Taringa contains City to draw

Brisbane City bounced back from their first loss of the season mid-week to secure a valuable point against Taringa Rovers in their 1-1 draw at Spencer Park on Sunday.

Taringa, who had won six of their last seven games, dominated the first half but struggled to hold a rampant City in the second stanza as the competition leaders moved into top gear.

Taringa converted their early dominance midway through the first half after Anthony McCulloch's cross found teenage midfielder Joel Douglas unmarked in the Brisbane City box.

Douglas coolly bundled the ball into the City net to score his third goal of the year and give the visitors a well deserved lead.

McCulloch had a golden opportunity to extend the lead minutes later but his shot was well saved by City keeper Daniel Duke.

City's best chances in the first half fell to striker Steve Glockner, but he was denied by the crossbar and Taringa custodian Jason Lucas, allowing Taringa to lead 1-0 at halftime.

City coach Bobby Hamilton's half time talk proved the perfect tonic for his lacklustre side and they tied the game only two minutes after the break.

Former Taringa player and now Brisbane City's midfielder, Cameron Pearse had to work hard last weekend

Substitute Ian Hutchison, playing in his first game after a stint with the Brisbane Strikers, played a one-two with Cameron Pearse before finding striker Warren Cooley with an accurate cross.

Cooley volleyed the ball past a stranded Lucas to score his tenth goal of the year and provide the catalyst for a revitalised City onslaught.

City laid siege on the Taringa goal and it was only the outstanding work of Lucas and a stubborn Rover's defence led by Paul Worroll that kept Rovers in the game.

Damien Waugh, Cooley and Glockner all went close for City before Taringa almost snatched the points in the dying minutes when substitute Martin Matula's tame effort was saved by Duke with only the keeper to beat

New faces in State squad

XXXX State team coach Juan Cutillas will be adding another three names to his squad set to take on the New South Wales Soccerblues at Perry Park on June 17.

Cutillas has already announced that NSL players Brian MacNicol of Heidelberg and John Koch from the Parramatta Eagles, would come into the squad to replace injured Brisbane Strikers players Alan Hunter and Chris Slater.

He will also bring in another three players from the XXXX League to help strengthen the squad's depth.

At this stage North Star duo Michael Brockwell and Fraser Cuba, Lions' hard worker Craig Priddy, Rochdale dynamo Andy Lees, and City's leading scorer Warren Cooley would be the frontrunners for the three extra spots.

Hunter and Slater would have been ruled out anyway due to a lack of match fitness, which was also the reason Chay Hews lost his spot.

"The Strikers players are now in the situation where they must follow their Club's program," Cutillas said.

"Because they are not playing in the XXXX League, they are not match fit and are unable to play.

"It's not easy letting them go because they played such an important role on tour in New Zealand, but there is no way they will be in the right sort of condition."

Koch and MacNicol were unavailable to tour last month due to work commitments but both have been playing in the New South Wales and Victorian State Leagues with Warringah Freshwater and Albion Redsox respectively.

Socceroo and South Melbourne star Jason Polak will be unavailable for the Perry Park clash due to the International match between the Socceroos and Ghana in Perth on June 18.

Pine Rivers' Striker Lee Scriggins will also be unavailable for the Perry Park encounter due to work commitments in England, but should be on hand for the return match in Coffs Harbour on July 9.

Coming back into the squad will be City's solid defender Mark Greer.

Cutillas said he was not worried by the strength of the Soccerblues squad, which boasted a host of NSL stars from Sydney United and Sydney Olympic.

"I'm not scared," he said. "We put practically a XXXX League rep side against them last year and beat them."

"I have so much faith in my players because what they lack in NSL experience they make up for in courage and determination.

"They want to play for Queensland." *

EDITORIAL

The Olyroos put in a near flawless display last Saturday night at Suncorp Stadium when they handed English Premier League side West Ham United a 4-0 thrashing. The young Australians were nothing short of superb and despite the fact that only two regular first team players were on the park for West Ham (Simon Webster and Don Hutchison), all of the West Ham side were full-time professional players playing for an English Premier League club. Because of this, people should not take anything away from the Olyroos' victory. With the Olyroos handing out thrashings like that, maybe some of these touring sides will get the message and see that Australian soccer is climbing the world rankings, and we are not a nation to be taken lightly. Hopefully in the future we may see these touring sides putting their strongest teams on the park. In any case, it all looks extremely promising for Australian soccer, with the Olyroos performing at such a high level and the Coca-Cola Joeys, Australia's Under 17 team, qualifying last week for the Under 17 World Youth Championships, after defeating New Zealand 1-0.

Still on the West Ham match, no doubt many people would have been disappointed with the poor promotion of the match in the leadup to the occasion. The fact is that neither the QSF nor the ASF were involved with bringing the touring side over. This was done by an independent sporting promotional company, and because of this neither of the two Federations had a genuine say in the promotion and overall running of the two-match series. This was evident in the fairly average crowd that was in attendance of just under 7,000, which was a little more than half the number of people that watched the Socceroos play Colombia earlier in the year, in a match that was heavily promoted and professionally organised. Despite these shortcomings however, the crowd was extremely vocal the match very entertaining, and by all reports was enjoyed by most.

Dear Sir,

I have been reading recently of the impending return to Australia of Frank Farina, and am extremely hopeful that he will choose Brisbane Strikers as his new club. I feel that a little bit of encouragement from his Brisbane followers would help with his decision. My family are keen Strikers supporters, attending every home match, and would love to look forward to next season with a player of Frank's standing in our team.

Could you provide his address, or forward this letter to him to know that he will have great support from we Queenslanders. I urge all other loyal Strikers supporters to write to Frank, urging him to choose us, I am sure he would never regret this decision. Queensland is the best State in Australia!

Yours faithfully TW Hill, Rochedale.

This is a great idea, as I am sure the entire Queensland soccer fraternity would be eager to see Frank return to the Sunshine State. We will set up a mailbox here at Eye On Soccer and forward all letters, urging Frank to come to Brisbane, on to he and his family. So come on all you Strikers supporters, get your pens out and let's get behind the campaign to bring back Frank. Ed.

Dear Ed,

I wish to express my extreme disappointment at the side put on the park by West Ham manager Harry Redknapp for the > game against the Olyroos at Suncorp Stadium on Saturday night. Don't get me wrong, I thought the young Aussies were outstanding and it put to shame the performance we witnessed in the European and Scottish Cup Finals.

Mr Redknapp commented after being played off the park that his team only had one first team player out there. That may well be a fine excuse but what about the public who went to the game expecting to see the side that beat Liverpool and Blackburn recently and who thwarted Man Utd's Premiership hopes. The game should have been advertised as West Ham reserves. I think the crowd would have been a lot smaller if it had.

As one Hammers supporter shouted out: "If you wanted a holiday, you should have gone to Butlins!"

Fortunately we witnessed some great performances from the Olyroos, which showed us that the future of soccer at international level in this country remains very rosy indeed.

Bob Ford, Daisy Hill.

Your comments seem very fair indeed, and you are not the only person to express disappointment in West Ham's performance. The only thing I would say however, is that despite the fact that only two regular first team players were on the park (Captain Simon Webster was returning from injury), all of the men in the claret and blue strips were still full-time professional footballers playing for a Premier League Club. These men are continually exposed to some of the world's best players and were comprehensively beaten by an Australian Under 23 side, without a few of the bigger stars like Mark Viduka, Craig Moore and Gabriel Mendez. As you said, the future of Australian soccer does look to be extremely promising. Ed

Pine Rivers break drought

By Marco Monteverde

After a frustrating opening ten matches Pine Rivers finally recorded their first win of the season with a 2-1 victory over Grange Thistle at Lanham Park last Friday night.

New signing Lee Scriggins' 81st minute header proved to be the winner for Rivers, who battled hard for the three points.

For Rivers coach Gerry Lindsay there was a feeling of great relief at the game's conclusion.

"It didn't come easy. The pressure was there on the lads," Lindsay said.

His side got away to a flying start taking the lead after only eight minutes through Dene Almond, who capitalised on good work from Robert Marschner on the left to slot the ball home from close range past Nathan Higgins in the Thistle goal.

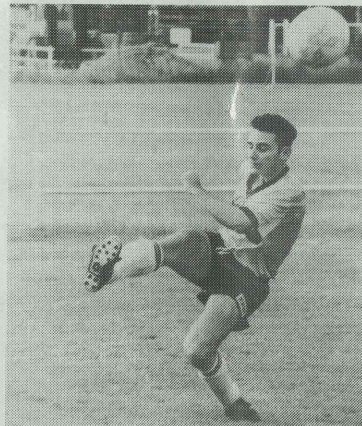

Thistle had the chance to reply in the 16th minute, but Wayne McGauley's shot was well saved by Rivers custodian Peter Underhill.

Scriggins nearly got on the scoresheet in the 34th minute after a Kiely Calleja (pictured) cross. His header went straight to Higgins.

The visitors could have again doubled their lead in injury time of the first half when a Clayton Koch cross was headed on to the bar by Almond, with the rebound falling for the same player whose header was this time cleared off the line.

Grange came out firing after the break against a strangely subdued Rivers side who seemed to leave their best in the locker room.

It therefore came as no surprise to see Thistle get back on level terms in the 54th minute through Damien Lundberg, who got on the end of an Effie Cassar deflected cross, to guide the ball home.

Slowly Rivers got back into the swing of the game as they searched for that elusive winner.

Young Higgins was his side's saviour in the 63rd minute with a great double save. He firstly parried a fierce Scriggins drive, and then recovered to hold on to Calleja's shot from the rebound.

Thistle held on until nine minutes from time before Scriggins' winner. A beautiful first time cross from Graham Eden was powerfully met by the Queensland representative, whose bullet-like header left Higgins with no chance.

The home side had one final chance to equalise in the 85th minute through goalscorer Lundberg, but this time he placed his angled shot wide of the post.

Scriggins' winner proved to Lindsay that the outlay his club made was well worth it.

"He's scoring goals and he's a good target man," Lindsay said.

He conceded, however, there was still work to be done, and was not happy with his side's performance after half time.

"We lost the plot early in the second half."

FROM THE SIDELINE

What are the odds? A resident Cockney of some eight years, took time at the West Ham game last Saturday, to go to the bar for a round of drinks. As he stepped back from the bar with his tray full, he bumped into someone behind him and apologised. The person he bumped into was a stalwart West Ham supporter, who had followed the team all the way from England and just happened to be a former drinking buddy of the Cockney before he migrated to Australia. Lucky for them there were only 7000 spectators in attendance at the game.

The quarter finals of the 1995 XXXX Queensland Cup have been set down for Wednesday June 7 and Saturday June 10 at Perry Park. The Wednesday double header will feature Taringa Rovers and North Star at 6.30pm, with Pine Rivers and Brisbane City set to fight out the later game at 8.30pm. The double header on Saturday night sees Willowburn and Coalstars do battle in the early game at 5.00pm, while Brisbane Lions and Rochedale will contest the late match at 7.00pm. Don't forget to get out to Perry Park to support your club next week.

Galaxy TV's Premier Sports Network (PSN) will televise the 1995 International Soccer Challenge live and exclusively, commencing on Saturday June 3. The tournament will be fought out by 1996 European Champion hosts England, reigning World Cup Champions Brazil, World Cup semi-finalists, Sweden, and home of the exciting new J-League, Japan. The round robin tournament commences with a live telecast from 11pm on June 3 of the clash between England and Japan. The tournament should be an ideal leadup for next year's European Championships.

WOMEN'S SOCCER

The visiting women's team from the William and Mary College in Virginia USA finished their tour of Australia on a winning note by defeating the QAS 3-1 at Dittmer Park last Monday night.

The QAS girls came out on the attack in the first half and went into the break with a handy 1-0 lead.

A Bryony Duus thunderbolt from 25 metres out hit the crossbar before deflecting off the keeper onto the boot of Kylie Terry, who slotted the ball home.

The visitors regrouped after the break and showed they too could hit a ball (and their opponents) with enormous power.

All three goals were from long range, the first one, a sensational curling rocket by Ann Cook from around thirty metres, which left QAS keeper Belinda Kitching with no chance.

The match was a highly entertaining affair, with the QAS girls playing some great football, but unable to match the finishing prowess of their highly regarded opponents.

The Friday night before a Brisbane North representative side played defensively to hold the American girls to a 1-1 draw.

Being exactly half-way through the season, those clubs with aspirations to a higher division, now must be taking stock. Conversely those languishing in the nether reasons, now know that, as they are on the downhill run, to the end of season, points are more crucial than ever.

In Division 2 Beenleigh has skipped to a six point lead, however it's very tight from second to 5th position inclusive. University are getting more stranded every week. Capalaba in Division 3, are still unbeaten and have a seven point jump, the waters are slightly muddied for the second promotional spot, whilst The Gap appears to have fallen into a hole. At the bottom North Pine and Latrobe now have to start looking over their shoulder.

Far too tight to call anything in Division 4, as only two wins separates 1st from 5th, so it will be a most interesting second half of the season, at the bottom Pine Hills, Oxley and to a lesser degree Loganholme, looking to battle out the relegation issue.

Bayside still looking good for one promotion spot in Division 5, with University, whilst out of the running for promotion, look to almost have a mortgage on second spot. Very tight for semi final positions in this Division.

Logan City retaining a good hold on the Division 6 title, Capalaba sewing up second spot, with a rather large jump to the remaining places, Saints not having a very enjoyable time at the opposite end.

The only team with a 100% record in our competition is Margate at the top of Division 7, and incredibly they only have a three point lead, their nearest rival is Park Ridge, however it falls away quite dramatically to third and to the rest of the table. In Division 8 The Gap have skipped to a lead, after demolishing co-leaders Kingsridge last week, but look how tight it is for positions 2 - 5 inclusive. The two Division Nines are well into their second Round, and hopefully, are still enjoying their football.

Division 2

Both home sides on Saturday night should finish up with a win, City over Inala and Beenleigh over Acacia Ridge, even though the latter one will be much harder.

On Sunday, Nerang to down South's, St Albans to do it tough against Rocklea, but they might just get one point, St Helens to down University, with Mt Gravatt with to have a rare win over visitors Olympic.

Division 3

The two day matches in this Division should see good home wins with Annerley over Latrobe, and The Gap, currently running into a head wind, to overcome North Pine. At night Redlands will find it much tougher against a resurgent Goodna and they will be lucky to survive a draw, whilst the battle of the big guns will be between Capalaba and Albany Creek, and with this being "make or break", an away win will not surprise.

On Sunday Mitchelton should come good over Newmarket, however Clairvaux will not be too happy with the visit of Slacks Creek.

Division 4

It looks to be most definitely a case of Visitors Day on Saturday, with all the away sides tipped, Eagles to enjoy a visit to South Star, Brothers likewise over Oxley, whilst Darra will look to get back on track at the expense of Loganholme. At night Moggill should be too strong for Ipswich.

On Sunday Redcliffe will be looking to down another high flier when they entertain leaders West's, whilst the battle in the Western Suburbs will take place between Pine Hills and Samford, the question being, can Pine Hills break through for a rare win?

Division 5

There's a mixed bag of matches on Saturday afternoon, mid-table Greenbank take on third placed Woodridge and may just keep the points, the battle for second place is between Uni and St Helen's, with the home side favoured, Jimboomba and Goodna is almost a battle for the bottom four, home side may keep the points. Bayside will be too strong for Bethania, whilst Olympic will get back in the winning spot over Slacks Creek. In the match on Sunday Browns Plains will get three points at the expense of The Gap.

Division 6

Two contrasting matches on Friday night with Acacia Ridge to down Beenleigh, meanwhile South's will really have to pull out all stops against visitors Capalaba, but with little success. On Saturday Redland's will be too strong for St Helen's, whilst the match between Olympic and Mt Gravatt will be much closer with the home side narrowly tipped.

Two matches Sunday will be of contrasting fortunes, Mitchelton will not enjoy the visit of Logan City, whilst Inala will be too strong for Annerley.

Division 7

In the Saturday matches, Bayside will be too strong for Mt Gravatt, Uni will struggle against Mooroondu, Jimboomba will have no joy with visitors Margate, whilst at night Albany Creek will enjoy the visit by Darra. On Sunday second place Park Ridge make the short trip to Clairvaux where they will enjoy themselves, meanwhile down on the Peninsula, Redcliffe will have too many guns for Newmarket.

A Park Ridge player mounts a challenge on his Margate opponent during a Division 7 encounter

Division 8

One match on Friday will see Acacia Ridge entertaining leaders The Gap, with the points to go back to Walton Bridge. Four matches on Saturday will see Olympic down Park Ridge, Samford similarly will topple Mooroondu, Kingsridge will have another tough match against North Pine, a score draw will not surprise. Albany Creek to pick up three points in the twilight match against Southside Eagles. On Sunday, strugglers Pine Hills and Annerley will meet with the home side favoured.

Division 9A

Two matches on Friday night, and it would appear, on paper at least, that fortunes will favour the visitors, Grange to enjoy their trip to Wynnum, Lions to have no further success with their visitors from Capalaba. On Saturday the match between Pine Hills and Brisbane Lions will be close but Lions should take the points, Kingsridge will certainly not enjoy entertaining Taringa, whilst Coal Stars and Margate will be much closer, home side narrowly favoured.

Division 9B

In the match on Friday night Wynnum will be too strong for Brisbane City, a closer one will take place between Lions and Redland's on Saturday with the away side narrowly favoured, and in the two matches on Sunday, Gap will put up a good fight against Taringa, but alas at the end of the day the points will depart, and in the final match, Browns Plains will be too strong for Brisbane Lions. *

READ between the LINES

All the goss with Brent Read

Halfway through the season, the teams in the race for the premiership have begun to become more clear cut in all the divisions.

In the XXXX League, Brisbane City have led all the way, and although suffering some minor hiccups recently, continue to bound along in front.

City were at rather attractive odds early in the race but have shortened considerably and assumed short-price favouritism.

Their biggest danger at this stage appears to be coming from an in-form Rochedale side, starting to hit their stride and making an impression on the City lead.

Notoriously good finishers, Rochedale have the power to make a real charge in the kick for home and possess some of the best finishing power in the race.

Going about their business quietly, North Star remain in contention and their odds are shortening each week. Some idiot had them at 15 to 1 pre-season. They'll be looking to make a run soon and are the only team to beat the leaders this season.

Taringa also remain in contention but appear a little boxed in at this stage and need to rely on one or more of the leaders stumbling to make up ground.

After a slow start, they're beginning to run into some sort of form and look likely to make ground as the race continues.

Of the rest Brisbane Lions look the best bet to make some charge as the season progresses, under the guidance of their new trainer.

One of the more astute and experienced trainers in the game, he'll have Lions primed for a big second half of the race.

Wynnum are the rank outsiders to finish in the placings whilst the rest of the field can write their own tickets.

At the bottom, the battle for relegation looks to be a race of five, with Grange Thistle in a dangerous rut that has seen them slip back to the backmarkers.

In the lower divisions, Beenleigh look odds-on to join the XXXX League next season whilst Capalaba's off-season recruits have strengthened their chances of moving up to the penultimate division.

Away from the local league, the Olyroos clash with an understrength West Ham side once again illustrated the young talent in Australian soccer.

Whilst the Hammers played few of their stars, the players were all professionals and copped a flogging from our youth side.

Suncorp Stadium, mooted as a possible site for future Strikers games, comfortably seated the 7000 strong crowd and retained a decent atmosphere without the big crowd. *

XXXX SOCCER LEAGUE - ROUND 12

ROCHEDALE ROVERS v WYNNUM DISTRICT

Underwood Park, Rochedale, Saturday June 3, 7.00pm
Referee - V Dogan

Rochedale showed how good they can be with a 7-0 trouncing of Willowburn last weekend. Form like this should see them to victory over the Wolves.

Wynnum had their first loss in four games last weekend and have been knocked out of the five by Lions. They must keep winning to stay in finals contention.

MATCH WINNERS

Kieran Cooper's five goals last week destroyed Willowburn and ensured he was the League's leading scorer for the first half of the season. He will have to be marked well.

Wynnum's Billy McDermott has been a little unlucky in recent games but has shown he can wreak havoc in any defensive line.

NORTH STAR v TARINGA ROVERS

O'Callaghan Park, Zillmere, Saturday June 3, 7.00pm
Referee - D Crawford

North Star seem to have shrugged off a lot of their off-field worries, which was highlighted by a surprise win against competition front-runners Brisbane City last week. They will find Taringa harder to beat.

The Rovers too played a flawless first half against City last week but failed to finish the job. Coach Juan Cutillas will be after a full ninety minutes from his players this week.

MATCH WINNERS

Fraser Cuba has had a great season with North Star and is truly in contention for a State jumper. This incentive could spur him on.

Jason Lucas was superb in goals for the Rovers last weekend and will have to be at his best again if his side is to take the points.

XXXX SOCCER LEAGUE - ROUND 12

BRISBANE LIONS v PINE RIVERS

Lions Stadium, Richlands, Sunday June 4, 2.45pm
Referee - G Gibbs

Lions got back in the winners' circle in the last round, which saw them move back into the top five. They will be wanting to continue this form to keep them in the running.

Rivers finally posted their first win of the season last Friday night against Grange. Coach Gerry Lindsay would be hoping this to be a turning point for his team.

MATCH WINNERS

Youngster Trent Able was back in the goals for Lions last weekend. He possesses a lot of talent and will be one to watch in this match.

Rivers' latest signing Lee Scriggins should add some much needed spark up front for the side. Already he has scored for his new club proving his worth.

BRISBANE CITY v WILLOWBURN

Spencer Park, Newmarket, Sunday June 4, 2.45pm
Referee - G Brownlie

City appeared to have lost their way during the last week, with a win and a draw bringing them back to the rest of the competition. They should win this one however.

The Magpies would still be hurting after their humiliating 7-0 thumping by Rochedale. They will have to improve out of sight if they are to avoid a similar scoreline here.

Warren Cooley has been one of City's unsung heroes this season and with ten goals, has shown how much of a danger he can be.

Willowburn keeper Trevor Gilliland had seven go past him last week, but sources say it should have been 15 but for his keeping prowess.

XXXX SOCCER LEAGUE - ROUND 12

NORTH BRISBANE v COALSTARS

Lanham Park, Grange, Sunday June 4, 2.45pm
Referee - B Power

The Aces probably had one of the unluckiest first rounds in history and would be hoping for a change of luck and a few wins in the second half of the competition.

Coalstars were a little disappointing in the first stage of the League and would be looking to show other teams they are not just one of the "also rans". A few wins are needed to put them within striking distance of the five.

MATCH WINNERS

Veteran John Stewart has tried hard all season and must continue his efforts to encourage the younger lads in the side.

Wes Park had a solid game last weekend for the Coalminers. A similar performance against the Aces would help his side.

EASTERN SUBURBS v GRANGE THISTLE

Heath Park, East Brisbane, Sunday June 4, 2.45pm
Referee - J Palmer

Easts are still fighting to get clear of the relegation zone and need a win to pull them further away from the two bottom sides. They can not afford to drop too many more games.

Thistle have struggled in the latter part of the first round and now find themselves only five points clear of the relegation zone also. Three points here would be very handy.

MATCH WINNERS

Rowan Tollenare was one of the Tigers' standouts in their loss to Coalstars last weekend. Look for him to shine again here.

Wayne McGauley has been a little quiet for Grange in recent weeks and must fire in this match if his side is to win this one and take the three points.
