Editorial

Most people can remember where they were when man first walked on the moon in 1967.

Where were you last Friday when you heard that Brisbane United had been included in the restructured NSL competition?

It was certainly a landmark decision for Queensland soccer and one which a lot of people have worked extremely hard to achieve.

However our acceptance into the NSL is only the first rung on the ladder to soccer success.

It's up to all Queensland soccer supporters to throw their weight behind this important project.

Queensland soccer has waited many years to be recalled into the National competition and we must make every post a winner from here on in.

With the season to kick off in October there is still a lot of hard work to be done.

As you would be aware the name Brisbane United has been used as the working title for the NSL project during the past two years.

Is this the name soccer supporters want for their Brisbane-based NSL team?

Over the next few weeks you will have the chance to express your point of view on the naming of the new team.

You may already like Brisbane United or you have a better suggestion.

Much has been written about the Coca-Cola under-16 talent identification championships which will be staged in Bundaberg during the June Holidays.

The big news last weekend was the QJSC, the controlling body of junior soccer, had given approval for the Queensland under-15 squad to take part in the championship.

Congratulations to Ross Melville who was appointed the Queensland Soccer Federation's new general manager late last week.

Queensland soccer has made giant steps forward in the past and under the guiding hand of Ross should be well positioned to move successfully towards the 21st century.

It's good to hear a special working committee has been set up under ASF commissioner Sam Pavasavis to look into interstate competition for the 1992 season.

Representative football has its part to play in the process to find the best Australian eleven.

Socceroos coach Eddie Thomson must be given every opportunity to view players from around the country, not just in the NSL.

Brisbane United to put soccer on map in Sunshine State

Soccer is a game of all nations, a game of all ages and a game of all people.

In the traditional countries where soccer has been played for generations the game has reached a peak of playing skills which attract the almost total emotional commitment of the masses of spectators who witness games day by day, at the great soccer centres of the world.

Australian soccer players, spectators, officials agonize for the day when Australia will reach that peak of ability and attract that fantastic emotional support for those who represent it.

Soccer is just one of the many established sports in this vast land of minimal population, which has faced an enormous task of achieving popularity with the Australian public.

It has moved but slowly along the rugged path to the peak acceptance. In Queensland the setbacks, to a large extent because of our isolation and the lesser influence of migrant population from the great soccer countries, have been greater and our progress slower.

But year by year progress has been made, and today throughout Australia the masses of young players participating and becoming involved in soccer, is reaching a stage where the future of the game and its successes are assured.

Add to this the great news that the Australian Soccer Federation has determined that Brisbane as a city may participate in the National Soccer League, and we must surely be able to say we have taken the step forward needed to put soccer on the map in the Sunshine State and its great sporting capital Brisbane.

Brisbane has over the last few years shown the world that it can not only provide top sporting activities, provide top sporting venues, provide top sporting competition, but also top patronage.

Top sport has had support from all sections of the sporting community per see.

And so it will be with the new soccer look. Brisbane people will I believe support soccer as they have supported every other major sport that has entered a National competition.

Having said this it must be realised that soccer itself and soccer fans themselves must play their part. Support for the new Brisbane team must not be only by lip service, although that too is important.

The game, and the team Brisbane United should be talked about, should be praised, should be well wished by everyone that has an interest in it.

Besides this there must be a proper inter-relationship between the code itself, the team, the players, the officials, the clubs, the Federation, spectators, supporters, and importantly those who are concerned with the provision of facilities at Perry Park.

There is a wide range of varying bodies and groups all of whom must pull their weight if Brisbane United is to continue the tradition of Brisbane representative sport, because really this Brisbane United team represents soccer as a whole in our State.

Parents who also believe soccer is a great game for their youngsters, must equally believe that it deserves their support, in the interests of the next generation.

One of Brisbane United's most important roles is to portray for the younger generation, the picture of soccer as the game for all of them.

We must relate to them and seek and attract their support.

Another of the primary objectives is to provide a new brand of high class soccer for spectators who love the game, and who so avidly watch so much of it overseas on our television screens.

To have success in attracting people to watch the game we must have the support of the media.

It is hoped that the media will recognise that there is a great challenge not only for the team but for the code in the coming years and will, with the whole soccer fraternity, give the game the support which this new look soccer image will deserve.

Of course gaining media support depends on the fulfilment of all the areas of support and improvement that I have mentioned.

The onus first of all is on soccer itself, and I seek the help of all involved in achieving the goal of excellence which acceptance of Brisbane United into the NSL envisages.

Brisbane United Chairman
Clem Jones

Profile – Brisbane United Chairman

Former Brisbane Lord Mayor Clem Jones O.A. could never be accused of not liking work. You would really have to say "work" is Clem's middle name – he just loves to get things done.

It is great to see this human dynamo at the helm of the Brisbane United project.

Clem has always had a vision for the home of soccer in Queensland and the announcement last Friday of Brisbane's entry into the NSL will no doubt be the catalyst for some exciting redevelopment at Perry Park.

Clem is a true sportsman at heart, he had a great cricket career at the University club, which spanned 30 years.

But most people would remember him as the city's Lord Mayor from 1961 to 1975.

He is remembered for restoring the financially ailing Brisbane Cricket Ground sending them packing to the dogs and rekindling the spirit of one of the world's greatest test arenas.

Clem is very much a doer – when Darwin was blown away in 1975, who did then Prime Minister Gough Whitlam send for to rebuild the city – Clem Jones. The flood disaster of Charleville last year saw Clem into action again.

Since his appointment first as a director and then as Chairman of Brisbane United Clem has put the shoulder to the wheel to help Brisbane United gain entry into the NSL.

When you look at his workload he does not really need this additional task, but he has accepted it willingly to achieve something for his State, his city and more importantly for Queensland soccer.

His aim has always been to make Perry Park self-funding and with the advent of Brisbane United and big representative football, his aim will certainly be achieved.

Brisbane United has the right man at the helm to make a dream very much a reality.

WOMEN'S SOCCER

BRISBANE

Australia's hopes of making the first World Cup were dashed last week when the job of scoring 16 goals was just too much to ask! They needed to score that many against Papua New Guinea to win through, however 8-0 was the best they could manage.

The girls have certainly held their own against New Zealand and were not disgraced.

The following are the results of the tournament.

- New Zealand v Papua New Guinea 16-0 (round one) 11-0 (round two)
- New Zealand v Australia 1-0 (round one) 0-1 (round two)
- Australia v Papua New Guinea 12-0 (round one) 8-0 (round two)

Things are hotting up for the biggest State titles ever in which 10 open teams and seven junior teams will take part.

The titles will take place on the Queens' Birthday weekend, June 8, 9 and 10.

The games will be played at the Womens' headquarters, Atlanta Field, Delaware and Newman Roads, Geebung.

The opening ceremony will take place at 9am on Saturday June 8 and there will follow two full days of top women's soccer, culminating in semi-finals and finals on Monday.

This is the opportunity for those people who are wondering what all the fuss is about women's sport and women's soccer.

Come along, enjoy some top soccer and judge for yourselves if the women are worth watching.

First Division last week is certainly proving my earlier statement this year "The closest first Division ever" correct.

Redlands and Easts, both playing with only ten players, won their respective matches.

Redlands downed first division newcomers Brisbane City 3-0 and Easts were also successful against Redcliffe 3-1.

Coalstars and Annerley couldn't come up with a goal, despite chances, and finished up 0-0.

Wynnum played Nerang down at the coast with the winners being Nerang 2-1.

Congratulations to Andrea Desbois from Kingsridge who finally tied the knot, good on you Mrs Falconer.

PLAYERS WANTED - Any girls living in the Kingston or Woodridge areas, who are interested in playing for Kingsridge please contact Debbie Blake on 808 3459. Players are needed urgently.

NORTH QUEENSLAND

Fred Robbins visited Townsville last weekend to work with our womens and under-16 squads which will contest the State Championships in Brisbane.

North Queensland Soccer Federation under-16 womens squad:

Andna Marklew, Amy Russell, Gabrielle Cairns, Natasha Hull, Tamara Parker, Azra Parker, Peta Hall, Danielle Bos, Jenny Spillane (Souths Wallaroo), Anastasia Namok, Naomi Levi (Idalia Rovers), Toni Plizga, Miranda Jervis (Rebels), Lyndal Piper, Ronelle Stead (Aitkenvale United), Susan Trathen (Polonia). Coach: Peter Hodgkin. Manager: Karen Clifford.

North Queensland Soccer Federation senior representative ladies squad:

Toni-Ann Northwood, Shae Fooks (Estates), Gillian Sharp, Leone Rach, Lou Tankosic, Karen Cassar, Christine Allara, Danielle Eather, Susan Thomas (South Wallaroos), Karen Thompson, Shirlee Srhoj, Donna Feldt, Melanie Robinson (Aitkenvale United), Elizabeth Georgiou, Karen Doyle (M/Olympic), Eleanor Robinson (Wulguru).

SOUTH BURNETT

As in last weekend's match against Nanango, Wondai were forced to grimly defend their 1-0 advantage in the second half of their womens' league match with Kingaroy.

Kingaroy's second half efforts deserved better results but will not count for anything until they start to convert their hard won possession and position into points.

With both teams missing key players, Nanango and Murgon fought out a scoreless draw in their women's match.

Murgon were without defender Helen Eagleson and did well to hold the Blues goal machine Sue Brown.

Murgon were also reduced to ten players for most of the match when referee Bill Larkins marched Nadine Bolger for foul language.

SUNSHINE COAST

In Sunshine Coast Women's soccer, Caloundra maintained their position at the top of the table by beating Coolool 3-0 last weekend.

Caloundra's goals were scored by Lisa Hadley, Cathie Maxworthy and Angela Burns.

Woombye remained in second spot by winning 4-2 against Kawana, with the Woombye goals coming from Debbie Simpson, Jasmin Brown (1 each) and Jenny Aitken (2).

Kylie Claridge and Kelly Bishop were the scorers for Kawana.

The other fixture was won by Beegees who defeated Buderim 1-0.

Round in Review

Brisbane Croatia's Tim Brown tangles with a Brisbane City opponent

Five points is all that separates the top five teams after the completion of Round 10 of the XXXX Soccer League.

With this weekend's fixtures signalling the halfway mark in the competition, so begins the speculation on who will win the premiership, make the finals and be relegated.

Despite losing last weekend, Rochedale Rovers remain on top of the table on 22 points having had seven wins from their 10 games.

Equal leaders are promotion surprise packets Brisbane Croatia, who have won the same number of games as Rochedale but are behind on goal difference.

The league's reigning premiers Brisbane Lions are occupying third place on 20 points, just one in front of North Star, the pre-season premiership favourites.

Interestingly enough these two teams meet each other at O'Callaghan Park this weekend with the result likely to mean more positional changes.

Rounding out the five are "The Entertainers" Pine Rivers who, after a slow start to the season, are really beginning to hit their straps.

Rivers are on 17 points, four clear of Eastern Suburbs and Coalstars, who are both on 13 and in sixth and seventh positions respectively.

The bottom five teams are all within four points of each other - Taringa Rovers (10), Mt Gravatt (9), Brisbane City (8), Acacia Ridge (7) and Nerang (6) making the battle to see who goes down and who stays up extremely interesting.

The match of the round last weekend was without doubt the North Star and Rochedale clash at a waterlogged Underwood Park.

Although North Star emerged muddy 3-2 winners, both teams put on marvellous football feast for fans and a draw probably would have been a fairer result.

Rochedale came back from a 3-0 deficit just after half time to almost snatch a draw in the action-packed final few minutes.

For North Star left back Nick Seeley scored twice with Lorenzo Cucchi grabbing the team's third. Both Rochedale's goals came from Paddy Dillon.

After losing to North Star in Round Nine, Brisbane Croatia bounced back to beat Brisbane City 2-0 at the Croatian Sports Centre.

Frazier Cuba and stocky striker Joe Stipancic found the back of the net to ensure victory.

Brisbane Lions were unconvincing winners over Nerang at Richlands Stadium where the game was a lot closer than the 2-0 scoreline indicated.

Lions did not score their first goal until the 81st minute, when Wayne Corbett hit from close range, with the second coming from a Frank Mengotti penalty well into injury time.

Over at Heath Park Eastern Suburbs continued their form revival by posting their second consecutive victory.

Thanks to goals from Geoff Maltby and stopper Stein Grodum Easts were able to account for the luckless Acacia Ridge who have now lost six in a row.

Coalstars, rocked by resignations and injuries to key players during the week, held Taringa Rovers to a scoreless draw at the Eric Evans Soccer Reserve.

According to reports both teams had chances to win the match, but bad finishing proved to be the teams' undoing.

In the other match played last weekend Pine Rivers hosted Mt Gravatt at Wendy Allison Park and fashioned a 3-1 victory.

Substitute striker Wayne McGauley scored a double with Steven Kluss adding to the total while Mt Gravatt's lone goal came from Jarrod Austin.

New QSF GM

The President of the Queensland Soccer Federation, Mr Wallace Dann, announced last week that Mr Ross Melville had been appointed to the position of General Manager of the Queensland Soccer Federation. Ross brings to the Federation a wide range of administrative experience combined with a life term involvement with Queensland Soccer both at a Junior and Senior level.

In the mid to the late 60's he was a prominent first division player and, when he retired from playing, took on junior coaching roles and then progressed through a variety of club administrative positions to eventually serve as a Club President for 13 years.

He has had a long term involvement with community affairs and in 1984 was awarded the prestigious Lions International Award for outstanding community service.

Before his retirement from the Queensland Police Service he was instrumental in introducing to Queensland the highly successful Neighbourhood Watch program and the internationally acclaimed Crime Stoppers program.

In 1990 he was awarded the Queensland Police Imperial Medal for good conduct and long service. His administrative capabilities are strongly underpinned by academic achievements of excellence.

During the decade of the 1980's he was awarded a Bachelor of Administration from Griffith University which then prompted him to complete a Masters Degree in Public Administration from the University of Queensland. Prior to that he had successfully undertaken a Diploma in Recreational Management in New South Wales.

He possesses a strong interest and history in the concepts of "marketing for not-for-profit organisations", and in 1985 was awarded an Australasian Scholarship to study in Canada, USA and the United Kingdom.

His qualifications and experiences combined with conceptual and analytical skills provides him with a track record of success in making new initiatives happen.

The QSF Management Committee believes Ross is ideally suited to guide Queensland Soccer through an exciting period of development during the 1990s.

REGIONAL DIRECTOR OF COACHING

Twelve weeks have passed since my appointment as Regional Director of coaching, Brisbane and West Moreton district.

May I first thank all those who have made my transition a smooth one. It's certainly been a question of hitting the boards running.

The decision from both Brisbane Junior Associations to take the unprecedented step of paying for club coaches on Level I coaching courses has been met with an extremely positive response.

I am pleased that with the capable assistance of qualified instructors, we will be able to hold 16 Level I courses by mid-June, catering for over 250 participants.

The coaching of coaches is of course a high priority. We are pleased at the numbers coming through but more importantly, we hope that the quality of the course has met the needs of candidates.

My thanks go to instructors Peter Bannon, Gordon Arrowsmith, Steve Faulkner, Barry Guyett, Reg Dyer, Eric Thompson and John Browett who have helped service clubs.

For any further information in this area contact Stewart Holmes 209 5585.

BRISBANE NORTH

The new smile on Brisbane Regional Director of Coaching Stewart Holmes' face is the brand new Holden Barina.

The new car replaces the vehicle Stew has become famous for since his appointment and allows him to get around a little quicker and in some comfort.

The car is a perk of the Regional Directors position which many envy.

However, the long road distances which are part of the job demands a vehicle to be available every day.

The firm of Armstrong Holden assisted with the purchase of the vehicle by providing a package which suited the Associations' involved with Stewart's contract.

Stewart Holmes is seen here with Graham Lederhouse representing Brisbane South, John Sullivan President of Brisbane North and Rod Knaggs of Armstrong Holden at the handover of the vehicle last week.

There are few people who have the talent and determination to achieve as quickly as Andrew Garwood-Gowers and his brother Peter.

Likewise his younger brother had never played in competition football before coming to Australia.

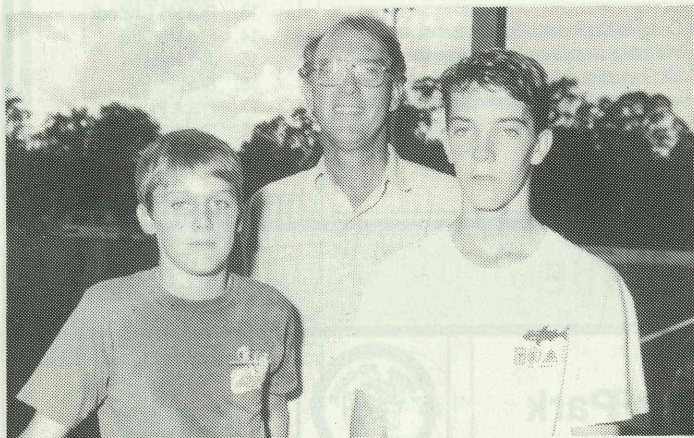

The family just two years ago lived in one of the now partially destroyed cities in the Middle East.

Andrew plays for Toowong where his father David is an official with the under-15-division 1 team and just to make life a little difficult Peter plays for the Taringa club in the under-12 division.

Peter in his first year of competitive football has made it to the Brisbane North under-12 representative team to play in the Harry Linning Cup at Co-alstars this year.

It has been a long time since Brisbane North has had brothers in Representative Teams, Zone and State Squad in the one year.

Congratulations and good luck to you both.

Proud father David with sons Andrew and Peter

Andrew with his family arrived in Australia less than two years ago. Before that Andrew had only played in minor school competition football, but in 1991 he has been selected in the Brisbane North Representative Team.

Although he did not play in too many full games the State Coach thought enough of him to select him into the State Squad for the National Titles in September.

BRISBANE SOUTH

This week saw some disruption to junior fixtures with all games cancelled at Redlands and Loganholme as well as games on field one at Mt Gravatt and Rochedale.

Some heavy falls were received at fields whilst games were in progress.

Souths United verses Loganholme under-12 division 1 game at Souths bore the brunt of the heavy falls with the rain pouring down just before half time.

The second half started the same before it eased off.

The players all appeared to enjoy playing in the rain although the heavy field played havoc with the usual good football both teams do play.

The under-13 division 1 clash between two of the leading teams, Souths United and Rochedale was also played in wet conditions.

The game was a hard and tough encounter with little difference between the two teams.

The only goal in the game gave Souths the points on the day.

During my visit to Souths I overheard a conversation between father and son (about six years old).

I had to smile and enjoyed the thought that our under-7 players are enjoying their games without placing too much emphasis on winning.

Little chap, dressed in full playing gear, walked towards the canteen side by side with dad.

He looked up at dad and said "I did play well hey Dad! I'm the cleanest one in my team."

Dads reply was just as nice, "yes son, well done."

I guess after a refreshing drink from canteen both father and son headed home after their enjoyable morning together, and well done to them both.

Mum would have been equally pleased with the good news too I bet. I hope there are more just like you out there young fellow.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Sir,

Congratulations on the success of the Brisbane United bid, but please do all soccer followers a favour and ensure that the media, especially those bastions of unbiased reporting, The Courier and Sunday Mails, are kept informed of all progress and developments concerning Brisbane United.

In that way, the minuscule space allotted soccer by the Sports Editors may include some positive and constructive comments instead of the negative reporting we have had to read for the past 6-12 months.

W. Atterton

Dear Sir,

I am writing to express my disgust at the discrimination against women in soccer. I had this brought to my attention rather forcefully at a recent soccer game.

I am the manager of an under-15 team. Our coach and his wife both currently play soccer. The coach is a shift worker and cannot always make the games or training nights.

Last Tuesday, I raced home from work to train the boys, as did the coach's wife, however only three boys turned up to train.

This team is fresh and we had arranged some activities to help the boys get to know each other as well as improve their team skills.

On the weekend 13 boys turned up to play and I decided not to play my son.

For the first half I left our 12 year old off (again), but, for the second half I put him on as I felt he had paid his dues and had the right to play. I pulled a fullback off and re-arranged three players.

One of the fathers complained about the boys being re-arranged, and that they didn't know what they were doing or what position they were playing. I told him that this problem was because they had not turned up for training.

He told me that while females were doing the training, the boys would not be turning up and that I must realize that these boys are not kids and they won't stand for a female training them.

I don't know about other mothers but I consider my 13-year-old to be a child and my 16-year-old, who is currently a member of the under 16 representative team, is quite happy to have me give him extra training. (I coached his team for three years and am a qualified level 1 coach). This father has made no offer to assist with training the boys.

If this father believes that I, as a level 1 coach and the coach's wife as a player, are not knowledgeable enough to train juniors adequately, do other men involved in the soccer fraternity share this discriminatory belief?

We have two women involved with our team who currently play soccer for the club.

Perhaps the men don't realize that in the majority of cases it is mum who take the boys to the games and buys their gear.

All parents should realize that the coach has the final say and if he is unavailable, then the manager is in charge.

I'm sure the boys are embarrassed when their parent causes a scene as this father has at every game we have played.

At one game the referee left the field and came over to tell him to "shut up".

At last week's game he argued with the linesman who offered to let him take over, but he declined.

In conclusion, wake up Queensland soccer, and give women credit where credit is due.

As for the parents, put your hand up when coaches are being called for or let those who are prepared to help the kids do their job.

Maggie Whitney.

Dear Sir,

The fixture between Queensland and New South Wales was the first senior soccer match I have attended for some time.

It was a most enjoyable match. It would have been much more enjoyable if Soccer '91 was considerate enough to include the players' numbers in the program.

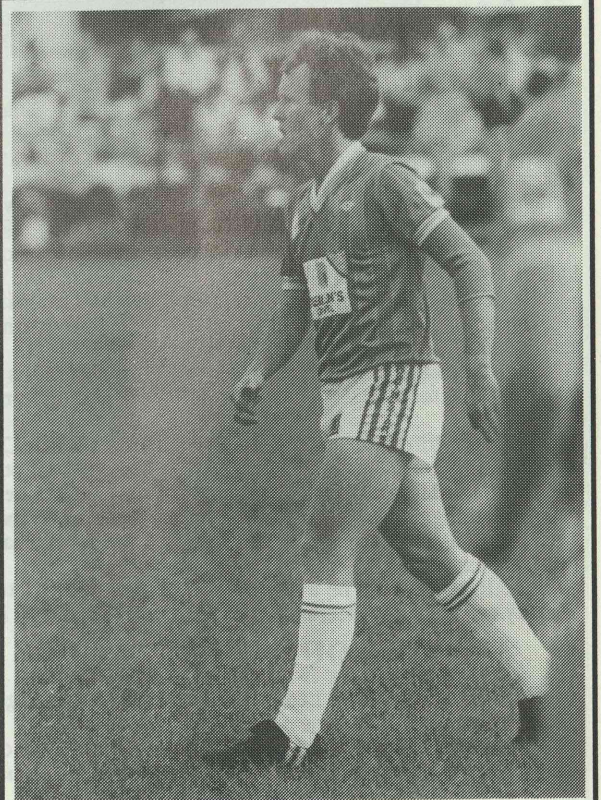

Yours faithfully,
Chris Nelson

Player Profile

PLAYING THE GAME RIGHT with Bruce Stowell

In passing, so far, the emphasis has been on quality and possession.

However, the most telling pass in the game is the through-ball; the pass which goes PAST opponents, the more opponents the better.

Unfortunately the attempt we see most often at our level is a big boot downfield for the forwards to chase.

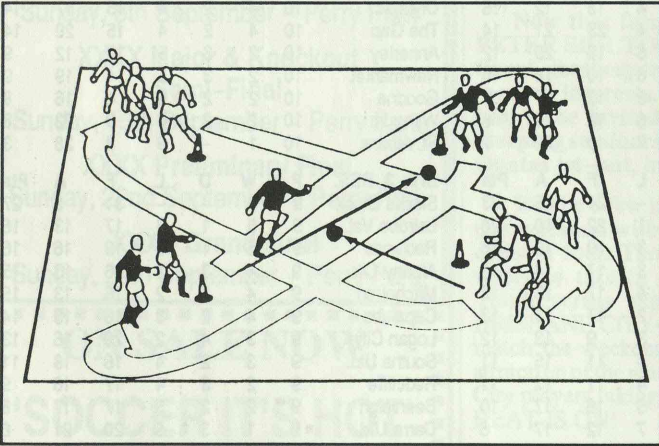

Ninety per cent of these finish up dead or in the opposing goalkeeper's hands.

It is an easy matter to get the ball into the opponents' danger area.

It is even easier to get a player into the opponents' danger area. But it is extremely difficult to get both players and ball there at the same time and that is what the through pass is all about.

THROUGH BALL DRILL

This drill simulates in a very basic way, under slight pressure, a through ball situation except that the receiver player is facing the passer instead of moving up-field.

PREPARATION

Split the players into two groups then split them in half again, each half in a line facing the other as shown in the diagram. There should be a good passing distance between each half. Cones are useful in reminding players of distances.

PROCEDURE

The first player in each line passes to the first player in the line opposite then runs to the back of that line. Meanwhile the two halves of the team at right angles to them are doing the same thing.

NOTES

1 On the face of it this is a simple drill, but there is need for care in the timing of the pass to avoid the ball striking a player or a ball running across from the other group. It is also good practice for the players having parted with the ball, running forward and looking around at the same time. Although in this case players are looking to avoid contact, what they are doing is also part of the skill of running onto a through ball.

2 Part of the fun of this drill is the collisions which occur and the penalties they incur. Be very alert to spot who is (or are) at fault in each case and give them penalty runs or exercises.

3 Encourage players to talk and give information. Players tend to become absorbed in this practice and perform in silence.

VARIATIONS

1 Players can become ultra-cautious in trying to avoid mistakes and the practice can become artificially slow. If necessary, reduce the number of touches to three or even two.

2 Allow players to chip the ball as an alternative to passes along the ground, but keep an eye on the quality.

Next week we look at the second part of the "Through Ball Opposed Practice".

Letters to The Editor

Dear Sir,

Congratulations from the A.S.R.F. and A.A.S.R.F. to the Queensland Soccer Federation, on their entry of Brisbane United into National soccer league.

This will give the A.S.R.F. members a chance to better their refereeing standard by, refereeing a top standard of football and to see southern referees in action and also to give the A.A.S.R.F. members something to work for in the future.

SAMFORD MATCH REPORT

Division 4: Samford 2 d Clairvaux Griffith 0.

Samford Rangers continued their unbeaten run at home with a convincing win over the recently merged Clairvaux Griffith.

After a lethargic start Samford settled down to play controlled football and hit the lead when John Henderson took on the defence only to be cut down by a visiting defender.

Craig Binnington's spot kick was clinical and the score remained to the break.

Two serious injuries saw us have to reorganise but substitutes Chris Tanzer and Craig Hughes fitted snugly into the defence to ensure Brown Park remained a graveyard for visiting teams.

Midway through the second session Gavin McLeod confirmed the three points when he rounded the keeper.

Later a Greg Morrison blast was brilliantly saved while David Williams had one cleared off the line.

With our next two matches at home Samford are well placed if good enough.

PINE HILL MATCH REPORT

Division 4: Pine Hills 3 d North Pine 0.

With so many 35 year olds still running around in the fourth division it was so refreshing to witness a game where the average age throughout both teams was less than 20 years.

Don't misinterpret what I say, there is definitely a place in every team for an old head, but too many clubs are not prepared to give the younger section a go.

Hills started very strongly pressuring the Pines defence and attacking strongly.

Peter Tong eventually broke the deadlock after latching onto a Anthony Beelgy through ball.

Pines came back strong in the second half forcing several good sales from Hills' 'keeper Brett Loughheed.

Stuart Purcell found himself in lots of space and used it well, releasing all forward with some accurate passes.

With nothing to lose Pines pushed forward but could not penetrate Hills defence.

Pines backline persisted with the offside trap but found themselves square and repeatedly exposed by Hills forwards.

Phil Kelly fought hard for his goal and Peter Tong once again finished off a good team move to give Hills a convincing 3-0 victory.

FROM REDCLIFFE CITY SOCCER CLUB

It's on it's way at last - Redcliffe City Soccer Club have finally had their plans for their new clubhouse approved by local Council. Club President, Frank Redmond, said that club stalwarts had put a lot of time and effort into the realisation of a dream.

"We are launching a fund-raising appeal on June 16 at Bradley Park and would like to extend an invitation to all former-players, club members and interested parties to get down to the park and have a ball," he said.

The new clubhouse will be at lock-up stage by the end of this season and ready for full use by the start of season '92.

REFEREE, on overhearing a threat of a headbutt in a division four match, warned the one mouthing off he had better not. Lucky he heeded the warning. Such assaults earn up to six months enforced rest, and rightly so. Spitting on another player, referee or spectator is another low act.

Certain high-ranking personage in women's soccer gunning for writer of item in daily press questioning decision of putting a women's match on as a curtain-raiser to State of Origin game. Lady is now back from interstate, so if he sees her heading in his direction waving a press clipping he should hit the toe real fast.

Now that former England goalkeeper PETER SHILTON has quit his job as national goalkeeper coach to pursue other football interests, wouldn't it be great for him to be invited to Our Great State for 'keeping seminars'? Time may not permit a Qantas jet-out, but it's a thought.

Will be a few lost souls around the ridges this weekend with no matches set down for division four. Turn to the centre pages for where to take in a XXXX League match. Youth versus experience could make the BRISBANE CITY-ROCHEDALE ROVERS match the weekend's feature game. Another attraction of the match is the number of former City players taking the park for Rovers. THE HEAT IS ON!

Entertaining end-to-end football, a string of passes that found a man in the same coloured shirt the majority of time, a lot of very good shots at goal, and the unusual sight of a 'keeper wearing number four on his back instead of the traditional number one. To find out which teams, thumb through to nearly the back cover of the fixtures book to pinpoint last Friday night's division nine match between NEWMARKET and TARINGA ROVERS which finished in scoreless draw. Enjoyed the good humour of the sideline experts and the linesman. A few laughs does us all the world of good.

Although a tremendous amount of time, effort, hair-pulling, teeth-gnashing and palpitations of the heart went into our successful submission for entry into the National Soccer League, compared with what lays ahead that was the easy part. Let us get behind BRISBANE UNITED and its success in the NSL will be shared by all of us.

Two enormous plus points for BRISBANE UNITED is having 'Mr. Brisbane,' former Lord Mayor CLEM JONES as chairman, and MIRON BLEIBERG as coach. Pen pictures of both gentlemen will appear in the pages of SOCCKER 91, but enough to say that a lot of people are very impressed by the involvement of Jones and Bleiberg.

The Queensland team who defeated New South Wales a fortnight ago, and those who supported the game by fronting up at the turnstiles should also take a bow for their part in our NSL acceptance. Our convincing win plus b...s on seats helped to convince the ASF Commissioners that we can be competitive and are prepared to support the game. Believe you me, we had some mighty tough cookies south of the border doing their darndest to make sure Brisbane United on behalf of Queensland did not get a spot.

Very pleasing to hear our Australian President JOHN CONSTANTINE on national radio support our inclusion in the NSL, making it very clear that the vast number of juniors playing soccer in Queensland was also a deciding factor. BRISBANE UNITED GETS EVERYONE EXCITED!

SEIZE THE MOMENT! Pine Rivers replacement striker WAYNE MCGAULEY certainly made the most of his selection to take over from injured Noel Carroll in Rivers 3-1 defeat of Mt. Gravatt. Wayne scored twice, making Bobby Hamilton's job of whose hot and who's not for his team's clash with Nerang very difficult. Will Wayne get the nod? Will Noel get back on the playing sheet? Has Bobby another dark horse in the Rivers' stable of talent? Stay tuned folks, for the next episode of "The Entertainers."

Tips for the second round country fixtures in the AMPOL CUP. A revitalised Gold Coast and Albert S.F. to earn the points against their hinterland neighbours Nerang, Mackay to get entertainment but no joy from their match against the Pine Rivers speedsters, Rochedale Rovers to be too strong for Mt Isa and Bundaberg and Brisbane City to take it to penalties with Bundaberg getting the nod.
