with egg on our faces. Or did we?

Sure it was a great win by the Socceroos, but these teams were on end of season trips. And as the only national side in the competition, shouldn't the Socceroos have won anyway?

From the reports I read, and I guess they are only someone's opinion anyway, but it seemed the players who performed were those who would be selected in everyone's national team — John Kosmina, Dave Ratcliffe, Oscar Crino, Jim Patikas etc.

Mr. B. —and I hope he doesn't call me up in front of the committee.

Although, on second thoughts, Tuesday night is training night, so it would be a good excuse.

But I hear that now Mr. B. has his new wheels — a BMW no less — He's hard to pin down. I just want to know how he got it back from Fiji duty free?

A lot has been said about the Socceroos win in the International tournament last week and anyone would think they were already on the plane to the world cup finals.

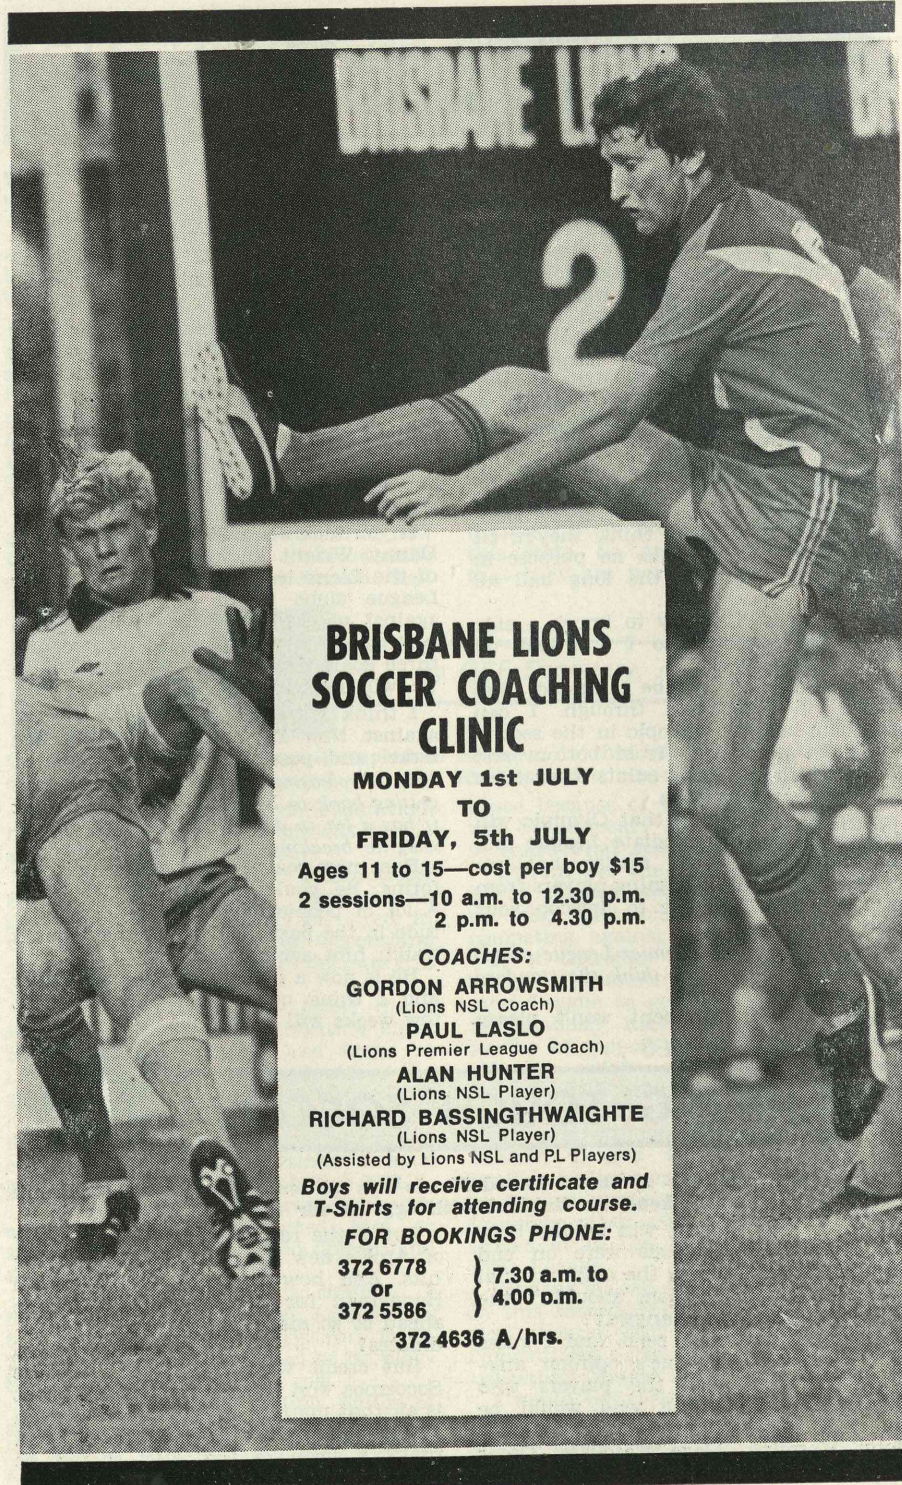

If you took John Stewart, Alan Niven, Danny Wright and Steve Jackson out of the Lions team, I bet a few Premier League clubs would fancy themselves against us. Australia should have been beating these visiting sides by two and three goals if we are to seriously believe we will make it to Mexico.

I think it's going to be touch and go against New Zealand, not to mention Israel and possibly Scotland or Wales.

It is pleasing to see Russell Stewart getting back to his best form. And I think it has a lot to do with Richard Basingthwaite breaking into the NSL squad.

Russ now realises that unless he performs, he could be out of the team. A lot of people have criticised his attitude in the past but I think they should watch him again.

He is now a much more mature player and I think our results over the next few weeks will show that.

NOT JUST BLACK AND WHITE

THE REFEREES' POINT OF VIEW . . .

by "WHISTLER"

By the time this article is printed the first meeting between the referees, coaches and the QSF will have taken place so its fair to express in print some of the problems we as referees see in the game.

I must say that we don't believe we are blameless in the current situation, but have been the first to react to what appears to be a worsening of factors of the game. Let me list some of the problems that must be faced by those responsible for running soccer.

- Increasingly rough play, sometimes vicious and violent, in all levels of the game. This problem is being condoned by clubs and ignored by referees.

- Increasing use of foul language both on and off the pitch. It's all very well to send players off for swearing when most of the bad language is coming from the spectators or the bench.

- Lack of respect and protection for match officials. I know referees like anybody must earn respect but that is very difficult when Club loyalties play an over-riding part of any opinions formed.

(This problem is highlighted by the increase of dissent and "dumb insolence" on the part of players and coaches. Why should a referee be insulted just because he made a decision that did not favour your side? Many players snipe away at referees during a game, making remarks denegrating the official but not falling into the category of dissent. This is designed to erode the referees confidence and make it easier to manipulate him).

- Too many clubs. This means too many matches to be controlled each week-end, talented players are spread too far and wide to improve the overall standard of the game, and too big a variance between the standards of teams in the same divisions.

Many will say the answer to these problems, or most of them, lies with the referees. They already have the power to caution or send off players who break the laws. This seems a satisfactory way of saying "we are not responsible . . . it's up to you."

If referees were to apply the letter of the laws in each game and hand out red and yellow cards as the laws suggest, it is highly probable that many games would never finish. Consider who would rate the major criticism from the clubs, media and players for "spoiling the game" . . . you guessed it — the REFEREE.

We are not talking about punishing those guilty on the field that is only part of the problem. We are talking about an attitude of mind in which all sections of the game recognise the problems and accept the responsibility for doing their part to rectify them.

When sections of the game forget about just winning or losing; when clubs put aside their own club loyalties for the good of the game and talented players are able to demonstrate the skills of soccer, then we may be getting somewhere.

(Once again I should stress these are my own personal views and not the official view of the ASRF.)

TURNING A BLIND EYE . . .

No wonder Ipswich's John Roderick (second from right) often questions QSF draws — he doesn't even watch when he's there! Or had Ian Brusasco's speech sent him to sleep?

Also checking that the Ampol Cup quarter-final draw was indeed "Out of the hat" were from left: North Star's Iain Fagan, Bundaberg's Ken Lerch and Coalstars' Dave O'Leary.

The draw was: Ipswich United v Brisbane City; North Star v Easts; Sunnyside v North Queensland; Coalstars v Bundaberg.

OLYMPIC AIRWAYS SOCCER LEAGUE — PRESIDENT'S CUP FEATURE

SECRETARY'S REPORT

Today marks the beginning of a new era for soccer on the Gold Coast. We are delighted to be in a position to host our first-ever Olympic Airways Soccer League game.

This is due, for the most part, to the foresight of the Albert Shire Council in providing the magnificent Carrara Sports Complex, and the determination and dedication of the Board of Directors and sub-committee of the Federation.

The latter have worked hard to ensure that today's promotion is an unqualified success.

The Federation would like to congratulate those teams which have made today's President's Cup finals. However the season still provides plenty of opportunity for other clubs. We would like to thank all sections of the media for their support in making today's promotion a success.

Today's program has justified our confidence in the working of the newly-formed Federation. All sections of soccer, women's, juniors and seniors have contributed on and off the field to ensure that today is an enjoyable occasion . . .

Mr. J. MONCUR

CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

On behalf of the Gold Coast and Albert Soccer Federation, I welcome Brisbane City and Heidelberg United to the Gold Coast.

Regardless of which team wins today's game, I sincerely hope both sides enjoy their short stay with us. It is our intention to make Olympic Airways Soccer an annual event on the Gold Coast, to promote the OASL and more importantly, to encourage soccer throughout our region.

Today will be a feast of soccer with a display of juniors, women's, seniors and of course National League football.

The Federation wishes that all soccer supporters have a wonderful and entertaining day . . .

PRESIDENT'S CUP FLASHBACK

DIVISION ONE

As can be seen from past records, the first division appears to have been traditionally a two horse race, with Merrimac and St. Anthony's sharing the cup over the past four seasons. But with Merrimac out of the race early on in the season this year, it seemed, that St. Anthony's, who were unbeaten after eight games, would become favourites to take out the President's Cup for the second year running and the third time in five attempts.

However, that was not to be. They lost the now famous game to Merrimac and allowed Broadbeach to take two points which saw them slip to third on the table. That gave Broadbeach and Palm Beach the chance to fight it out for the prestigious President's Cup.

For Palm Beach it will be their third attempt in as many years for this trophy. They were beaten by St. Anthony's in '84 and Merrimac in '83.

On the performance of Broadbeach this season, they would have to be favourites. But both sides have an excellent record in attack, as well as defence.

It will be a battle royal today, as two weeks ago both teams fought hard to draw the fixture game and both teams missed sitters in front of goal.

Last year's grand final of course went to Palm Beach, in true final style in a classic clash with Broadbeach. Revenge for Broadbeach? Maybe !!!

DIVISION TWO

The division two President's Cup today will once again see Merrimac and Broadbeach contend for the honours. Both these teams have dominated this division over the past few seasons with Merrimac gaining the trophy on most occasions.

It will be the fifth year in a row that Broadbeach have been in this final and they have still to feel the magic of lifting that ever-elusive cup after the final whistle.

Although Broadbeach will be desperate for a win, Merrimac will be fighting hard to make it three in a row to add to the club's most impressive records since joining Gold Coast Soccer.

One could not pick a favourite for this game as both teams have shown their dominance over the league to date this season. Maybe Broadbeach for their determination, maybe Merrimac for their reputation?

OLYMPIC AIRWAYS SOCCER LEAGUE — PRESIDENT'S CUP FEATURE

PALM BEACH REPORT

"Always the bridesmaid — never the bride" is the loser's tag and one which Palm Beach players and officials are determined to overcome.

For the third time in as many seasons (a club record), the Sharks have contested the President's Cup, having lost the past two in very hard fought encounters with Merrimac and St. Anthony's. But this time the players are "fired-up" to make it "third time lucky."

Having defeated Broadbeach in last year's grand final at Carrara and then taking a point off the League leaders on their home ground in the last fixture of the first round, the Sharks' morale is at an alltime high.

Champion coach Jeff Gibson will require few of his motivational skills to lift the boys for this historic match. "Where Juniors become Seniors" is the club's motto and Palm Beach takes pride in the fact that 80 percent of the current First Division squad are former Palm Beach juniors.

Duncan McKenna, Brett and Mark Swanson teamed with former Tweed player Greg Thompson are the basis of a rock solid defence with the effervescent Kiwi Howard Fox calling the shots in goal.

In midfield, the explosive power of former Bankstown star Craig Trusty compliments the quicksilver Ronnie Hunter (who starred for Broadbeach against us in last year's final). The pair form the link to the pride of Palm Beach — the powerful and free-scoring striker Craig Alchin and his dynamic "Will o' the Wisp" partner Rodney Lumb.

Youngsters Scott Erwin, Mark Thelwell, Grant Lazarro, Robbie George and veteran campaigner Darryl Olive make up the squad and are all capable of match-winning performances.

An added incentive for our young team this year is the honour of playing the curtain-raiser to the first NSL game to be played on the Gold Coast. Palm Beach SC congratulates the Gold Coast and Albert Federation on its foresight in arranging this important fixture for the benefit of local soccer fans.

Be assured the Sharks will not let the Gold Coast down and will provide a bright and entertaining match worthy of the Leighton League.

Peter Scott.

BROADBEACH REPORT

Broadbeach United Soccer Club enters today's President's Cup as a result of the club's most successful start to the season for years.

One of the most gratifying aspects has been our defensive record which is second to none, and, a major factor in our first team keeping their unbeaten record intact.

Player-coach Graham "Kiwi" Hayward has blended the perfect balance between youth and experience to produce a very competitive squad, which is being led by example by captain Dennis Dodd, who has returned home to Broadbeach this season.

Highlighting Broadbeach's supreme strength is the fact that the reserves are also playing today in the Division Two President's Cup. They are led by the toughest task-master of all, Mickey Baker, who has done a magnificent job as player-coach to blend together the most skilful outfit.

The brilliant Gordon Heaney leads the boys on the field as captain.

Broadbeach will be represented not only on the field today, but also in the stands where our famous supporters will be cheering in the style which won them the honour of being the Gold Coast Soccer's Best Supporters. Good luck Broadbeach.

Dave Blake.

BRISBANE SOUTH TABLES NEXT WEEK

SPURS COACH CALLS FOR MORE SOCCEROO SUPPORT

Visiting Tottenham Hotspurs coach Peter Shreeves has called on the Australian public to get behind the Socceroos in their bid to reach the world cup final in Mexico next year.

Shreeves was full of praise for the Australian team after its tournament win in Melbourne last Sunday, beating crack Brazilian side Vasco da Gama 2-1 in the final.

"Australia got to the final and won it on merit. I thought Vasco would be too good but the Australians have made me eat my words. The Australian public and media should now get behind the team because its a good side," Shreeves said. It was Australia's first major tournament win, apart from the success in the Merlion Cup, although the opposition in those tournaments was nowhere near the class of Spurs, Vasco and Italian side Udinese.

Australia picked up $100,000 for the win, although the players received just $1,000 each with the rest going "into a pool for later."

One of the stars of the Spurs team, Argentine World Cup star Ossie Ardiles, guested for Sydney Club St. George last Monday, and it took the tiny midfielder only three minutes to display his English First Division form.

Ardiles was pulled down on the edge of the Marconi penalty area after a 35m run and then smashed his freekick against the crossbar.

And although St. George lost the tie 1-0 to fall deeper into the basement of the northern division, coach Frank Arok was not an unhappy man.

"Ardiles was a real professional and did everything that was required. We just didn't put the ball into the net," Arok said.

It was an unhappy day though for Brisbane City coach Jim Hermiston in Melbourne last Monday, with the scores level at 0-0 at half time, Sunshine George Cross exploded in the second half to score three goals in 11 minutes.

George Cross striker Carl Gilder was the best player on the park, consistently winning headers and laying the ball off expertly. In an evenly contested first half there was no support for Gilder particularly as his co-striker Ossie Latif was held by the close marking Ray Junna. In the second half Latif managed to break clear and score two fine goals.

1985 QANTAS CUP

Qantas Cup holder University of Queensland have drawn crack Division Five outfit Mitchelton in the first round of this year's competition which will get underway this month.

Uni, who won the final 1-0 last year, are confident of retaining the trophy but Mitchy are riding high in their division and have scored freely this year. The tie is certainly one which will attract interest.

Losing finalists last year, Salisbury, should have little trouble in reaching the second round. They have drawn new club Deception Bay Division Seven.

Country Buderim and North Star Division Six played-off for third last season and the draw has pitted the clubs together in this year's opening round. It's the North Star Division Five side this season, but the team contains several members of last year's side which went down 1-5 to Buderim.

Last year a record 54 teams entered the Amateur Cup, and that number has been matched again this season. Teams in all Amateur Divisions and Premier League Colts and Affiliates are permitted to enter.

Players are eligible for a team in the cup only if they have not participated on more than five occasions in a side in a fixture in a higher division.

The winner of this year's cup will receive $750 and the runner-up $350. Third prize is $250 and fourth $150.

The rules of the competition do not allow for extra-time in the event of draw but the two teams immediately undertake a penalty shoot out, except in the semi-final stage onwards where 30 mins extra-time will be played.

Venues and dates for the first round matches will be allocated soon.

The draw is:

These two teams traded positions after last weekend's fixtures and the local derby looks to be one of the matches of the round.

Stars seemingly have now come of age in the Premier League and loom as a real semi-final hope.

For Thistle, things turned a little sour after the 0-2 loss to Lions, but the Grange club were far from outclassed. In fact a draw would have been a fair result. But with the table so tightly packed, neither team can afford to drop a point here, or they could tumble completely out of the four.

There was nothing between the two sides last year and the corresponding fixture ended in a 1-1 draw. Tony Bailey and former Thistle player Ross Swan were the scorers. The Lanham Park clash between the club finished scoreless.

A draw again would not surprise.

Scorers:

If Acacia Ridge are to avoid relegation, they must begin to look at the sides which may replace them at the foot of the table.

Taringa were there last season, and after a bright start to the season have come back to the field. Rovers are presently only three places above the Ridge, although five points in real terms.

But the Speare Park side must loom as a team Ridge can beat to climb away from the relegation side. Taringa though are proving a hard nut to crack. Ipswich learned that last week. Many tipped Rovers to lose that clash but Iain Kesson's men fought doggedly to keep their point.

It was not an attractive game and with so much at stake for the Ridge, fancy football is unlikely to be the order of the day again. The Ridge are due for a change in luck, and on their own turf, it could be this game.

PREMIER LEAGUE — ROUND 9
EASTS v MT. GRAVATT

Heath Pk., Sunday, 2.45 p.m.

Referee: BILL MONTEVERDE

Derby clashes between these two clubs have traditionally been tough, but fair matches.

Most players from both sides have at some time in their careers, played for the other club. And that makes most players friends, but rivals. And it has been some time since Easts have gone into a derby clash higher positioned on the table than the Hawks. John Sime has introduced a new discipline at Heath Park and the Tigers are certain to be among the honours this season.

For Mount Gravatt coach Eric Thompson, this has been his most testing season yet. With up to seven first team players injured he has had to rely on youngsters.

The established players are coming back, but some may find their positions have gone, which will make for some good competition within the club. That should bring out the best in Mount Gravatt and they could score a win here.

Scorers:

The confidence at Lions was reflected this week with coach Paul Laslo's comments that his side would win the league — no matter what.

...And as they sit four points clear of the table, it seems the championship could well go to Richlands. But Lions have plenty of hard matches to go before they claim the pennant and this match with Coalstars looms as one of those.

Stars haven't really clicked this season but still have picked up points. And that is the sign of a side which must be watched.

As soon as they get things together, Coalstars could steamroll anyone, but it might be a few more weeks away yet and Lions should take the points here.

Scorers:

After a slow start, Ipswich United are back in the running for championship honours and must be respected.

And some of the Ipswich-bred youngsters at the club are beginning to show their talents. Players like Russell Beckwith, Richie Barnard and Glen Gibb look to have bright futures. But the future looks anything but bright for Olympic. They seem set to fight out the relegation berth with the Ridge and that issue could well be decided when they clash next week.

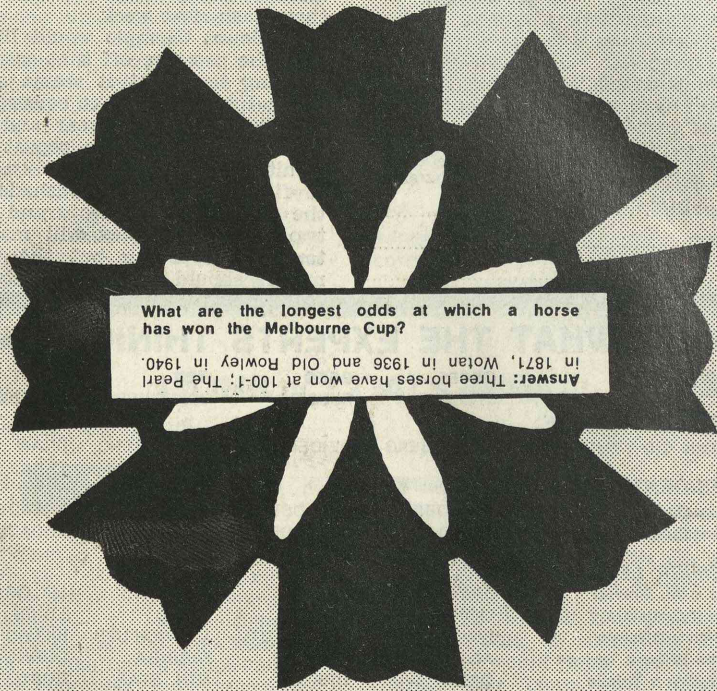

No doubt Olympic would like to take the pressure off that game by winning here, but it seems a tall order. Ipswich won the corresponding fixture 3-0 last year and look to be in the form to repeat that result. Olympic are definitely a team of fighters, but only a shadow of the side that took the grand final two years ago. They will make it tough for Ipswich but the Coalminers should take the points.
