EDITORIAL:

The acceptance of the Bradley Report by the Australian Soccer Federation Executive last Saturday was a landmark decision for the sport in this country.

The ASF is back in charge of its own destiny, a destiny which should see soccer re-emerge as a sport to be reckoned with.

At last it is no longer a case of the National Soccer League attempting to control soccer in this country.

They are now just part of the development plans for the future of soccer in Australia.

Kickoff

Under the changes recommended in the Bradley Report, the "new-look" National Soccer League, due to kickoff in 1991, is shaping up to be a great concept and one which will surely benefit the sport.

The competition will retain its popular summer timeslot, its extremely competitive nature and growing public appeal.

But it will also become a "truly" national competition with the inclusion of permanent teams from Queensland, Western Australia and possibly Tasmania.

Up to now the tail has been wagging the dog, but at last the ASF has some teeth to control national soccer development.

This is what the head body of any sport should be in a position to do when the need arises.

Now all we need is an interstate competition for the winter season to provide a tougher competition for our players.

Any such moves would also give the Australian Coach and team selector the opportunity to view players under pressure conditions year round.

The result would mean that Eddie Thompson could in fact pick an A and B Australian teams.

The A team would be the full time Socceroos competing in overseas and World Cup campaigns while also playing visiting international teams on home soil.

Australia's B team could be utilised to compete against visiting teams in the absence of the Socceroos.

This would give Australia a far greater depth of players with international experience, thereby ensuring the future of the code in this country.

This will also provide the Australian soccer public with the opportunity to watch international football in all capital cities.

The introduction of an interstate series, plus yearly international visits, will give the ASF the opportunity of cashing in on the big sponsorship dollars which are badly needed for the sport's national survival.

ST ALBANS SPORTS CLUB
"The Saints"

A donation comprising two sets of shirts and three balls were the humble beginnings of one of the surprise clubs of the 1990 Division Two season - St. Albans.

Currently in 4th place, the Saints have proven they are a force to be reckoned with.

The strength of the club is epitomised by its strong representation in the Toowoomba side which played recently in the IEA Inter-city series.

A total of nine players made the side which unfortunately met their Waterloo against the Brisbane and Ipswich sides.

The Saints have one of the strongest junior bases in the seven-team Toowoomba competition with 17 sides ranging from Under-7s to the combined Under-15/16.

When juniors in Toowoomba wish to play the senior game St. Albans provides an environment of high standards.

As well as their QSF sides, they also have a senior side in the local XXXX League and a Ladies' side which is the most successful side the club has placed on the paddock.

The depth within the club extends to the local competitions where Greg Inwood and Jenny Green were voted 1989 Best and Fairest players in their respective divisions.

Several Saints Ladies have donned the Maroon jersey including Sue Bubeck and Jenny Green while Anne-Louise Edwards has gone one step further by representing an Australian Under-16 side.

Ann-Louise gained more representative honours recently with her selection in the Queensland Under 19.

As one of the few clubs in Queensland who actually own their ground, the Saints are in a strong position to enter the SEQ League, as the representative club from the Garden City, should it eventuate.

An amalgamation in September, 1963 between the Church of England Boys Soccer Club (also called St. Albans) and the Newtown National Fitness Club enabled the formation of what is now St. Albans Sports Club.

The club entered three junior sides in the Toowoomba league in the following year.

The major step of entering the senior ranks occurred in 1967 when the Saints played in TDSF Division Two.

Their first season of senior soccer was not filled with champagne corks flying around the dressing room.

Their maiden game with its 16-0 scoreline was a tough initiation to the top level, however the scores were reduced by the conclusion of the season to 3-0 deficits.

The 68/69 season saw the Saints taste their first success with promotion to the first division and also runners-up in the Consolation Cup.

Nearing the end of 1969 a proposal to join the Queensland Soccer Federation was met with great interest and culminated in the club fielding a 6th Division B side.

After winning this competition, they continued scaling divisions with consecutive premiership wins in 1971, 1972, and 1973.

Because of a major reshuffle in 1974, St. Albans were placed in 3rd Division Amateur where they remained until relegation in 1981.

An immediate return kept them in 3rd Division until the club's historic trek to Perry Park as 3rd Division Minor Premiers last year.

They may have lost the final to Goodna 1-0, but their first trip to soccer headquarters was a memorable moment for many of the participants.

As well as soccer St. Albans also dabbled in baseball during the 1983 summer.

Comprised of soccer players, the Saints team took out the 4AK Shield as winners in their first and only year of competition.

Most of the club's success can be attributed to the behind-the-scenes work by many dedicated people, however special mention must go to Club Secretary Stan Maker who has served the Saints since their inception.

Before moving to the present complex on Rutheven St. South in 1974, St. Albans played at a variety of grounds including Queens Park, Bridge Street and Newtown Park.

While the club may not be a household name yet, the potential present at the club may threaten the best in the state.

With the recent acquisition of Peter Kelly as the Downs Regional Director of Coaching, Saints have an even stronger chance of developing a better skilled breed of juniors.

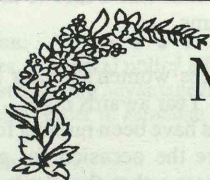

The club also has several players who have served the club more than twenty years.

Greg Inwood and recently-departed John Robinson have stayed loyal since their junior days while Jenny Green has been with the ladies side since it was formed.

Amazingly, the average age of the top side is around 21 with only two players over the age of 25.

Up and coming players including former Australian Schoolboys goalkeeper Jeff Philp, Anthony Brown, Ken Duncan, Warren Allen, Brendan Coonan, Anthony Cotton, and Steve Willmot ensure the strength will stay for years to come.

So when the Saints Go Marching In, beware.

NERANG has made a final rush for the Semi Finals with some great second round performances.

Having recovered from a spate of injury worries during the first round and adjusting to the different standard of the game, the team has finally showed the form it promised when it entered the Brisbane competition.

In the first round Eastern Suburbs had a 9-2 victory over Nerang, but last week in a brilliant match, Nerang were unlucky to go down only 1-nil to Easts with an unfortunate own goal.

Keeper, Jackie Wortley had a great game saving an Easts penalty and a series of other shots.

Nerang have also had wins over Brighton and Tiwiwarren in the last few weeks.

They have some ten players from the last two or three years who have all been members of Queensland's Youth team, so the talent is obviously there to cause an upset.

Redlands need to win their remaining three games to clinch the premiership and Easts will be hoping for an upset to grab back the lead.

All in all, it looks like a race to the finish for these two teams.

* * * *

This week sees women's soccer holding it's Player of the Year awards night.

These awards have been running for about six years and are the occasion for personal rewards for players rather than team awards which occur on Presentation Night.

First Division Coaches are asked to nominate 12 persons, excluding their own players, to form their ideal team.

Secondly each team has a ballot to select their player's player from their team.

A panel from the Executive awards points from one to three for contribution to the game and finally club coaches are contacted for points for attitude, again from one to three.

Following these procedures, 12 nominees are named and from these, the 1990 Player of the Year will be announced.

Second through to Fifth Divisions are also involved with coaches being asked throughout the fixtures to name the most consistent player in the opposing team during each match.

Two nominees from each division are named and one of these is chosen as most consistent player of that division.

There will be many contenders for the Player of the Year award, including some past and present members of the Queensland and Australian Teams as well as newcomers to Brisbane's First Division ranks.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

with Frank Liddell

With the season drawing to a close and the finals looming just around the corner, the nerves began to show last week among the top five teams when only one of them was able to win.

Eastern Suburbs, who have hit form at the right end of the season, were the only team in the five to take the three points and that was against second placed Brisbane City.

The other three teams, Taringa Rovers, Brisbane Lions and North Star were not as fortunate. All three played teams fighting for survival in the XXXX League and the it showed in the scorelines.

Grange Thistle had a very determined 4-2 win against Taringa and Coalstars battled well to draw 1-all with Brisbane Lions.

And Mt Gravatt, another of the teams in the raffle for relegation, caused the upset of the round with a 3-0 victory over North Star.

From all accounts Mt Gravatt, under new coach Dick Mitchell, came out with all guns blazing to win the match on North Star's home ground O'Callaghan Park.

These results indicate the fight to avoid relegation is really starting to hot up and it is the top of the table sides and those hoping to make the finals who are starting to also feel the heat.

There has been a lot of fuss caused this week over the $1000 fine imposed on Acacia Ridge for refusing to take the field in a recent Ampol Cup semi-final after a linesman was late.

While I do not condone the action the Ridge took, they had every right to demand a qualified official for such an important match. We have an obligation to our sponsors and should do everything in our power to keep them supporting soccer. In this case why was there not a fourth official to take over such emergencies should they ever arise?

In my view everyone is looking to point the finger and nobody willing to take the blame.

The new indoor competition being shown on television at the weekend looked to be a very exciting and fast game. The game had a lot of very skillful players and was exciting to watch.

But the scoring was unusual, especially since goals have different values when they are scored from different areas of the field.

While this method obviously suits the indoor game, I don't think it could or should ever be looked at for the outdoor game, although some people around would probably like to see those sorts of rules introduced.

REFEREEING INTO THE 90's ————— with DES MILES

ADVANTAGE CLAUSE of Law 5 by Stanley Lover PART 2

These questions have been put before groups of referees of various grades and in several countries.

A summary of opinion, which can serve as a policy outline, is given below:

Question 1:

Is advantage influenced by the timing of play?

Opinion:

Yes. A general policy adopted in practice is to resist applying advantage in the early stages of a match in order to establish authority and control.

Question 2:

Is advantage influenced by the position of the incident?

Opinion:

Yes. The nearer to goal the more effective advantage becomes. It is generally accepted that advantage is inadvisable when the ball is in the half of the offended team or in mid-field.

Question 3:

Does retention of the ball necessarily justify advantage?

Opinion:

No. An example quoted is where the ball is handled in the penalty area and falls to an attacker. Unless there is a ninety-nine per cent chance of a goal retention does not justify a play-on call.

Question 4:

When should advantage always be applied?

Opinion:

When a goal is almost certain to result.

Question 5:

When should advantage never be applied?

Opinion:

In cases of serious injury, serious foul play or violent conduct. Advantage is frequently applied at dead-ball situations, for example, to allow free kicks, corner kicks and goal kicks to be taken quickly before the whistle has been blown and before defending players have retired at least ten yards from the ball. The opinion expressed in response to Question 1 reveals that observance of the spirit of the law is not the only consideration. Its application in the early stages or, as some referees reason, at any time during a tough game, can undermine authority and control.

Advantage situations vary from the obvious examples already quoted to others of a minor nature, which occur when it is in the interests of the game to keep the play flowing; here we revert to the appeal of Law 5, Decision 8, not to interfere by stopping play for trifling and doubtful offences.

Applying advantage in minor situations must be related to the degree of co-operation and general sportsmanship of the players. It should always be applied where control has been established and the referee has good co-operation.

If he senses that his control is suffering his advantage calls can be limited to the more obvious situations.

Time and space are important factors. If play is open there is more time to assess the impact of stopping the game.

When several opposing players are close to the ball it is generally better to stop the game quickly.

The merits of this policy are that friction between the players is likely to be less and the possible advantage situation will not be so apparent.

Communication of advantage is also important. Players and spectators should be left in no doubt that an offence has been seen but that play is being allowed to continue.

Once given an advantage decision cannot be revoked, as spelt out in Law 5, Decision 7.

Every referee experiences situations where an offence occurs and advantage is called but the player with the ball kicks it past the goal or falls a few paces later.

The temptation to return to the scene of the offence and award a free kick or penalty kick is sometimes difficult to resist because justice has not been achieved.

The referee is not allowed this option.

Two final points. The first is that the application of advantage does not exempt the offending player from disciplinary action.

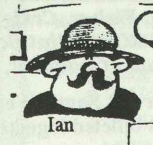

The second is that "the letter and spirit of Law 12 do not oblige the referee to stop the game to administer a caution. He may, if he chooses, apply the advantage.

If he does apply the advantage, he shall caution the player when play stops." (Law 12, Decision 6).

The why, when, where and how of advantage can only be described here in terms of guidance.

Every situation will need to be read as it occurs.

How the individual referee arrives at his decision will depend on his fundamental appreciation of the spirit of the game and his knowledge of other factors of the game.

A reminder to all that 4KQ shall endeavour to broadcast wet weather cancellations at approximately 20 minutes past and 20 minutes to the hour.

DO NOT PHONE THE STATION.

But lets hope we don't have wet weather problems at this stage of the season.

Oxley United Soccer Club have been enjoying the social side of the game when they held a parents soccer day on Sunday July 22.

Twelve teams consisting of parents of the junior teams entered a knock out competition playing five minute halves with a short break between.

The competition was eventually won by fathers from the Under 8 Yamaha's, which consisted of "dads" most with soccer experience and some still playing the game competitively.

The majority of "players" who represent Saturday sideline barrackers freely admitted they may have to tone down their encouragement of the boys, after realising the skill and stamina requirements of the game.

After a most enjoyable day the club is considering annualizing the event and perhaps inviting other clubs "dads" to participate.

Loganholme Soccer Club conducted an Under 9 (Division 5, 6 & 7) carnival on July 22.

Teams from Salisbury, Kingsridge, Leichhardt Eagles and Mooroondu joined three Loganholme teams for the day.

The day commenced at 9.30am with a medley of songs played wonderfully by the Shailer Park State School Band.

At the end of the day Mooroondu were declared the winners and received gold medallions with Loganholme 6A runners-up and collecting the silver medallions.

All players received a carnival ribbon.

A most enjoyable day was had by all and the club thanks the social committee who organized the Market Day with various craft, cakes and plant stalls which proved a great success and added to the colour of the day.

Special thanks to the Shailer Park School Band for their involvement on the day.

Q.S.S.S. FEDERATION

The Commonwealth Bank Bill Turner Cup is slowly drawing to a conclusion with the winding up of the area finals.

Nambour High School is travelling to Bundaberg to play last year's runners-up Shalom College who are chasing a second crack at the State winner's trophy kindly provided by the Commonwealth Bank. On the other side of the draw Sunnybank will play Redbank Plains in their area final.

Sunnybank defeated Merrimac High 4-0 while Redbank Plains defeated Harristown by a similar scoreline.

It is hoped that the final two teams will be known early next week as we are hoping to stage the final at Perry Park on August 19 as a curtain raiser to the Ampol Cup final.

The talent scouts may also be able to spot a couple of likely future prospects.

Keebra Park High School is hosting a visiting American Soccer club called Newark Ajax Soccer Club and they will be playing games at the Coast and in Brisbane.

The Brisbane game will be on August 3 at Albany Creek at 7pm against the Brisbane North Regional Schoolboys team which ran second at the recent State Championships to Northern Region (North Queensland).

This team has four State schoolboys representatives and two shadow players, so it should be a good game to watch.

The Newark boys range in age from 17 to 19.

I may not have emphasised it enough in my Championship reports to date, but I would like to thank the two major sponsors of school sport for their continued support and interest at the Championships in Cairns.

Among the first people I met were several Commonwealth Bank officials and a representative of CCA Snack Foods who attended the opening and closing ceremonies and were seen about the place over the four days taking an interest in the games.

These same people also found time to join us at the official dinner as our guests.

If you are a schoolboy or schoolgirl soccer player, don't forget to support our sponsors.

We are also on the lookout for players who would like to make the trip to Germany for the soccer clinic.

The trip will run in January for 24 days and will cost around $3650 all inclusive.

I have more information for those interested and can be contacted during working hours on 204 4925, or you can contact Mr George Pagan through Canale Travel, P.O. Box 323 Lutwyche 4303 or phone on 265 2108 or 357 6444.

Congratulations to State Schoolboys coach Richard Shortman who has been appointed Assistant coach to the National Schoolboys team for the 1990/91 tour of South East Asia.

Roger Holcroft.

THROUGHOUT THE STATE

FAR NORTH QUEENSLAND

The chances of Edge Hill winning its inaugural FNQ First Division Premiership improved last weekend as they stretched two points clear of the high riding Dimbulah.

Both Dimbulah and Edge Hill began the week equal on 21 points, but a shock loss by Dimbulah has given Edge Hill the upper hand with six matches remaining.

Edge Hill easily won at home over local side Marlin Coast Rangers but Dimbulah dramatically went down to Leichhardt.

Leichhardt scored the winning goal four minutes over the regulation time to receive the benefits of a 3-2 scoreline.

Ironically it has been Edge Hill this season who have had a run of good luck in injury time winning games they could have just as easily lost.

Twice in added time, Edge Hill have picked up the points.

Against Mareeba, they were 1-0 down before scoring the equaliser in the 48th minutes of the second half.

Against Stratford they scored the only goal of the match in a similar late charge close to the death.

However Edge Hill coach Bill Amey, who originally hails from London, is realistic about such matters.

"As long as it is within the time frame of a match, it doesn't matter," he said.

In other First Division matches played last weekend, Mareeba had a crucial victory away at Stratford defeating them 2-0.

The win gives Mareeba the sole ownership of fourth place on the league ladder with Leichhardt, Dimbulah and Edge Hill above them. In other games, the bottom of the table clash between Mossman and Innisfail ended in a 1-all draw. Red McLellan.

ROCKHAMPTON

Frenchville now share the lead of the Power's Bitter Premier League with Bluebirds after defeating them 2-1 last weekend.

However Bluebirds have a game in hand on Frenchville and two of their final matches are against bottom placed Southside United.

This appears to give them a mortgage on the minor premiership while Frenchville will struggle to hold off the second place challengers. Nerimbera's 2-0 loss to Berserker appears to have put them out of the race for second spot.

They are now three points adrift and have the hardest run coming into the finals.

Earlier fixtures between Bluebirds and Frenchville have ended in 0-0 and 1-1 draws indicating there is not a lot between the two teams.

Bluebirds were forced to make changes with captain Les Jones missing through suspension and pushed Darren Jefferies into a more defensive role.

This left a hole through the middle of the field but they overcame this by pushing the ball wider than they have in recent matches.

Craig Dingley opened the scoring for Frenchville with a goal against the run of play after 30 minutes.

After half time Bluebirds hit back well and equalised when Gary Banks unleashed a stinging shot at goal.

A draw looked likely before Barry Cunningham chipped in with his late winner.

Berserker's 2-0 win over Nerimbera was a good tonic for coach Bob McLaren after some recent losses.

Both sides had more ball players than aggressive runners and they used their skills well on a very difficult surface.

Willy O'Neale scored Berserker's first goal when he was on hand to blast the ball home after a goal mouth scramble.

Michael Hawke netted the team's second with a screaming shot from the edge of the penalty area.

SOUTH BURNETT

East's First Division team were unlucky to finish with a 2-2 local derby draw against clubmates Wests in their South Burnett soccer league round 12 match at Kingaroy last week since they made all of the scoring chances in the match.

Wests who would be the first to admit they have not been playing well in recent games, only need one point from these games to cement their top spot.

Nanango and Wondai on the other hand will not lie down for them, and Easts must beat Wondai and ever improving Murgon as the exciting end of season unfolds.

Scores: Easts 2 (Meizer 2) Drew Wests (Baartz, own goal)

Women's soccer in the South Burnett has resulted in stalemate deadlocks over the last two rounds of the South Burnett Soccer league.

In a strange quirk to the draw the same teams played each other two weekends running and the table remains unaltered as a result of the one point results.

Murgon and Kingaroy played out an at times exciting free running nil all draw at Kingaroy. Each side produced good tight defence in a match full of highlights.

Scores: Kingaroy 0 Drew Nanango 0

Wondai and Nanango also played a nil all draw at Wondai as Nanango continue to stall the relentless winning march of Wondai to another minor Premiership.

Wondai have lost their goal scoring ways in recent weeks through absences of important midfield performers.

They had their top forward line available for this dour struggle but Nanango at full strength were able to hold the likes of Lynn Smith, Jodie Fraser and Vicki Bleakley but could not apply enough pressure through Sue Brown, Amanda Steinhardt and Madonna Hay to pierce the Wondai line.

Scores: Wondai 0 drew Nanango 0

Third placed Wondai felt the blowtorch from fifth placed Nanango at Wondai on Saturday in their twelfth round first division clash. Intent on establishing a fourth placed birth if at all possible for the finals in their last three matches, Nanango without the goalscoring combination of last week, Phil Newton and Sasa Ivanovic, showed their depth and conviction to run out 5-1 winners. Eight goals in two weeks shows how hot Nanango are.

Wondai will have to pick up their performance if they want to be sure of a final four spot as Murgon and Nanango could force them to the bottom.

Nanango have now thrown down the gauntlet to Murgon in their match at Murgon next weekend.

Murgon must at least draw at home to make Nanango miss the final four.

Murgon are also on a roll, are hard to beat at home and deservedly would fancy themselves in the semis. Don't miss this game.

Scores: Nanango 5 (R. Trace 2, D. Trace, Evans, own goal) def Wondai 1 (Wilson)

BUNDABERG

With only five rounds remaining till semi finals time on September 1, last year's Grand Finalist, Bingera and Across The Waves lead the Xerox Premier League table with Aston Villa hot on their heels in Third place.

Unless there are a couple of upsets it looks as though Alloway will make up the final four leaving Eagles and Diggers to play out 1990 as preparation for next season.

The local season of late has hit a flat spot since Bundaberg's Ampol cup elimination at the hands of Pine Rivers.

So the next few weeks will be watched with interest as the Final Four sides look for some Grand Final Form.

Bingera seem at present to be the side to beat after over-running Alloway 4-2 last Saturday in a quite open affair.

Across the Waves had an easy 4-1 win over Diggers while Aston Villa played some of their best football for several weeks to down Eagles 3-0.

Bingera coach Trevor Rohdmann feels his side can play better, but is pleased to be top of the league at this stage of the year.

Waves Coach Jim Harkness, whose side beat Villa 2-0 a fortnight ago for the first time this season, would dearly love to overtake Bingera before September 1 to allow an easier passage to the final. Aston Villa are the dark horses of the competition and if they hit form for the finals run-in will be a big danger.

Alloway Coach Glen Huntley, whose side has been battling a big injury problem this season, has not been helped in recent weeks when he lost two more defenders for the season with knee damage. But with Fijian International "Dixie" Nawalu leading their attack they can't be written off come September.

The standings after Saturday July 21 fixtures are as follows:
Bingera 23, A.T.W. 22, Aston Villa 19, Alloway 13, Eagles 7, Diggers 6

Bundaberg Director of Coaching Tony Buesnel announced during the week that Bundaberg would play Papua and New Guinea in a friendly at the end of October.

Queensland coach Bruce Stowell who recently selected the P.N.G. squad will be doing a short regional tour of Qld in late October as a preparation for the squad before leaving for the Polynesian Cup in Fiji. Stowell's involvement with the P.N.G. National team is part of his and F.I.F.A.'s commitment to upgrading the standards of the Island nations in the South Pacific Region.

Bundaberg Juniors dominated selections in the recent Wide Bay trials held in Gympie.

Thirty-seven Bundaberg players were picked in teams from Under-12 to Under-15 underlining the talent that exists in regional areas such as Bundaberg.

Bundaberg's Richard Shortman has been appointed Assistant National coach of the Australian High Schools team to tour South East Asia in January.

This follows his appointment as coach of the Queensland High School's side at the recent State Titles in Cairns.

The annual Italy V The Rest of the World Challenge match is again on this year and is being held at Across the Waves complex in Thebebon Road on Sunday September 23.

An over 35's match is planned as a curtain raiser.

If past year's are anything to go by it should be a great day and as Italy failed to win this year's World Cup in Italy, revenge will be order of the day.

SUNSHINE COAST

Nambour Reds came within one point of being the Sunshine Coast Soccer Association giant-killers at Yandina last week.

League leaders Beegees received its shock of the year when the wooden spooners held it scoreless in the second half for a final 4-3 scoreline.

All seven points were scored in the first 25 minutes of the match. Beegees coach David Payne said last night Nambour had demonstrated that they would be a team to beat in 1991.

"They played very well - you couldn't class them as a bottom side," he said.

"The way they are playing at the moment, they would give most sides a run for their money."

Chris Hall netted two for Beegees with Chris Fullerton and Alan Curtis adding one each.

Gavin Perkins picked up a pair for Nambour with Fraser Watson goaling the third.

Beegees' win pushes it to nine points clear at the top of the table with five matches remaining until the finals.

In a game marred by a suspected broken leg to Noosa midfielder Carl Harrison, Kawana fought back strongly against 2-0 scoreline at halftime to draw 2-2 and keep its finals hopes alive.

Kawana's goals came from Rod Kriz and Bode Pirizel while John Whiting and Ross Maygar scored for Noosa.

In an upset at Wises road Buderim drew 3-3 with Maroochydore and at Caloundra the hosts moved into third position after a 4-1 downing of Woombye.

Qantas Cup midweek results saw Beegees over come North Pine Division 5 in a penalty shoot out.

After finishing 1-1 at full time Beegees took the game 5-4 on penalties.

In the local Derby Maroochydore continue to have the wood on Caloundra with a 2-1 win to and United's Qantas cup hopes.

Greg Hambrecht converted twice from the penalty spot to secure his side's win.

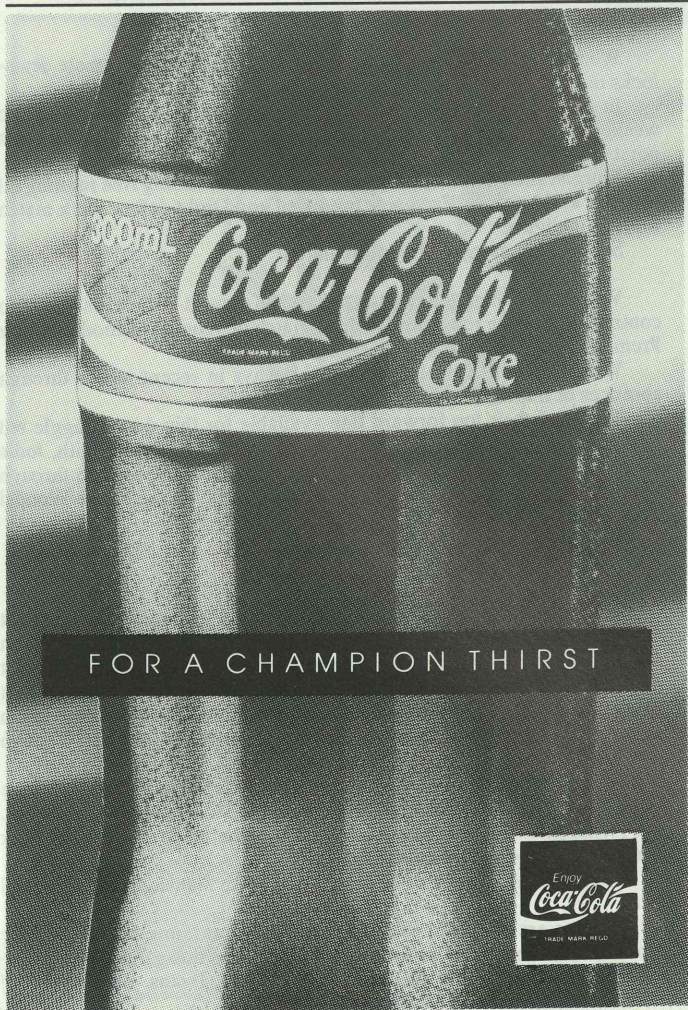

Noosa squeezed home with a late goal to Wolf Schneider to defeat North Star Division 8 and also move into the last 16.

Buderim proved too strong for Taringa Rovers XXXX League colts running out 5-1 winners with goals to Jason Dunn 2, Shaun De-courcy, Scott Elliott and Ian Grant.

Woombye's hopes ended at the hands of one of the cup favourites Annerley Division 3 with the city side scoring 6 to Woombye's lone goal by Lance McCallum.

Heading is one of the two major skills which has not appeared before. This is not because it is not important, but because a large percentage of being a good header of the ball is psychological.

Many players, particularly the young, are put off by a collision of heads which can be very painful.

Much of this can be put down to lack of care during training. Free-for-all games throw in the brave, powerful headers with the timid types with the result that the latter end up never competing for the ball in the air.

Bad training habits lead to bad playing habits, therefore when practising heading it is advisable to bear all this in mind. Use games which give the less able the chance to perform under minimal pressure.

This will not harm the aerial stars as they will continue to produce the goods on the day.

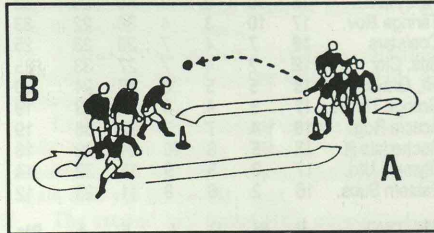

HEADING DRILL

This drill is set up in exactly the same way as basic passing drill which has already been covered.

In fact to economise on organisation it can immediately follow the passing drill.

PREPARATION

Divide the players into two teams facing each other about 20 meters apart. One ball only is needed, but have more nearby.

PROCEDURE

The first player in Team A throws the ball high in the air for the first player in Team B to run and head back towards Team A. The drill continues in this sequence, Team A serving, Team B heading.

We are looking for two types of header. 1) Attacking - the header is aimed down towards the floor as if to head for goal and 2) Defensive - the header is aimed upwards, back over the head of the server as they move forward.

NOTES

1) The quality of serving is vital or the practice is ruined. Make sure that the "bucket" type of service is used - both hands on the ball about knee height and tossed high in the air so that the receiver can move forward to contact it. Ensure that the ball is served as high as possible to give the receiver time to make a run and jump high to make contact.

2) Make sure the players attack the ball as they head it. To do this means carrying out a movement similar to a high jump. Run towards the ball, jump off one foot and move through the ball to head it. Too many players wait for the ball to come to them and jump upright off both feet with the result that there is little power or control in the header.

3) Eyes must be firmly on the ball and contact made with the forehead. In addition to the run, power comes from the waist not from the neck or simply flicking your head at the ball. At the point of contact, the neck should be braced not used to waggle the head.

4) Keep a careful check that a full distance is kept between the teams or the practice will be spoilt.

VARIATIONS

1) When the practice is working smoothly call out attack or defend as the ball is served with the receiving player adjusting accordingly.

2) Occasionally it may help to start this drill with everyone catching the ball instead of just heading for a short while. It helps players to get their timing correct from the start.

Next week we look at the "HEAD TENNIS GAME".

INTO THE NET

Those of us who faced last Friday night's freezing westerlies, which even had the proverbial brass monkey staying indoors, were rewarded with strong attacking football by both sides when GRANGE THISTLE defeated TARINGA ROVERS 4-2.

After being three goals down plus one player stretcher-borne from the field in the first 25 minutes, Taringa Rovers responded well after a few gentle words from "Red" at half time, and could have equalled except for the great goalkeeping work from Thistle's ANDREW HOBBS who continues to build on his confidence, concentration and skills.

Some eye-catching creative play from TR's Stephen Glockner, plus notable efforts from the Lanham Park lot including hard and purposeful runs from Jacob Moli, two fine goals from Scott Rackley and a superb goal from a penalty kick by Darren Bender, satisfied an enthusiastic crowd. Let's see more of the same from both teams.

BEENLEIGH could be on to a good thing with the arrival of XXXX League player Stuart Holmes from Mt. Gravatt. Stu has a level 3 coaching certificate plus a wealth of playing and junior rep. coaching experience. His enthusiasm for the game is a joy to see and hear.

 OH! BROTHERS ***

One of our most successful Zone junior rep. coaches has tossed his hat into the ring for a Queensland job, and by George, he'll probably click it if coaching talent is the main criteria.

Thought of the week: Constant criticism of others is often a smokescreen to hide one's own shortcomings.

There will be some super door prizes and raffle prizes we hear at the MISS QUEENSLAND SOCCER QUEST FINAL AND DINNER DANCE on August 25 for which tickets are on sale now. Ask your Club Secretary to contact Perry Park.

End-of-season excitement as cellar dwellers knock off the high flyers and one point draws frustrate others in their climb for a finals berth.

Believe it or not? We all know how some Queensland soccer matches are used to determine the POOLS results, but what are the chances of this one ever happening twice. In Division 3 last week, from which results were being used for the POOLS lottery, there were six draws from the six matches played. Want to take bets on that happening again?

With third division side KINGSRIDGE misplacing their alternate strip last weekend for their away match against LATROBE VALLEY, spectators witnessed the rare sight of both teams wearing strip sponsored by the same company - in this case ABC Printing, due to the Murray Street brigade kindly lending Kings a spare strip. The match ended in a draw.

Some great publicity for the Code when our Soccer Character was featured in a competition in the Sunday Mail's Magazine section.

A case of a stiff breeze and the nervous nellys marred the flow of the XXXX League match last Sunday when Eastern Suburbs defeated Brisbane City 2-1. Paul Laycock and Paul Petersen (Easts) put in strong performances.

MATCH REPORTS

Pine Hills 2, Albany Creek 3

Strong winds and the occasional dust storm marred this long awaited clash of these two attractive ball playing sides.

A large crowd braved the chilling conditions as both teams tried to come to terms with the environment.

Creek scored first against the run of play, but Hills answered quickly through a penalty by Stuart Purcell. Just before the break Creek scored again also via the penalty spot.

The second half found Hills pinned in their own half for long periods as the wind became stronger and Creek grew in confidence.

It was during this term that Creek added to their lead when Grant McCulloch ran onto a long wind assisted throw and finished well leaving the Hills backline stunned.

Peter Tong worked tirelessly for Hills and was rewarded with a consolation goal just before the full time whistle.

Reserves: Pine Hills 3, Albany Creek 6

Once again the windy conditions played its part but Creek settled first and must have thought they were going to cruise to an easy victory when they lead 2-0 after twenty minutes of play.

Fifteen minutes later Hills were leading 3-2 with goals from John Henderson, Brad Rowlingson and Jamie Richardson.

Just before the break Creek equalised through a hotly contested penalty.

In the second half Hills found the winds and the strength of Albany Creek too much to cope with and although they defended well they rarely ventured into Creek's half.

As the game went on Hills became increasingly frustrated with the conditions and found themselves on the wrong end of several dubious free kick decisions. Creek were quick to capitalise and made them pay the ultimate price for allowing themselves to be put off their game and losing their discipline.
