EDITORIAL:

Queensland soccer still has a busy season ahead following last weekend's State of Origin match, starting with the South Pacific Tournament from August 5 to 10.

The teams which will be participating in this competition will be Auckland, Tahiti and New Caledonia and Queensland.

This competition, properly fostered, has the impetus to become one of the great success stories.

We must use the Pacific rim soccer nations to gain competition for our Queensland team.

In reverse there is little doubt Queensland soccer has something to offer these regions.

After all we should not have to, and cannot afford to wait for the next World Cup or Olympic Games to gain recognition for our sport!

The Australian media is currently going crazy with the World Cup being played in Italy and they have finally discovered how big this game of ours really is.

To them it means high television ratings and thousands upon thousands of extra papers, and that's what counts in their industry.

If the public wants it - then "By God" give it to them is their attitude.

We must treat the South Pacific Cup as our own miniature World Cup.

The South Pacific Cup is held annually and has the potential to grow from four countries to 44 in a matter of two or three years.

We are sitting on one of the greatest opportunities to boost the game of soccer in Australia.

It's a gold mine, which if exploited properly could do wonders for the game here. Then watch the media come to the party.

I have read where Lord Mayor and QSF Patron Sallyanne Atkinson has a vision for Brisbane to become the heart of the South Pacific.

Here is the ideal opportunity to break new ground not only for sport, but for the business community as well.

Following the South Pacific Cup are the finals of the Ampol Cup.

This series is a State wide project giving country players the opportunity of playing against better teams which can only help the sport and player development.

This competition certainly gives enormous exposure to Ampol and our sport cannot go far without sponsors.

To conclude the season is the XXXX League grand final and who would like to pick a winner right now.

Brisbane Lions look the team to beat but like the Melbourne Cup, 500 meters from home and it's anyone's race.

Be wise and keep your money in your pocket.

It will be a great day on September 30, 1990 - the XXXX Soccer League Grand Final.

ST. HELENS UNITED

The St Helens United Soccer Club has a background it is extremely proud of and the club can boast to being the "Home of Queensland soccer".

The club was formed in approximately 1912 by a group of breakaway players from the team then known as Rosebells.

In 1921, St Helens dissolved with the majority of its players going to fellow Ipswich club Dinmore Bush Rats. It was reformed as a junior club in 1924.

Two years later the club entered a services team in the Second Division and upon winning the division gained promotion to the First Division.

However the inexperience of the young players resulted in the team returning to Second Division by the following year.

After gaining promotion to First Division in the mid 1940s, St Helens celebrated a purple patch of success.

They were premiers in 1947 and 48, and from 1953 to 57. Also in 1947, 48 and 56 the club won the prestigious Tristram Shield with 56 being our golden year by virtue of being premiers and winning the shield.

Throughout these glorious years many of our talented players went on to represent Queensland and Australia.

Names that come to mind quickly include Lex Gibb, Col Kitching, Bunny Nunn and Cliff Sander.

In the late 50s and early 60s many of St Helen's players were lured to the Brisbane ethnic clubs who had money to spend.

This drain of players eventually forced the Dinmore and Redbank clubs to merge with St Helens in 1966 to form St Helens United.

Throughout the ensuing years the club encountered both the disappointment of relegation and the ecstasy of promotion.

Change once again blew in 1979 with St Helen's name being changed to Ipswich United for participation in the newly formed State League.

Ipswich United met with only moderate success in this competition but the tide turned in 1982 with the arrival of new coach Matt Carson and the return to First Division soccer.

Carson brought to the club several experienced players in Ron Millman, Kevin Coleman and Gerry Lindsey.

These players blended in nicely with our crop of young enthusiastic players to bring a new wave of success to the club.

Ipswich United won grand finals in 1982, 84,85 and the First Division premiership in 1985, the first Ipswich team since the Bundamba Rangers.

The new decade of the 1990s has brought a fresh look to the club with a change of name back to St Helens United, a new youthful committee and a new coach in Nigel Lownds.

St Helens can also boast a strong juniors base with 154 junior players.

Therefore, with this depth available to the club, the possibilities for the future of St Helens are tremendous.

This year each senior player is putting something back into their club by undertaking a program designed to share their experience and knowledge while encouraging the younger players by adopting a junior team for the season.

With this type of player participation and with the enthusiastic committees, the overall future of St Helens United Soccer Club in the 1990s is very exciting.

REFEREEING INTO THE 90's _____ with DES MILES

SO YOU WANT TO BE A REFEREE
PART 2

According to your own ability and depending on whether you have attended lectures and meetings regularly, the next step is to apply for a re-grading.

This might include another field test and progression to 2nd Division games.

The moment eventually arrives when you think that you are better or just as good as the man on the top, and, with the blessing to the Examination Board, you put in another dollar fee and apply for a re-grading.

Only this time there's a bit of a snag - you have to sit for another oral examination, and if, by this time, you are not too sure of your Laws brushing up on them now will not help you.

Three or four qualified persons from the Examination Board sit around you, with a diagram of the soccer field in front.

Thirty-three questions are asked for a total of 99 points. For each question answered promptly and correctly three points are awarded.

Any hesitation in replying can throw one point to the winds, and any further explanation by the examiners reduces your score to either one or zero.

Furthermore, other queries appertaining to the same question must be answered correctly.

Say, for instance, the question is: "a right-winger is in an offside position and as the ball is passed to him by one of his team mates, the opposing back stretches out his hand to intercept the ball but only succeeds in deflecting it to a more favourable position for the right-winger". Decision please?

Other queries arising from this may be "Is it offside?" What about the ball being last touched by an opponent? Is it hands? Do you apply the advantage?

So, from the above it may be seen that you must be far from a novice in the Laws of the Game for their correct application and interpretation.

After two to three hours of this grueling test you have accumulated a score of the minimum of 88.

You have scraped through. Now comes the other hurdle - the First Division Field Test.

This time you make sure that you are extra fit, because other than that, the remainder can only be gained from experience. You are appointed to a top-class match, and the examiners are distributed at vantage points around the field.

There's no doubt about it, you are nervous, but you have to control yourself in order to cultivate that big-match temperament. You give your instructions to your linesmen, who are usually first class ticket colleagues.

The crowds are there in the thousands, the teams are announced over the loudspeakers and the players are on the playing field.

You feel like a slave going into a Roman arena to be thrown to the lions, but you hide your fear and emotions and after the final preparations and check-up of your equipment, you and your assistants, saunter onto the centre of the field with not a care in the world. Oh yeah!

The preliminaries of introduction and coin-tossing are over, but not before the two captains have noticed that you are a new one, remark on it, and wish you the best of luck.

You wonder if they mean it. With a shrill of the whistle the game is on.

You are fit this time and handling the game well. You only wish that one of the senior linesmen is not trying to control the game by waving the flag madly. Now one player tackles another and you stop the game for dangerous play.

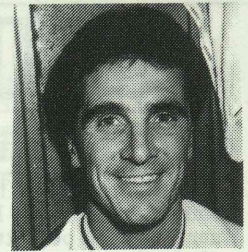

The partisan crowd boos you. "Where did you get your ticket? In a raffle!"

Another woman spectator yells, "if you were my husband I'd feed you poison." You feel like hollering right back at her "Madam, if I was your husband I'd take it", but you contain yourself, stick to your decision, and the game goes on.

Continued Next Week

FRANKLY SPEAKING

with Frank Liddell

I turned up see the State of Origin Game between Queensland and NSW last weekend with an air of expectancy but returned home bitterly disappointed.

The game ended in a nil-all draw and I'm sure many of the fairly large crowd who had gathered at Perry Park to see the match left feeling the same as I did.

Simply there was not enough incidents in the game to make it entertaining. After all that's what a match like this should have been first and foremost.

NSW sent a very strong squad, but unfortunately they did not put a lot of effort into their game and looked content to settle for a draw.

Queensland had a lot of possession in the midfield, but did not capitalise on it with a lack of players getting forward.

The clear cut chances were few and far between and the game was more of a midfield struggle, with neither team using the width available to them.

However there were also some positive aspects to emerge from this encounter between bitter rivals.

The idea of two or three game series is great, but to make it successful we have to make these games more exciting where it counts - on the field.

* * * *

The FIFA ruling to have tougher restrictions on tackling in the World Cup has opened the door for all the actors in the game.

The first series of games have seen players rolling around the ground in agony hoping referees will issue yellow cards to offenders.

In most cases these challenges are pretty harmless.

If FIFA wanted the referees to get tougher, they should have told the match officials, not given the players the chance to take advantage of the ruling.

* * * *

This weekend should see a full round of fixtures played for the first time in a few weeks.

All these games look very close and should be a good weekend's entertainment for the fans.

A few teams are now looking to cement their place in the top five and all matches from here on in are vital.

Rochedale, who moved into the five, will have to beat North Star at home to stop Taringa, who have an easier game against Olympic, leapfrogging them into the five.

Acacia Ridge and Mt Gravatt are other teams pushing to keep with the top five.

Both teams will be looking for wins this weekend so they don't drop off the pace.

WOMEN'S SOCCER

Last Sunday week, at Newmarket Soccer Club, the women's 1st Division team played against Nerang.

This fixture match was set down for 4.45pm as an experiment. The Nerang men's team played Newmarket and this game finished at 4.30.

It was great to see the number of spectators who stayed around after the men's game to watch the women play.

This was due to the efforts of the Newmarket Club, who went to a lot of trouble to organise an all day barbecue at the clubhouse.

It was also good to see the support from the men's teams of both Newmarket and Nerang and the hard and fast game ended in a 1-nil win to Nerang.

Some of the other clubs have women's games scheduled either before or after the men in the second round.

Eulogy

The Newmarket Soccer Club and Queensland soccer have lost a great stalwart in Eddie Masters who passed away while watching his favorite sport on television.

To his wife Marie, his two sons, David and Neil, and two daughters, Roslyn and Robyn, along with his nine grandchildren please accept the Federation's deepest condolences.

Eddie's record within soccer stands for itself.

He was a junior and senior coach at Newmarket, a devoted committee man whose involvement with Newmarket spans 26 years.

He received his life membership in October 1974 and the club also named its number one field at Newmarket after him - the Eddie Master's field.

Eddie was also involved with the club's overseas tours making trips to New Zealand and the USA.

It will be interesting to see which clubs want to encourage their women's teams.

The extra money made in the canteen and at the bar must surely be worth a little promotion at the clubs.

Last Sunday there were no games played due to the State Titles being held in Kingaroy so we will have a full report on these Titles next week.

We will also have the names of those girls who have been chosen in the Queensland Junior, Youth and Open teams.

The State Junior Coach will only have two weeks to work with his complete team before the National Titles at Geebung, beginning on June 24.

The Youth Coach has another week with his team before heading off to Melbourne for the National Youth Championships on July 8.

As well, Eddie was a foundation member of the Queensland Soccer Club with his involvement with the Perry Park establishment numbering 19 years.

Eddie Masters will be well remembered as a man who put a lot back into soccer during his 64 years.

JUNIORS IN THE LIMELIGHT

Q.S.S.S. FEDERATION

Results are slowly filtering in from the Commonwealth Bank Bill Turner Cup as finer weather is permitting teams to get out and play long overdue fixtures.

Dakabin, minus regular goalkeeper Matthew Brady, went down to Redeemer Lutheran College 2-1 at Rochedale on Friday.

I'm told it was a good game played in the right spirit by both teams and that the losers had a good time despite the need of a compass and a cut lunch to get there and back. Redeemer will now go on to play Wavell High for the right to play Nambour for a place in the Queensland final.

At the other end of the draw Kingaroy meet Shalom College who played Alexander Hills in the final last year.

Les Killer is going to try to make this game a curtain raiser to an Ampol Cup game and bill it as the Wide Bay final to attract more spectators.

Other results to hand are: Bremer High 2 d Rosewood High 1, Monto 3 d Gayndah 0, Shalom College 3 d Monto 0, St Mary's 3 d Lockyer District 0, Harristown 1 d St. Mary's 0, Redeemer College 3 d Wavell 0.

I would like to thank all those parents out there who have been giving up their time to drive these young players to the games where buses have not been organised.

The State Championships are getting closer and more teams have now made their final selections.

Brisbane North named a squad this week which contained several players from the 1989 team including Scott McEwan, Geoff Scott and Chris Higgins from Pine Rivers Fourx Colts, Peter Turnbull and Darren Bender who has signed with Grange Thistle this season.

Darren was a shadow player in the State Schoolboys team and in Bruce Stowell's Under 18's last year.

He was called in by both coaches but was only able to travel away with Bruce to Canberra.

On the other side of town West Moreton is gearing up with what they have described as a small but speedy team which boasts amongst it ranks Sean Cranny from Taringa's Fourex side, Danny Britten also from Taringa and Laelesh Lao from Brisbane City.

Cranny was unable to represent his region last year because of a knee injury from which he recovered just in time to help Corinda High win the Metropolitan final against Sunnybank last August.

Britten and Lao, according to coach George Garevalis, have shown a lot of potential at the trails and training.

West Moreton might be looking for State Title number three.

We are now a State to be taken notice of in the School arena, and we are aiming to win outright the title we shared with the ACT in 1989.

On the home front we are negotiating with the QSF to run some of our Metropolitan semi-finals on August 9 at Perry Park during the South Pacific Cup which runs from August 6 to 10.

This should be an entertaining week and we hope that it draws some good crowds. Roger Holcroft.

BRISBANE SOUTH

With the influx of Queensland's inclement weather of late, perhaps now is the time to remind parents of the correct procedure to follow.

Firstly listen to 4KQ or 4BH from 7.30am and the field which your game is to be played.

If you do not hear an announcement, PLEASE DO NOT PHONE THE RADIO STATION.

Phone your coach, manager or club for the information.

4KQ and 4BH provide this service to us as a community service and should not be expected to receive such calls.

Cancellations are repeated several times on the radio for you.

To enable us to operate on this system, your co-operation is necessary.

Last weekend the representative teams spent their time at their training camp.

From all reports a good time was had by one and all and most people returned home happy but tired.

Special thanks go to Palm Beach Soccer Club for the use of their fields and facilities.

I'm sure the boys would also like to thank Garry Duggan, our representative team organiser, coaches, managers and helpers for their time spent organising the weekend.

Mal Bland, Brisbane Regional Director of Coaching, will be conducting a Level 1 coaching course at Redlands Soccer Club on June 25 commencing at 6.30pm.

Anyone interested in attending please phone Barry Potter on 286 3165 or arrive on the night.

All under-11s will be having a field day on July 14.

Possible venues shall be Kingsridge, Tudor Rovers and Loganholme, so please keep note of where you are playing on those fixtures.

Forms will be handed out on that day with details of the Under-11 Intensive training program.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Sir,

As the Coach of the Annerley Under-8 Soccer team I would like to express our appreciation to the QSF for the invitation to play a curtain-raiser game at Perry Park on Sunday 20th May.

These young up-and-coming Soccer players enjoyed the experience of showing their skills on such a memorable day.

The thrill of seeing this big match, Queensland playing Charlton Athletic will be an experience which will long be remembered by our three grandsons, one who played in the game, and the other two, loved every minute of this eventful day.

The autographs they managed to get will be treasured all their lives.

We would like to thank the Charlton Athletic team for giving these junior teams a chance to see these great players in action, and the Queensland team for making it such an exciting game.

To witness the complete playing field covered by young boys at half time kicking soccer balls, must have pleased the promoters of the great game of Soccer.

We would also like to thank Sun Newspapers and the QSF for giving the children a chance to win those five incredible mountain bicycles and helmets. One of our players was fortunate enough to win one of these bikes.

He was so thrilled. Keep up the good work and hoping to see you at more of these "family type" days.

Yours in Soccer,
Bill Hinds.

Editor's note:

We too agree the day was a great success. But to hear it from the people who count is gratifying.

FAR NORTH QUEENSLAND

The fairy tale continues for the high flying but tiny tablelands side of Dimbulah in the Far North as they held Leichhardt to a 2-2 draw away from home.

The clash of the top two teams consolidated the top position for Dimbulah but saw the Lions drop from second to third behind Edge Hill.

Edge Hill managed a hard fought 1-0 win away at another Cairns team Marlin Coast.

Leichhardt have had an enormously successful run since 1986 winning the premiership for the last four seasons.

They have also won two grand finals and twice the creme de la creme, the Crad Evans Shield between the premiers of Townsville and Cairns.

Dropping three points on the trot against teams that Leichhardt would have considered mediocre a year ago has underlined the lack of leadership within the team.

Current coach Willy Fulton has had to resign because work commitments won't allow him evenings to train the team. The club has not yet named a successor.

Red McLellan.

NORTH QUEENSLAND SOCCER

Results of North Queensland First Division Premiership fixtures last weekend pushed Aitkenvale P.Y.C. a little further ahead at the top of the table.

Burdekin Parkside have now moved up to second spot, four points behind Vale, with Mundingburra Olympic one point further away in third position.

Estates relinquished their second place after a disastrous Sunday and slipped down the First Division ladder to fourth.

Brothers dropped to fifth after going down to Aitkenvale, with little change in the lower half of the table.

In the Club Championship, which is calculated on results in First, Reserve and Third Division, Aitkenvale have overtaken Estates to lead on 136 points, Mundingburra Olympic are close on their heels with 130 and previous leaders, Estates, in third position on 118.

Brothers and Burdekin Parkside are even on 104, with once again the remaining teams bringing up the field in much the same order as the previous week.

This week was to be the start of the big catch-up on the programming, playing the many deferred games, but once again, with unseasonable weather, further delays are on the cards.

The already once postponed "Ron Huntington Memorial Carnival" scheduled for the Queens Birthday Weekend, has now been further postponed until a date to be fixed - possibly being played under lights midweek.

ROCKHAMPTON

Rockhampton youth team's incredible five season unbeaten run can be attributed to the Rockhampton Soccer Academy, according to coach Gary Johnson.

"Its the youngest side we have chosen and its the younger players who have really turned it on" said a delighted Johnson, who is also the Queensland Under-14 coach.

"The promise that these players have shown augurs well for the senior ranks in the next few seasons."

The Rockhampton Soccer Academy was started four seasons ago by the then Regional Director of Coaching, Richard Evans, and has been running ever since.

The ideas are based on the English centres of excellence principle but uses ideas from throughout the world to give extra skill based training to the so called elite players of the area.

The Academy has produced several State players over the seasons and two of them Guy Rigby and Glen Sheppard went onto Australian Under-16 training camps.

Rigby was in the last 22 players for the 1986 World Under-16 Cup team that went to Canada.

Other State players to be produced by the Academy have been Bernard Schick, Richard Nicol, Craig Costin, Jeremy Harris, Craig Costin, Willy Jensen, Duane Billing, Mark Stewart and currently Roy Bobb, Stuart McLaren.

Other Academy students Gary Banks and Michael Betridge have made Queensland schoolboy teams.

The Academy training is being continued by Johnson and current Director of Coaching John Reid and there seems little doubt it will continue to produce stars of the future. Country players haven't had the recognition they deserved in the past but with positive attitudes like that of the Rockhampton Soccer Academy they will continue to get that chance.

The Rockhampton Correctional Centre has won the Rockhampton Third Division Title two seasons running but will struggle to make it a hat trick in 1990.

They don't seem to have the cohesion of previous seasons and have suggested that they may go into the transfer market.

The Rowlands Cup had been the annual challenge between Rockhampton and Bundaberg but has been allowed to lapse over the past couple of seasons.

The Rockhampton based Rowlands family are keen to have the trophy series of matches between the respective Under-16, Youth and senior representative teams revived.

They don't want the games in the Ampol Cup or Central Coast Ford Dealer's Trophy to count towards it and have asked the Rockhampton Soccer Federation to arrange a date.

The Rockhampton Soccer Federation has thrown out the challenge and are now awaiting a reply from their Bundaberg counterparts.

Townsville soccer supporters will be keen to know that their former identity Craig Fleming is having a run of success with the Bluebirds club in the Power's Bitter Premier League.

The club's first team won the 1989 Central Queensland Soccer League under former coach Wayne Druery coming from fourth place and winning each finals match on penalties.

The wet weather has given teams a slow start to the 1990 season but Bluebirds are now joint leaders of the totally Rockhampton based Premier League with Nerimbera.

SUNSHINE COAST

Sunshine Coast soccer front runners Beegees and Buderim Wanderers remain locked at the top of the table with middle order teams battling as the business end of the season approaches.

Wanderers ran out convincing 2-0 winners over hosts Maroochydoore last week in a dour battle while Beegees had little trouble upsetting bottom-of-the-table Nambour 6-1 at Yandina.

Division leaders are now well clear setting the stage for a battle supreme for middle order teams looking to make the top five.

There is little separating Caloundra, Kawana, Noosa and Maroochydoore and the next few weeks could be the deciding factor.

Woombye and Nambour are floundering on the bottom of the ladder and seem unlikely to make a mark this season.

BRADLEY'S REPORT, WHAT IS IT?

There has been a lot of talk lately about the recent release of the Bradley Report, the study into the re-structuring of Australian soccer.

Soccer 90, in a bid to keep the Queensland Soccer Public informed, has decided to print excerpts from the report.

INTRODUCTION:

In late 1989 the ASF decided to obtain independent advice on the management structure and organisation arrangements required to make the administration of Australian soccer more effective in the 1990s.

More specifically, this independent advice was required on:

- * The roles, responsibilities and relationships between the ASF, the National Soccer League, the State Federations and their affiliates.

- * The structure and functioning of the NSL, the questions of promotion and relegation, the development of the NSL clubs and the relationship of the NSL with the State League competition.

- * The planning for the administration of the national team.

- * The planning, policy and decision making processes relating to the development of juniors, coaches, referees and women players and.

- * The internal administration functions of the ASF.

It is generally believed the standard of soccer now being played at all levels, from juniors through to the national teams, has improved significantly over the past decade with the national team achieving success against world class opposition.

Despite the success of the national team, and the continual improvement in playing standards, soccer in Australia has failed to achieve acceptance by Australians as a major football code.

Australian soccer is perceived to have a number of major problems:

- * A lack of co-ordinated direction at national level with the code appearing to be fragmented into many conflicting and competing bodies.

- * A so called "national" competition with half its teams drawn from one city with only three other cities also being represented.

- * It is seen as a game for ethnics with most clubs in the NSL relying full support from a specific ethnic group. Unfortunately for these clubs, these ethnic communities are no longer providing the support to their clubs that they once did. These clubs will have to develop district support bases if they are survive into the next century.

- * Many of the NSL and State League clubs are experiencing financial difficulties and.

- * The number of children playing the game appears to have fallen over the past five to 10 years.

Obviously we cannot print all of Dr Bradley's 90-page report, so we will concentrate on certain aspects we believe the public want to know about.

THE STRUCTURE OF THE NATIONAL SOCCER LEAGUE:

INTRODUCTION:

It was identified that one of the key factors in the long term successful development of soccer in Australia was a prestigious National Soccer League.

This factor would lead to:

- * Improved media coverage, including commercial television.

- * The ability to attract top quality national sponsorships for soccer as a whole, and specifically for the NSL and individual clubs within the competition.

- * More spectators at NSL games.

- * The development of clubs and players which juniors can look up to and try to emulate and.

- * Improved playing standards which, in turn, improves Australia's chances for success in international competition.

To achieve the level of prestige required the competition needs to:

- * Be truly national and includes teams from all states and.

- * Have clubs that are well-developed, financially stable with a strong spectator base.

THE GEOGRAPHICAL COVERAGE OF THE NATIONAL SOCCER LEAGUE:

Ideally for the development of the sport, every State and major population centre in Australia should be represented in the NSL. There would appear to be 9 major centres at this stage which should be considered - Sydney, Melbourne, Adelaide, Brisbane/Gold Coast, Canberra, Wollongong, Newcastle, Perth and Hobart.

Additional centres may be needed to be added to this list as Australia's population grows and demographic change.

In the existing competition only four of these centres are represented.

It is recommended that the NSL be structured to allow each of these centres to be represented providing new clubs can satisfy the criteria relating to financial stability, access to facilities, development and promotional ability and competitiveness.

THE NUMBER OF TEAMS:

At the present stage there are 14 teams playing in the NSL.

Seven teams from Sydney, four from Melbourne, two from Adelaide and one from Wollongong.

From discussion with the clubs and other officials there is a general agreement that there are too many teams from Sydney. Most believe that the maximum teams that the cities of Sydney and Melbourne can support is four in each city.

Having two teams from Adelaide appears to be working well with both teams attracting spectators, and it allows Adelaide to have a game there each weekend. Local derbies are well-supported.

It is proposed that the maximum number of teams from each centre should be - Sydney (4), Melbourne (4), Adelaide (2), Brisbane (2), Canberra (1), Wollongong (1), Newcastle (1), Perth (1), Hobart (1), a total of 17 teams.

Two teams have been listed for Brisbane. One of these teams, if there are to be two teams, should probably be drawn from another centre within the State of Queensland such as the Gold Coast.

A maximum of one team only has been nominated from Perth because of the travel costs involved.

One team has also been nominated from Hobart, although it may be based at Launceston.

At this stage it is unlikely that a team could be financially supported from Tasmania.

It is important for the long term development of the clubs that no more than the maximum number of clubs from each area be allowed into the competition.

This provides protection for the clubs competing in the NSL from these centres.

It makes it easier for these clubs to attract sponsorships, media coverage and develop a spectator base.

Therefore it would appear that a 16-team competition would provide the geographical coverage necessary for the long-term development of soccer in Australia.

THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE NEW NSL STRUCTURE:

It is recommended that a new NSL competition be established based on the recommendations outlined, as soon as possible. However by the time this report is discussed by the various states, league federations and the NSL council of clubs it may be too late to introduce the new arrangements for the 1990/91 season.

In which case the earliest possible date for implementation is the 1991/92 season.

Existing NSL, State League clubs and consortiums should be invited to apply for the 14-positions in the new NSL competition. The final selection of these 14 clubs is to be based on:

- * The need for a team in the NSL from centres identified above.

- * The financial capabilities of the club.

- * Access to appropriate facilities.

- * Ability to promote and develop its district or centre.

- * Ability to attract crowds.

- * Competitive strength and.

- * Geographical location within a city if two or more clubs apply from that one city.

It is recommended that, at all times, ASF retains the right to invite or not invite clubs to compete in the NSL. Once the new NSL structure is in place clubs in the competition will receive, each year, an invitation to play in the following season unless they have been excluded under the membership requirements as outlined, on the recommendation of the board, 75 per cent of the members at an annual general meeting or an extraordinary general meeting, vote to exclude a club from the NSL competition.

The ability of the stakeholders to exclude clubs from the NSL competition must always be retained so that clubs, which satisfy the membership rules outlined, may still be excluded from the league, if necessary.

These invitation to the clubs should be made by the end of June to allow the new clubs three months to prepare before the start of the next season in October.

PLAYING THE GAME RIGHT

BRUCE STOWELL

I am almost afraid to introduce such a sordid topic as defence at a time when the game is being carried along on a wave of exciting attacking play, but we must be realistic.

It is no good being capable of scoring five goals every game if we are going to let six in.

However, I do feel that, if certain basic disciplines are obeyed, defending is easy. Perhaps I ought to qualify that by adding - "by comparison with attacking".

To clarify this apparently extravagant claim, attackers, to be ultimately successful, have to carefully work the ball into a small opening.

On the other hand, defenders, to be successful, have often to do little more than throw a boot at the ball and kick it onto the next field.

TEAM DEFENCE:

It is important to remember that as soon as the other team has the ball, every player in your team is a defender with a duty to win back the ball as quickly as possible.

The nearer to the opponents' goal the ball is won the sooner a strike can be made. The more the ball is won early, the less tiring the game becomes.

This is particularly true at our level where players are less fit than pros.

Pressure must be put on the players nearest the ball. This means opponents are denied the chance to play themselves easily out of trouble. They are instead forced to attempt hopeful, more risky, long passes.

In all defensive situations try to have one player more than your opponents. This provides cover if one defender is beaten.

INDIVIDUAL DEFENCE:

Work hard to win the ball back when the other side has it.

In a one against one situation, try to reach the ball first if you can.

If not stay close to your opponent and force a move or a pass any way but forward. Above all stop your opponent from turning the ball.

Try to stay close enough to keep your opponent's head down and eyes on the ball to restrict the field of vision.

Talk to each other. Giving advice in defensive situations, especially when something is happening on a team-mate's blind side, is every bit as important as calling when you want the ball.

For goodness sake stay on your feet. A sliding tackle is an emergency measure, a last resort, yet it's amazing how many players use it as their only form of challenge.

Week after week, I see players dive in and finish up flat on their backs without the ball. A player is of no use to a team flat on the floor.

Watch your own and other teams and see how often players are left helpless after "going to ground".

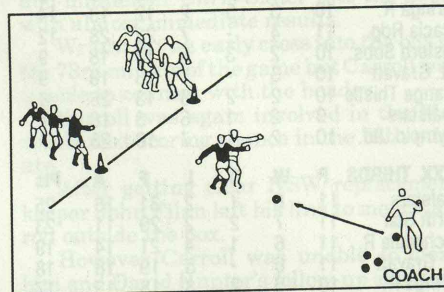

Watch a televised game and it will surprise you how frequently top teams are put in trouble by the very same thing.

WINNING THE BALL CONTEST

PREPARATION:

Have plenty of balls ready. Line up players in pairs behind a starting line roughly 20 meters away.

PROCEDURE:

Play a ball gently towards the first pair. When the ball has travelled a few yards shout "GO"!

The players come forward off the line, compete to win the ball, and give a controlled pass back to the coach.

VARIATIONS:

1) Vary the starting position of the players. Have them facing away from you, lying down, ect.

2) Change partners frequently so that players who are regularly beaten don't lose interest.

3) Count one point each time a player successfully returns the ball and add up points at the end of a set period. Everyone but the winners pays the penalty.

Next week we look at the TACKLING PRACTICE and PLAYER FOR PLAYER MARKING GAME.

INTO THE NET

Rochedale Rovers Soccer Club have sent out an SOS to their Number 1 fan, 13 year old TROY BALDWIN. Troy, who is confined to a wheelchair has just had an operation and is laid up at home. He's the Clubs' patriotic mascot and all wish him a fast recovery - "we miss you Troy and need your support".

Acacia Ridge wants everyone to get down and "boogie" on the dance floor this weekend. The club will be holding a free disco following their match against Brisbane Lions and everyone is invited to attend.

NSW coach Berti Mariani did a hard blink at some Sunday Sun posters spotted during the drive from the airport to Perry Park. "Blues Coach Resigns" screamed the posters. Sorry to startle you Berti, it referred to the coach of a certain oval-ball game.

Truly amazing - the after-match function last Sunday was highlighted by the enthusiasm which several speakers, especially from N.S.W, displayed for a two or three match State of Origin series. Funny, but when we put forward such a proposal to N.S.W. early this year they knocked us back flat, and we've got the letter to prove it. Maybe next year?

Another idea touted was the formation of a Sheffield Shield-type competition with each State entering a team. When just such a proposal came up before the Australian Soccer Federation not so long ago Queensland supported it. Guess who opposed it?

After all the words of wisdom from the various speakers, loved the opening words of State Captain FRANK PIMBLETT who stated it wasn't for him to tell Administrators how to do their job. Reminds one of the old saying "All Coaches think they would make great Administrators, and all Administrators think they would make great Coaches".

THANK YOU ONE AND ALL

To the teams who made the effort to take part in the very-well presented March-Past - Kingsridge, Redcliffe (Winners Best Team), Brisbane Lions, Westside, North Star, Sandgate P.Y.C., Mooroondu (Best Club Banner/Flag), Maryborough Olympic (Runner-up Best Team).

We may have been short on numbers, but we sure were high on quality!!!!

To the girls of the Redlands Shire Marching Drum Band (excellent); the BATC for the loan of the "Super Sopper" from Doomben racecourse; DES MILES (grounds curator) who busted his boiler giving us a playable surface after days of rain; BRUCE STOWELL and the pride of Queensland the MIGHTY MAROONS for not being overawed with the N.S.W. squad which included eight current Socceroo squad members; New South Wales for being "fair dinkum" by sending us such a quality squad of players; and YOU the supporters for showing TOGETHER we can do it.

The following players each won and collected a Mountain Bike and a safety helmet in a competition sponsored by the Queensland Soccer Federation at the State of Origin Match. Craig Smith (Capalaba Club), Sean Streten (Centenary), John Dillon (Bardon), and Robbie Giles (Clairvaux).

WORLD CUP FEVER....

A good Stock Exchange tip would have to be Bryant & May what with all the matchsticks needed to keep our eyelids open after hours and hours and zzzzzzz...

MATCH REPORTS

A Queensland team boosted by NSL players Steve Jackson and Danny Wright held NSW to a nil-all draw at Perry Park last weekend.

Jackson, from Melbourne club Preston, never looked troubled in defence while South Melbourne's Wright help set up many of Queensland's scoring chances.

The two were well supported by former New Zealand international and Gold Coast midfielder Paul Halford, who won the man-of-the-match award.

The scoreline was a good indication of the match with both teams playing attacking open football.

Neither side was able to find the back of the net despite numerous chances up forward.

However the Maroons had much of the play and looked the better side for most of the game delighting the 4500 strong parochial Queensland crowd.

In contrast to their 2-2 draw against touring English side Charlton Athletic three weeks ago, Queensland attacked from the start to finish.

They had plenty of sorties up forward and masterfully turned defence into attack.

A slight shower prior to the kick-off made conditions slippery for both teams after heavy rain had already water-logged the ground during the week.

The QSF had to borrow the "Super Sopper" from the Brisbane Club to ensure the match went ahead.

The only real chance in the first half fell to Danny Wright in the 43rd minute with a slingshot ball from 25m out.

NSW keeper Robert Catlin lost the ball in the sun but managed to get a hand to it to force a corner.

The second half was similar to the first with both teams playing end-to-end football.

But both teams were becoming frustrated by good defence and this resulted in a yellow card to NSW's Andrew Bernal in the 18th minute after some aggressive play on David Hunter.

With time running out Queensland coach Bruce Stowell injected striker Noel Carroll and midfielder Chris Slater into the game with almost immediate results.

Wright hit an early cross into the box in the 73rd minute of the game but Carroll was unable to connect with the header.

Carroll was again involved in the Maroon's next scoring chance in the 76th minute.

After getting clear NSW replacement keeper John Filan left his line to meet Carroll outside the box.

However Carroll was unable to clear him and David Hunter's follow-up shot was wide of the far post.

Carroll's Pine Rivers team-mate Clayton Koch replaced Nick Meredith, regarded by NSW coach Berti Mariani as Queensland's best player, in the 83rd minute resulting in more forays up forward.

However time ran out and Referee Bill Monteverde blew his whistle for full time.

Best for NSW were defender John Paul De Marigny, midfielder Gary Phillips and keeper Catlin who was replaced at halftime.

Nice to see former Regional D.O.C. for North Queensland BRIAN JEFFS and his wife at the S.O.O. Match. Brian is currently hitting the books as he studies to become a Manual Arts teacher. Methinks some lucky High School in the country will soon start doing very well in their local soccer competition.

Coalstars' new XXXX League team Coach Phil Caldwell (formally the team's Manager) certainly is a true blue Coalstars man. Formerly with Black stone Rovers as a junior, Phil made the transition to Coalstars upon amalgamation. Has coached junior teams for the "Coalminers", as well as XXXX Reserves for five years, winning two Premierships and three Grand Finals. As they say in the racing game "Watch the horse with a new trainer - he can often be a bolter!"

The Vice President of the Brisbane South Juniors has finally realised that he does snore. During a recent training weekend he was rudely awakened by a delegation from the local disco who said he was disturbing their patrons.
