FLYING QANTAS

PRICE: 80c

There could be several surprise promotions among the lower divisions at the end of the season.

With the likely return of the two National League sides to the state's top league the repercussions are certain to be felt right down the line. If the QSF management committee opts for two 12-team semi-professional leagues, extra teams will have to be promoted from the Amateur Divisions. And will mean teams from further down will also be boosted up.

But that provision aside, certain constitutional rules could mean teams which didn't expect to get promoted could suddenly find themselves up a division. The prime example is in Division Three. The constitution provides that any XXXX or Intermediate League cannot have a side in any higher lower division than Division Three. The constitution also provided that clubs cannot have teams in consecutive divisions.

Therefore Annerley, who are currently in second place in Division Three with 24 points and Grange Thistle who are fifth with 19 points cannot go up. Similarly, there are clubs in Division Five, including Thistle, Greenbank and South Star who cannot gain promotion to Division Four, although their present positions suggest the problems won't arise.

As far as the premierships races are concerned, Inala City Division One Reserves and North Star Division Five teams are way out in front. Both have a nine point lead in their championship races and if they win

Other sides looking good bets for their premierships and, or promotion, include The Gap and Beenleigh Division Two, Willowburn Division Three, Inala City and Lions Division Five and Coalstars Division Six. Those sides facing relegation include RAAF Division Two, Logan City Division Three and Centenary Division Four.

Acacia Ridge Four Division side has been left to fly the flag for the lower divisions in the Qantas Amateur Cup.

The side, coached by Mick Collins, the lowest ranked team remaining in the final 16. The Ridge beat Division Three sides Fairfield and Annerley to reach the fourth round.

Other sides left in the competition include two from Division Two and eight from Division One.

The round four draw is:

Thursday, August 7: Lanham Park: Capalaba Div. 2 v Beegees (7.45 p.m.);

Elder Park: Slacks Ck. Div. 1 v Acacia R. Div. 4 (6.30 p.m.); Merrimac v Brighton Div. 1 (8.30 p.m.).

Thursday, August 12: Underwood Park: Souths Div. 1 Res. v Darra Div. 1 (6.30 p.m.); Redcliffe Div. 1 v Nerang Div. 1 (8.30 p.m.); Darra Reserve: Inala C. Div. 1 Res. v Beenleigh Div. 2 (6.30 p.m.); Inala C. Div. 1 v Bardon Div. 1 (8.30 p.m.); Beerwah: Noosa River v Kingsridge Div. 1 (7.30 p.m.).

RUSSELL GOES FOR HIS CAP

Brisbane Lions midfielder Russell Stewart could become the first Queensland-based player to win a full Australian cap for more than three years when the Winfield Socceros play Czechoslovakia in Melbourne on Sunday.

Stewart, 22, is in the 22-man squad which has spent the past month preparing for the three-match series against the Europeans. Other matches will be played in Sydney and Adelaide.

The last Queensland-based player to turn out for Australia was Alan Niven, who was in the team which played New Zealand in 1983. There are two other Queenslanders in the current national squad. They are former Mareeba striker Frank Farina, now with Sydney City, and former Lions defender Alan Hunter, now with Heidelberg United.

A Youth International series will be held in conjunction with the three full matches. Brisbane will host the first of the games, at Perry Park, on August 6. Queensland players Jason

POINTS TO PONDER...

Supporters from a high profile Intermediate League club won few fans at their host club last Saturday night when during and after the game they sipped on cans of Coca-Cola obviously "pepped up" with their own supplies. The hosts will not forget when they make a reciprocal Saturday night visit in a fortnight.

Our item last week on the players heading off on a ski trip and not telling their coach, prompted investigations at more than one Intermediate League club. And it seems the goodtime guys about which we were referring were not the only ones heading south this month.

Don't be surprised if somewhere, albeit well hidden, in the QSF minutes is a review of the recommendations for those Queenslanders to attend a forthcoming level four coaching course. Seems recent events could prompt a subtle deletion.

The very distinctive aroma around a former topline player now with an Intermediate League club, left little doubts how he spent his pre-match preparations last Saturday. But our man still managed to find the net!

It was interesting to note that former Rockhampton, Australian Institute of Sport student and young Socceroo Craig McLatchey was last week named as the new executive director of Australian Swimming.

Which prominent QSF official is currently "batching" and spending most of his time glued in front of the TV watching the endless hours of live sports?

Polak and John Koch, now students at the Australian Institute of Sport in Canberra, are members of the Australian youth squad.

Tickets for the youth international, which kicks off at 8 p.m., are $5 for adults, $2 for pensioners with children under 14 years free. A curtain-raiser between the Sunshine Coast and Stanthorpe representative sides will be played at 6 p.m.

GO SOCCER EDITORIAL

By Editor, GEOFF STEAD

The National League season is over for Queensland's two clubs, Brisbane City and Lions.

The two clubs appear destined to finish with a lowly placing which almost certainly will mean they will miss the cut for the re-vamped national competition next year. But it is not the end of the road.

There are avenues for a return. The winner of the XXXX League next year will go into a play-off with the Victorian and South Australian champions for a place in the 1988 National League. And that must be the target for our beleaguered sides.

It is no use wasting energies and finances attempting to fight the system this year. The criteria was set down at the start of the year. We, like every other team in the League, knew what we had to do. If either club was in a position now to qualify under the rules, we would have no complaints about the selection process.

The National League, presumably, has investigated the matter and decided a 14-team league is in the best interests of Australian soccer and the future of the national competition. The ASF has backed the idea. Who are we to offer alternatives and different permutations all motivated by self survival?

Simply, at the moment, we are not good enough — for one reason or another.

Brisbane City and Lions should use the remaining seven weeks to take stock, assess their situation and plan for 1988. Any other course of action could well prove to be a complete waste of time.

Our thoughts and hopes will be with Russell Stewart when, hopefully, he makes his full Socceroo debut against Czechoslovakia this weekend.

While Stewart's selection in the squad is a personal achievement, it also is a major breakthrough for Queensland soccer and further proof that players can make national teams from Brisbane.

Of course, whether he can keep his place in the squad by staying here next year remains to be seen. Hopefully his performances in the green and gold will ensure, no matter where he plays, he must be selected.

ACROSS MY DESK . . .

By QSF Secretary, ALAN VESSEY

Two events are looming which should give everyone the opportunity to mix with members of other clubs in a convivial atmosphere.

The first is the annual Miss Queensland Soccer Quest finals, scheduled for the St. George's Reception Lounge, at Annerley, on Saturday, August 30. More than 400 guests attended last year's function which saw 30 girls vying for the title, eventually won by Rochedale's Janelle Jones.

Prizes for this year's contest include $2000 of Qantas air travel and a return trip for two to Sydney flying TAA. Numbers need to be finalised over the coming weeks and clubs are urged to send back their nomination forms, even if their representative is not yet decided.

The other social event on our calendar will be the inaugural QSF golf day at Keperra on Monday, September 15. Entries, at $15 which includes a meal and all fees, close on August 15 and are limited to 160 players. Anyone associated with soccer is eligible to play.

Anyone who is interested in participating in either event should contact their club secretary or call into the QSF office for nomination forms or bookings.

OUR MAROON WOMEN AIM FOR THE TOP

Queensland's top women soccer players are bidding for places in the national team to play a three-match test against Italy in September.

The Australian team will be named after the nationals in Adelaide from September 3 to 13.

The Queensland squad to contest the Nationals is: Goalkeepers: Sue Bubeck, Kaye O'Sullivan; Defenders: Moana Brecklemans, Teri McQueen, Michelle Sawyers, Joanne Millman, Maria Rodgers; Midfielders: Kerry Millman, Lyn Spencer, Kaylene Janssen, Di Crouchen, Donna Fredrickson, Connie Burns, Gayle Schneider; Forwards: Klara Szaro, Leonne Yoh Yeh, Stephanie McMahon, Leanne Priestley. The Queensland team was picked after the state titles, which were won by Brisbane which downed Toowoomba 8-0 in the grand final.

Teams were also selected for the Under 15 and Under 17 nationals where the Maroons did extremely well. The Under 15's were runners-up and had Melissa Bale and Ann-Louise Edwards chosen in an honorary national squad while the Under 17's finished equal first on points but were third on goal averages. Queensland Under 17's Kerrie Rowe, Samantha O'Brien and Leanne Augustine were chosen in a national squad to tour New Zealand in March next year.

This weekend, the local women's competition goes into the semi-finals. And next Wednesday, the South Queensland women's soccer association will stage its annual player of the year night.

Australian women's soccer representative, Joanne Millman.

Other keys dates on the women's soccer calendar include grand final day on August 17 while further in the future an invitation tournament is scheduled for Taipei in 1987 and the women's World Cup in 1988.

TOOWONG

The Toowong Division Four team played a scoreless draw with Rochedale Rovers to stay in fourth spot.

The first half produced some good end to end soccer, with both sides hitting the woodwork. In the second half Rochedale were awarded a penalty which was missed at the first attempt. However some nameless Toowong defender had encroached into the box (allegedly Peter Bridges). Luckily keeper Kosy Varfis saved the retaken kick and Toowong's defence held out against strong pressure for the rest of the half.

In Division Seven, top-of-the-table Coalstars proved too strong, defeating Toowong 3-1. Coalstars were two up at halftime but Toowong improved and managed to score late in the game to narrow Coalstars' by then three-goal margin. John Green headed in from a Chris Hutton corner.

Toowong's Qantas Cup run came to an end when they were defeated by the Beenleigh Division Two side at Annerley. Coach Gary Bray gambled on switching sweeper Greg Mesh to striker. John Elliott replaced Greg at the back. Stuart McRea returned after a lay-off and Alex Micallef replaced injured keeper Kosy Varfis.

The changes certainly spurred Toowong and they were unlucky to be 0-1 down at halftime after having had a couple of good scoring chances. In the second half Eddie Collins latched into a back pass and equalised. Minutes later Ian Carson put Toowong ahead with a penalty after Eddie Collins had been brought down in the box. Beenleigh weren't finished and equalised to make the score after 90 minutes 2-2.

In the shootout, all credit to the Beenleigh keeper for a couple of brilliant saves that gave his side the match 3-2 on penalties.

THE GOOD COACH

WEEK 17: THE COACH AND THE MEDIA

All too often a coach will complain about the lack of coverage the game, or even his team, is gaining in the media, but how many are prepared to do anything about it?

While the activities of his team are the focal point for the coach's attention, he must realise that in a country like Australia where so many sports are played, and where soccer is not the national game, the media often is less enthusiastic.

The game therefore must be 'sold' to the media.

The good coach will determine very soon after his appointment where his responsibilities lie in relation to dealing with the media. Is he permitted to deal directly with the media or does the club have a media relations person? If it is the coach's job then he should set about 'making' contacts within the different media.

In doing this, the good coach should make some simple preparations, as he would in planning a session. He should familiarise himself with the various people within the media organisations and understand the market to which they aim. He should know what is a story, and whether it would be better suited for a daily newspaper, a television report or a suburban weekly.

Generally, the bigger organisations have only time for hardcore news. Sign-on days and the like are the area of the suburbans.

Initially, until the journalist knows whom to ring, when and where, it is up to the coach to make the first move in contacting. In giving a story, ensure that all facts are correct and that answers can be provided for all questions. If not, ring back with the missing information.

The good coach will not supply wrong, exaggerated or misleading information or attempt to blatantly use the media. He will be patient because not all scribes understand the game as well.

Remember to take the good with the bad and realise that one heat of the moment outburst could ruin all the work in establishing the contact.

But above all, the good coach will be persistent in dealing with the media. The person who contacts the news outlet with a story every week, will eventually get one in. The coach who supplies nothing, will generally get nothing.

After Valley Trident recovered from the nasty jolt of conceding a goal in the opening minutes of their game against Pine Rivers, they soon took control of the match and finished in a canter.

Slack marking allowed Pine Rivers to score a well-taken goal almost from the start.

But Valleys replied fairly quickly when Dando Ivica, weaving one of his magic spells just inside the box, was brought down.

Peter Carey calmly put away the penalty and added a second before halftime when he ran on to a through ball to put it beyond the keeper.

The halftime score was 2-1 but the competitive element of the game died when both Sammy Dean and Enzo Cupo scored fine goals from identical positions on the left flank.

At 4-1 a lack lustre Rovers were punished further when Carl Musemecci headed in powerfully at point blank range following a near post corner to make a final tally of 5-1 to Valleys.

After a bit of concern in the first half, Valleys, even without star midfielder Peter Tyson, were never pushed to win and it was good to see first team deputies John Hickman and Valdemar give good accounts of themselves on their debuts.

The reserve team match was a more stirring affair and finished in a 1-1 draw. Valleys scored first when Mark Blakeney broke through on the left to lash in a left-foot shot and promised to score many more before his service dried up under the pressure of a four midfield battle.

Pine Rivers equalised with a long shot right on halftime and there were no further goals although Phil Calabrese at leftback, a certain star of the future, and striker Mario Rizzo, played exceptionally well.

IT'S THOMMO TALKING

With seven games to go, thank goodness Col Bennett had found the problem with his National League team — it's been the scrum that's been wrong all along.

Joe Gilroy never spotted it, nor did Gordon Arrowsmith. And even Bruce Stowell never woke up. But next week, I read, Lions are off to Brothers to let Ross Strudwick sort it all out. Maybe he'll switch Russell Stewart to hooker and Danny Wright with all his twists and turns will make a great five-eighth. And with some of the dead-weight up there at Richlands, we could use the flying wedge to force sides like South Melbourne and Heidelberg back into their own goals.

Just what are our NSL coaches doing? At a time when we are not even performing the basics properly, we are taking time out for training novelties. There's 14 points there for either team if they want them. But it seems few at Richlands or Spencer Park want to work for NSL survival. Like everyone else, they've taken the easy way out. Actually it's been a week of humour.

North Star's Iain Fagan started it all when he said his side was looking to join the NSL in 1988. I can really see them beating Sydney Croatia or Sydney City. Imagine a defence of Iain and Danny Lobwein against Frank Farina or Marshall Soper . . . .

They're living in a fantasy world. Full marks to Iain and North Star for attempting to plan ahead and for setting targets. But let's be realistic. When North Star are winning the XXXX League regularly then maybe they should look at the next level. At the moment they can't even beat Brisbane City — and they're the worst in the League.

To accommodate the return of the NSL teams I can see the QSF maintaining the current 10 XXXX League teams, including Wynnum, and adding Brisbane City and another Intermediate League side.

ANNERLEY ANALYSIS . . .

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE: Annerley 3 v Brisbane City 1

Annerley went out in the first half and stuck to the plan of unsettling the opponents by negating their usual dominance of the middle of the park.

The plan worked and enabled Annerley to put pressure on the City's defence.

Ian Fedrick again getting very involved in the middle of the park as well as up front pushed the ball in the back of the net from a goal mouth scramble to give Annerley their 1-0 half time lead.

After the break Annerley went further ahead from a Craig Covacich volley a few minutes after he missed a certainty. Dave Ingram finished off a lovely Ivan Frkovic pass to the far post to give the Annerley side a well deserved three nil lead.

A solid performance in defence by Erian Hudson and ever steady Paul Welsh kept City off the score street until the last few minutes of the game when City scored their consolation goal.

RESERVES:

Annerley 1 v Brisbane City 0

Again unsettled by several unavoidable changes, Annerley's game lacked the smoothness shown in earlier matches. Even so Annerley defence led by sweeper Dave Crane and inspired by a polished performance in goal by Queensland schoolboys keeper Jim Middleton and a tireless effort by Paul Worroll easily dealt with Brisbane City's few raids.

Nil-all at the break it was midfielder Chris Morrison who wacked the ball in the back of the net midway into the second half to give Annerley the lead.

All in all Annerley must have been disappointed about the final score as Brisbane City were only able to field 10 players for the whole of the second half.

THIRD DIVISION:

Annerley 0 v Grange Thistle 1

After ten minutes we were a goal down. There was a question of offside not given, but keeper Dave Forsyth saved the first shot. He had no chance with the second and our defence had not come back to help. That was the only score to the half time break.

The second half contained nothing but frustration for us, and although we had plenty of the play, we could not score.

QANTAS CUP:

Annerley 3rd Div. 1 v Acacia R. 4th Div 3

One of the best things about the Qantas Cup knockout is that teams drawn against a higher division tend to lift their game and play really well.

It happened when we played Albany Creek 2nd Division in the first round.

When we played Acacia Ridge 4th Division they played well and were rewarded with a goal that we should have saved after 25 minutes. Ten minutes before the break we made it even from close in when Dirk Siedentopf scored.

Early in the second half, we replaced Tim Reid with Peter de Warren. With 13 to go, the Ridge took the lead after they had put the pressure on for a long period. Although we tried desperately to get the equalizer, we could not make it, and the visitors swept down the field just before full time to score again and put the issue beyond doubt.

An exciting game, well played by both sides. A word of praise for the referee who controlled the match without any fuss and allowed it to flow.

MITCHELTON STABLETALK

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE: Mitchelton 1 v Sunnyside 0

With only six points separating the top six teams on the table and us sixth, and two-third of the fixtures completed, these two points were vital if we were going to stay within striking distance.

You could hardly say they had a home ground advantage for I doubt anyone could really get used to that uneven surface, although it is well grassed and mowed. It also was well watered for this match as it rained for most of the two games, although never heavy. While the game itself moved fairly consistently from end to end, the goal itself was seldom in danger. In fact there were nine corners conceded, three to us and six to them and all were cleared fairly comfortably by defence, although there were some half chances.

Our first chance was in the 35th minute when Greg Wedger crossed a good ball from the left to the right of the box. They conceded a corner under heavy pressure. The only goal was an opportunist's one, well taken by Garth Moloney, who was up on their defence to receive Ross Gallagher's clearance from goal. He beat their defence and keeper well to do what he can make look so easy. Michael Black was unlucky not to put us further ahead in the 78th minute but he was up against three defenders. Their only real chance came within the next minute when they caught our keeper off his line but Garry Heiner was back well to clear.

RESERVES:

Mitchelton 2 v Sunnyside 0

This could have been a good game between the second and third placed teams with only two points separating them.

But quite a number of unusual interpretations (many and varied) caused so much confusion for players and spectators I was surprised there was not more frustration by them. However I am sure someone will do a Jed Clampett and have a long talk to that boy. I am sure he will improve with experience. The sooner he gets it the sooner he will get better satisfaction and enjoyment out of his games.

Our first chance came in only the second minute but with no-one coming in on the right, the ball went harmlessly wide. A number of opportunities were created by both sides, only to break down for various reasons. Perhaps our best two chances in the first half were in the 30th minute, but we got caught offside, and five minutes later when a bad back pass to their keeper went unchallenged in front of an open goal.

We started the second half being nice to our hosts by giving the ball back to them after winning it, no less than five times in the first four minutes. A real chance for them was a gift of a penalty in the 74th minute which was put harmlessly wide. Two minutes later Brett McDonald, was awarded an indirect freekick well back on the left wing. He aimed it low at the far post and in his attempt to gather the wet ball, the keeper deflected it under himself into the net.

Warren Heiner denied them the equaliser when he cleared off the line nine minutes later and two minutes later a low awkward shot by them was well taken by our keeper. We went further ahead in injury time when Brett found Ritchie Puttock in the box who fought hard to beat their defence and keeper. Undoubtedly the best and fairest player of the match, a real example for young players in word and deed, was Peter Comino.

FOURTH DIVISION:

Mitchelton 0 v Acacia Ridge 2

Our apparent run of outs continued in this game, but with the number of chances from what was a fairly regular team early in the season, this could be expected.

However I believe they will pick up again. In fact they did so before the game finished and kept Ridge scoreless in the second half, the two goals against us were scored from breaks made on the wings. The first on their right in the fourth minute when the cross was not cleared properly and the header found the net. Their second was in the 36th minute on the left with the cross put away well, in both cases Ridge had a sufficient number in the box to be ashamed if they didn't put it away.

We came back reorganised in the second half and Ridge were so busy defending, they did not have anything like the same opportunities. The best defence is attack and I am sure it would have been a much different result had we employed this tactic in the first half.

FROM THE EASTERN SUBURBS

Loyalty is a quality to be treasured. Any person, or, organisation able to extract this response from friends or supporters must have something going for them.

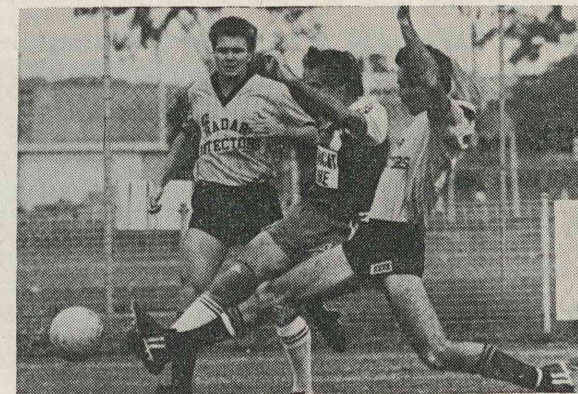

Happily, Eastern Suburbs are in this situation. We have a dozen or more players who have, as juniors and more recently as seniors, played in excess of five hundred games with the club, and, several families who are now into their third generation of involvement as administrators or players, or both.

During the period covered by the participation of these stalwarts the Club has had its ups and downs, but, due, in no small way, to the input of these 'Loyalists' the Club has endured while others have come and gone.

Of course we have undergone an amalgamation and name change over the years, but, like good Scotch the blending has been beneficial.

The directors of the Club say thank you to those who, because they are always there, are seldom noticed. You will surely be missed when you are no longer around.

METRO NIGHT IS A SUCCESS

Newmarket's annual Metropolitan Permanent Building Society promotional evening was staged last Saturday and again was an unqualified success.

The proceedings started with a parents versus junior coaches and committee game at 3 p.m. The coaches and committee teams included John Kennedy. Area manager for Metropolitan and a former top side player for Valley Trident. This game ended in an exciting 4-3 win to the parents.

Special guests for the evening included Mr. Ken Parker and Mr. John Kennedy, both from Metropolitan, and members of the Queensland baseball side led by state coach Mike Young. These players put on an exciting display of how baseball is played during the halftime break of the reserve game. After their exhibition the players distributed autographed baseballs to the youngsters in the crowd.

Between the reserve game, which was won 4-1 by Newmarket, and the main game, our 19 junior team members led by the Metrognomes, participated in a march past and guard of honour for the main game players and referees.

During this break, Ken Parker and Metropolitan's John Kennedy and Ken Parker present a Junior Player of the Month award to Sarah Clarke, of the Under 11, Div. 5 team.

John Kennedy presented the Metropolitan Junior Players of the Month Awards. The winners were: May — Sarah Clarke (U11 Div. 5); June — Sam Juster (U7); and July — Mark Knipe (U13 Div. 1). Following these awards another big cheque from Metropolitan was presented to club president Kevin Kelly by Ken Parker.

A short fireworks display preceded the official kick-off of the main game by Miss Newmarket, Lynette Kettles. The main game was very exciting. Newmarket led 2-0 after 20 minutes but by half-time the score was 2-2. Early in the second half Newmarket went to a 3-2 lead by one minute 10 seconds into injury time. Redlands equalised for a final 3-3 scoreline. Scorers for Newmarket were Kerry Felsch and Craig Mills.

This excellent match capped off a wonderful few hours at McCook Park, all made possible by the generous and continuous support of Metropolitan Permanent Building Society. To Metropolitan and its staff who always assist the club and club members, Newmarket as a whole says thanks for your involvement.

ROCHEDALE REPORT

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE: Rochedale 1 v Acacia Ridge 0

After seven draws too many, the Gods finally smiled Rochedale's way when they defeated The Ridge 1-0 on Saturday night at the Ron Proud Field.

With other results in the League being favourable, this win elevated Rochedale into a prominent position. Surely this is fickle proof that the team which makes the fewer mistakes towards the run home, will lift the title such being the closeness of the League?

This game however was good cause for celebration. As a supporter and a spectator, there have been better games played by both sides. The close score and the positions of these two clubs in the league, as well as fierce rivalry, combined to create the real spectacle.

In the end, a willingness by Rochedale to commit themselves to more football than pointless physical encounters (as employed at the wrong times by the home side) provided almost from the outset scoring opportunities that could have seen a greater scoreline in favour of the visitors.

Within the first 10 minutes, with the Ridge coming out quickly in defence, a deflected ball fell behind them and found Kevin Coleman coming through.

A louder call from his team-mates for more time may have seen a better opportunity at goal. From this point Rochedale didn't look back in the first half and applied good pressure.

We were caught out once when Acacia Ridge penetrated the box, only for it to break down with the defence outnumbering attack.

The first 20 minutes of the second half saw a new approach from the Ridge and they started to match football with football.

Twenty-two minutes into the second half a swift move down the left flank saw Rovers' Brian MacNicol cross, and this time it was met squarely on by Gary Carter's head and sent whistling high into the Ridge net.

The Rovers defended stoutly and with precision for the remainder with Stuart Hart, John Fox and John Reid making timely tackles and interceptions in midfield.

It should be mentioned that the Ridge had one final fling with Irish import

Roy Smythe getting free on the right after playing out of his depth in midfield.

As the ball fell to his right foot on the far side of the box, he hit it first time only to see it fly just past the far post. This was met with a great sigh of relief and Rochedale were never headed after that.

In other Rochedale senior matches last weekend, the Reserves played a scoreless draw with Acacia Ridge, the Fourth Division beat Taringa 3-0 while the Sixth Division went down to Annerley 0-1.

IT'S BALI OR BUST

Time is running out to get a place on the Stu Holmes-hosted Bali or Bust soccer tour in November.

This world Cup footballing fiesta type event will run from November 1 to 15 and will include a minimum of three matches in the Brazilian-like balmy environs of Bali.

Stu already is formulating his Spanish-style total footballing team but needs to finalise numbers. This will enable the perplexing question of where best him to settle on a possible tournament-winning combination and solve the perplexing question of where best to play "dangerman" Ian Runcie.

As your team strives for honours this season, Go for the Gold and book on the Bali or Bust tour. You might get a medal for just surviving.

Anyone who wants to be part of the first senior soccer team to leave our shores since the Soccerroos played Scotland should ring Stu Holmes as soon as possible on 349 9578.

XXXX LEAGUE — ROUND 13 GRANGE THISTLE v COALSTARS

Perry Park, Saturday, 7 p.m.

Referee: JOE KELLER

Grange Thistle are fielding one of the youngest central defence combinations in Jason Burr and Dereck Williams.

Coach Kim Cox says the young pair is improving with every game and is fast becoming the strength of the side. But they face a tough test in this match when they have the task of containing Coalstars' in-form striking duo of Mark Brusasco and Dave Wheeler.

Brusasco and Wheeler have combined for some brilliant goals in recent weeks, and combined with the enthusiasm of Bradley Kearton, it is a fearsome Coalstars forward line.

Still, Burr and Williams, along with talented fullbacks Keith Marsh and John Ribone, held out the best Easts could offer last weekend and will be brimming with confidence. But Coalstars have edged two points clear in the premiership and should maintain that margin.

TARINGA R. v EASTS

Speare Park, Sunday, 2.45 p.m.

Referee: BARRY NORTON

This is the clash of our best goal-scorers.

Taringa's striking duo of Calvin Daunt and Phil "Magical" Mulvey and Easts pair of Phil Redmond and Jim McDonagh have, as pairs, netted 16 goals each. They are the two most successful striking combinations in the XXXX League.

Both pairings will be hoping to get among the goals this weekend to claim the No. 1 title.

Taringa go into the match fresh from avenging their Ampol Cup semi-final defeat against North Star while Easts were shock 0-1 losers to Grange Thistle in the last round. Tigers coach John Sime says he is not pressing the panic button despite the defeat but no doubt will welcome the suspended Redmond back to his side and possibly Hong Kong import Carl Scott.

Taringa will be enthusiastic and hard to beat and a draw would not surprise.

There has always been an intense rivalry between these two sides as so many players involved have turned out in both colours.

And the records show that Olympic United has had the edge in recent times. Both sides were last round losers and will be desperate to get back among the points to maintain their top four challenges.

Things at Lions have been grim in recent weeks as the club's NSL team has dropped through the table, and it is up to this side to bring some cheer to Richlands.

But with clever coach Juan Cutillas and skilful import Elmer Bedia, there is an air of expectation among Olympic supporters that, given the breaks, they might snare a late season trophy. There should be a few goals in this one and a high-scoring draw could be on the cards.

Wynnum this week were rated the unluckiest side in the XXXX League after recording their seventh one-goal loss last weekend.

And the sobering thought for opposing teams like North Star is that sooner or later, that bad luck will change.

Wynnum are one of the most adventurous sides in the competition and could test the Star's defence which has not played well of late. Apart from the Cup, North Star have found wins hard to come by and their last two pointer in the XXXX League was more than a month ago.

The Wolves will relish the home ground advantage and will have nothing to lose by running at North Star. The Ampol Cup holders must win to avoid dropping out of the four but might find this difficult and a draw mightn't be such a bad result.

In past seasons, this match could well have been the premiership decider.

But these two fine teams have been relegated to take a backseat so far in the competition as others have set the pace. But anyone who dares to write off either club, is adopting a risky line.

The grand final is the priority of both teams which means they need to finish instead of the four only. From any position either could win. But the top four race is so tightly packed that neither can afford to falter here. Ipswich United in particular have played a match extra and need to get points before they sit on the sidelines in Round 16.

Both sides were last round winners, but Ipswich were very impressive in a three-goal second half against Olympic United, and the home advantage could be a valuable edge in this match.
