Editorial

An amateur division two weekend match between Mooroodu and Bethania showed what the game of soccer truly stands for.

It's been a struggle for Mooroodu this season after losing many players earlier in the year.

Instead of withdrawing from the competition, about twelve players turnout each weekend to play for the reserves and then backup for the top team.

On Saturday afternoon at Thorneside it became a little too much for Mooroodu, with only eight players able to return to the field for the second half of the main game.

It all could have been too easy for Bethania. Leading the league by a massive margin, the Rams could have taken the opportunity to spank another team.

But in one of the kindest gestures I have ever hear about on a soccer field, the Rams decided to field only eight players so the match could be played on even terms.

The result of the match is irrelevant. The best part of Saturday's game was the sportsmanship shown by the Rams and the effort of Mooroodu to keep a team on the playing field.

It was a sign of goodwill that was unfortunately not evident between another two clubs over a recent youth match that failed to take place.

If all clubs worked together such as Bethania and Mooroodu did on Saturday, the Queensland soccer fraternity would be much happier.

Similar goodwill will be evident on Sunday when the Premier League "Dream Team" meets the Brisbane Strikers in a benefit match for unfortunate Mount Gravatt player Lincoln Greaves.

With admission being only a gold coin and no other matches having been scheduled for that day, there's no reason why there should not be a bumper crowd at Perry Park.

The time has come for Queensland soccer players, officials and fans to unite as one in a time of desperate need for a fellow comrade.

All money raised goes towards helping the Greaves family with medical bills.

What happened in Round 19

Brisbane City's lead at the top of the Premier League ladder has been cut to eight points and with nearest challengers Brisbane Lions having nine matches of their season remaining there is still hope for a close finish.

City was being held to a 2-2 draw by the Gold Coast at Palm Beach on Sunday. A little later in the afternoon Lions took advantage of their arch-rivals slip up by thrashing Taringa Rovers 4-0 at Richlands.

Should Lions win their game in hand against Toowoomba on Saturday night, City's lead will have been cut to five points.

That would make the round 20 clash in Sunday, July 9 between the two sides particularly mouth-watering, with Lions needing at least a draw to keep their premiership aspirations alive.

Royce Brownlie scored twice for Lions in their win over Taringa. He has now found the net 13 times this season.

Darren Sime and teenage sensation Michael Baird scored Lions other two goals to clinch their side's first victory over Taringa this season.

In an entertaining match at Palm Beach Mark Battistin and Allan Cameron found the net for Brisbane City, with Ian Hutchison and Adem Poric scoring for the home side.

One should not leave Rochedale Rovers out of the premiership equation. They too are eight points behind City following a 3-1 win over the Ipswich Knights at Underwood Park on Saturday night.

Michael Legg gave the home side an early lead, with the three points being cemented late in the match thanks to goals from Ross Davidson and the league's leading marksman Matt Olley.

A Peter Hinks cracker from 25 yards in the game's dying stages was the Knights' sole consolation.

The loss was sixth-placed Ipswich's 11th of the season, a number of defeats only matched by bottom team Mount Gravatt.

But it was Mount Gravatt's draw column that grew on Saturday night after the Mal Bland-coached team was held to a 1-1 draw at home by the Toowoomba Raiders.

In the battle of the cellar dwellers, Ben Stabler gave Mount Gravatt a 1-0 half-time lead but a second-half Jason Bosward goal meant both sides had to settle for a point.

The weekend's other match saw Wynnum take on Waves in Bundaberg, with Waves running out surprise 2-0 winners on Saturday night.

A goal in each half, the first to Jason Chapman and the other to Rodney Cooper, gave Waves a much-needed victory.

The result may have irreparable damage to the Wolves premiership hopes, with the Peter Tokesi-coached side 15 points behind City.

Tokesi said his team had paid the price in recent weeks for not converting chances.

He has not given up hope of catching City, saying there was still plenty of points up for grabs between now and the end of the season.

BENEFIT PREVIEW - LG DREAM TEAM v BRISBANE STRIKERS

It will be all out attack from the Premier League "Dream Team" when it meets the Brisbane Strikers at Perry Park on Sunday.

The match is being played in honour of Mt Gravatt youngster Lincoln Greaves who was seriously injured in a game on the Easter weekend.

The recovering Greaves has selected the Dream Team, drawing players from all 10 Premier League clubs.

His team includes seven former NSL players who are more than capable of matching with the more fancied Strikers.

Greaves said his side would adopt very attacking tactics.

"We won't lose 6-0 but it could be a 6-6 draw," he said.

Greaves is likely to start with the league's leading goalscorer Matt Olley in partnership with the equally as dangerous Sasa Radulovic in attack.

He said a certain starter would be Brisbane City sweeper Demetri Theochari, who he described as "very strong" in defence.

In the other camp, Strikers coach John Kosmina said the match should be an "intense" affair.

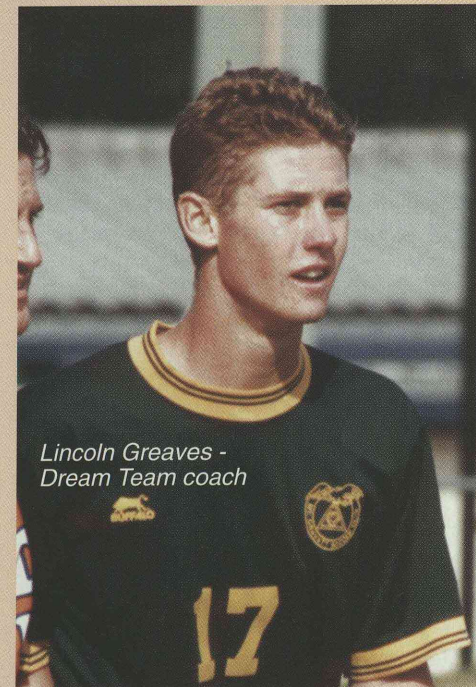

"The Premier League players, who will be at peak fitness, (will be) keen to match their skills against Queensland's NSL players," he said.

The man in the middle of Sunday's game will be Queensland's own FIFA referee Mark Shield.

WHO'S HOT: The Dream Team's Matt Olley is on fire at the moment scoring at will for his club side Rochedale. Wade Baldwin, who could play for either side, is another player to look out for.

FORM GUIDE: The Dream Team's form is obviously good, with the players having been chosen for their efforts. The inactive Strikers are an unknown quantity.

TIP: 3-3

PREMIER PREVIEW - TARINGA ROVERS v WYNNUM WOLVES

Wynnum's premiership campaign is on the verge of falling apart after two straight losses.

It's for that reason that the Wolves round 17 catch-up fixture against Taringa Rovers on Saturday night at Jack Speare Park is a must-win game for the Peter Tokesi-coached side.

"We're desperate to win. We've virtually got to win all our games from now on," Tokesi said.

The Wolves are currently in fifth place on 28 points. Despite having a game in hand on Brisbane City, the Wolves trail the leaders by a massive 15 points.

If they win against Taringa, the margin will have been cut to 12, a gettable target with 24 points still on offer after this weekend.

Tokesi said each of the four sides still having a reasonable shot at City must do each other favours by grabbing points off the leaders when they play them.

Gold Coast started the trend last Sunday by holding City to a draw and Tokesi wants the rest of the contenders to do the same.

For the Wolves to have a genuine shot at the title they must start to convert their chances. Their lack of finishing in recent matches has frustrated Tokesi.

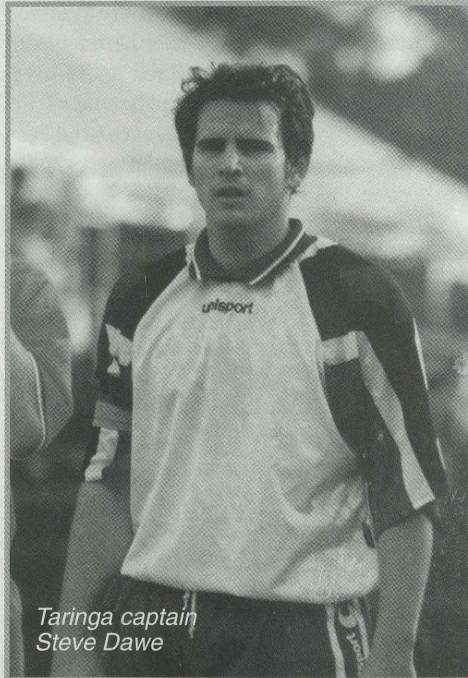

"We can't do anymore than create chances. Players must finish them off," he said.

Taringa has little left to play for this season apart from avoiding the wooden spoon. A win on Saturday night would result in the side moving ahead of Bundaberg and within two points of sixth-placed Ipswich.

WHO'S HOT: Wynnum's Anthony Roche more than held his own against Bundaberg's Robbie Hooker last weekend. Taringa's Steve Dawe was unlucky to have a penalty awarded against him at Richlands last Sunday.

LAST TIME THEY MET: Round eight - Wynnum 2 drew with Taringa 2, Carmichael Park, April 8

PREMIER PREVIEW - TOWOOMBA RAIDERS v BRISBANE LIONS

Before worrying about what could be a premiership deciding clash between themselves and Brisbane City the following week, Lions must beat the lowly-placed Toowoomba Raiders at Gold Park on Saturday night.

Lions coach John Ogden said there was no chance his side would be looking ahead to City and treat the deferred round 17 match against Toowoomba as a certain three points.

"Toowoomba have had some good results recently and at home they're a different proposition," he said.

If Lions are to win this weekend and go on to win the title, they will do so without the services of striker Sasa Radulovic and midfielder Darren Hillier.

Radulovic has left the club to trial with several National League clubs down south, while a back injury that has sidelined Hillier for the last month is likely to keep him out for the rest of the season.

Ogden said the absence of both players would be felt, but said that it gave other players at the club the chance to shine.

One such player is 16-year-old striker Michael Baird who has made the most of Radulovic's departure.

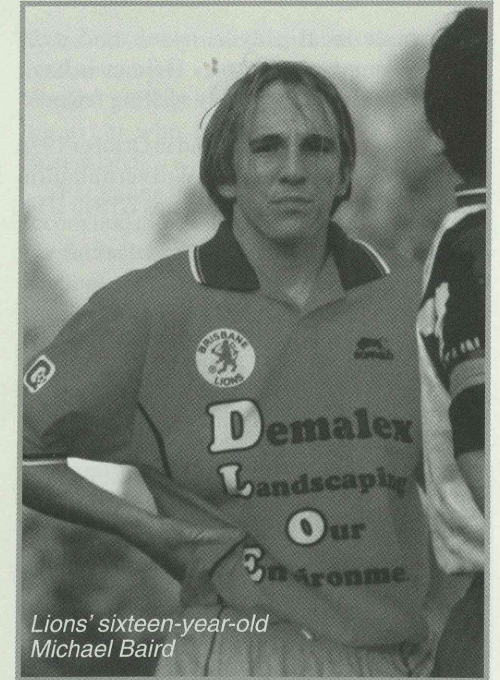

The teenage sensation has scored three times in the past two matches, cementing his position as Royce Brownlie's striking partner.

The Raiders too have a lot to play for, with victory ensuring they would leapfrog the inactive Bundaberg Waves on goal difference.

WHO'S HOT: Brisbane Lions striker Royce Brownlie scored twice for his side last weekend to improve his record to 13 for the season. Jason Bosward found the net for the Raiders last Saturday night.

Stewart Holmes back home

Former local player, coach and avid Strikers supporter Stewart Holmes is back in Brisbane for a short stay visiting friends.

Holmes returned to England in October 1998 and now coaches at the Wolverhampton Wanderers academy with age groups U10 to U14.

Wolves have committed themselves heavily to their youth development program and have invested more than $15 million on facilities.

Robbie Keane, now an established Premier League player at Coventry and Irish international, is certainly one who has benefited from his time at Wolves.

Holmes recently returned from a tournament in Holland with the Wolves under 12 squad. Opponents included Sparta Prague, Malmo and Copenhagen.

"It was a great experience to observe the varied and different styles of European football," Holmes said.

He believes he has benefited greatly by his many years of coaching in Australia.

"I was fortunate to be involved with Soccer Australia coaching courses beginning in 1982 and I have seen many fine coaches in Australia."

When not coaching at Wolves he is a coaching coordinator for the Birmingham County F.A. which involves school and club development.

He returns to England in late July in time for the start of the school holiday fun weeks and pre-season at Wolves.

For the people he won't get to see on this visit, he hopes to return to Australia in the not too distant future.

Holmes said he would help any teams wishing for assistance with their itineraries and accommodation in the U.K. He can be contacted by sending a message to his email address. <sholmescoaching@bun.com>

World's best in our backyard

Brisbane's Olympic Games football tournament event director Alan Vessey has welcomed the recent announcement that seven international soccer teams will play at the Gabba during the Sydney 2000 Olympic Games.

Brazil, the Czech Republic, Japan, Slovakia, South Africa, Cameroon and Kuwait will all play preliminary games at the Gabba, vying for one of two places in the quarter-final on September 23.

"We are excited about hosting Brazil, the world's number one soccer nation, for three matches, and possibly a fourth, if they reach the quarterfinals," Vessey said.

"Further more, the Czech Republic, who will play two preliminary games in Brisbane, are the number two ranked soccer nation in the world and number one in Europe."

Although the quarter-final match sold out within hours of extra tickets going on sale on June 4, soccer fans can still witness the finals action from the comfort of a hospitality suite or box.

"We have a range of facilities available from eight seater boxes through to dining facilities for larger groups," Vessey said.

"We expect the hospitality boxes will be very popular with soccer clubs," he added.

Vessey said he was excited about the impact this event would have on soccer in Queensland.

"The Olympic Games represents a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for the Queensland soccer community to watch some of the best soccer players in the world in their own backyard," he said.

Tickets can now be ordered by telephoning 13 72 79, on-line at www.olympics.com or by visiting the Ticketek outlet on Level E of the Myer Centre. Inquiries regarding hospitality facilities should be directed to the Queensland Government Olympic Football Project on (07) 3239 0942.

Ansett Australia, the official airline of the Sydney 2000 Olympic Games, has also recently announced the release of Olympic Games Football packages for people wanting to attend the event who live outside of South-East Queensland.

Packages include tickets, two nights accommodation in Brisbane and return airfares. For further details contact Ansett Holidays on 13 13 44.

For additional information about the Olympic Games Football Tournament contact the Sydney 2000 Games Information Service on 13 63 63 or visit www.tq.com.au/media/olympic.

NORTH & SOUTH SEMIPROS AND CONS

Nothing much has changed on the ladders of the respective semi-pro competitions following last weekend's round of matches.

With eight fixtures still remaining, Easts still look like certainties to claim the Southern title, while things are also looking good for the University of Queensland in the north.

The students had a bye last weekend, however still managed to hold down the top spot in the northern competition.

Currently they are on 37 points, three clear of Mitchelton and five ahead of Pine Rivers. To put things into perspective a little more, the students also have a game in hand on the remainder of the competition, with every other side still to have their final bye for the season.

Mitchelton has jumped right back into premiership calculations though, following another strong weekend performance against North Star.

Gary McDowall's Mitchelton outfit downed the reigning premiers 3-0, a result that has arguably quashed any faint North Star hopes of back-to-back titles.

The victory rocketed Mitchy into outright second on the ladder, with the club leapfrogging Pine Rivers, after Bob Hamilton's side went down 2-1 to The Gap.

Rivers has had a bit of a rocky ride in recent weeks and now also look to be slight outsiders to take this year's premiership, going on current form.

Even though they are only five points off the pace, the extra game in hand that University enjoys effectively puts them nearly three clear wins behind the students.

The Gap, meanwhile, is finishing the season strongly and on recent form looks as though it could even finish in the top four, which would be an excellent result for a team that is still discovering itself.

North Pine continued its run of victories at the weekend, downing Thistle 2-0. That win was the club's eighth this season and has kept them within striking distance of the four. In the other match in the north, Newmarket overpowered Albany Creek 3-0.

The south meantime remains a very one-sided contest, with Eastern Suburbs far too strong for the rest of the competition.

The Tigers cruised to their fourteenth victory of the season, thrashing Acacia Ridge 5-0 and moving out to an unassailable 18-point lead on the ladder.

Basically Easts can afford to drop six of its remaining seven matches and still take out the southern title.

Despite having the bye at the weekend, Souths United remains in second spot, just ahead of Rocklea United on goal differences.

Rocklea's 1-1 draw with Olympic last week means Olympic remains in fourth spot, a point shy of Rocklea and Souths.

With Eastern Suburbs dominating so heavily, the southern competition has lost a little of its spark, with the focus probably now turning towards the bottom of the ladder and the sides that have not been performing well this season.

Beenleigh has quite comfortably secured the wooden spoon for this season. The club enduring yet another loss at the weekend, this time at the hands of Redlands, although the 3-1 scoreline at least had some respectability.

Looking at the Lions' statistics it is hard to comprehend that they actually have enjoyed a win this season.

Sadly, that is the only bright statistic for the club, which is biding its time before it reaches 100 goals in the against column.

Despite its position on the ladder, Slacks Creek continues to cause other teams in the competition a bit of trouble. A 2-2 draw with Capalaba at the weekend has kept the Creek in the fight to achieve mid-table status.

With no fixtures set down for this weekend, things will remain as are for a fortnight at least, however nothing will stop Easts from taking out the southern crown.

READ' between the LINES

For those wondering what's happening with former Gold Coast player and last year's Gold Medal winner Eddie Lees, I caught up with one of the former stars of Queensland soccer last week.

Eddie is now living in Sydney with his lovely wife Anna and has not returned to the playing field.

He talked to a few clubs at the start of the Sydney season but the work transfer from the Coast proved too complicated in the end and he resigned himself to sitting out the season.

So one of the game's great talents sits on the sideline enjoying the harbour views and the beach at Manly.

Whether Eddie returns for the gold medal dinner at the end of the year is one question I forgot to ask him. Stay tuned for an answer to that one.

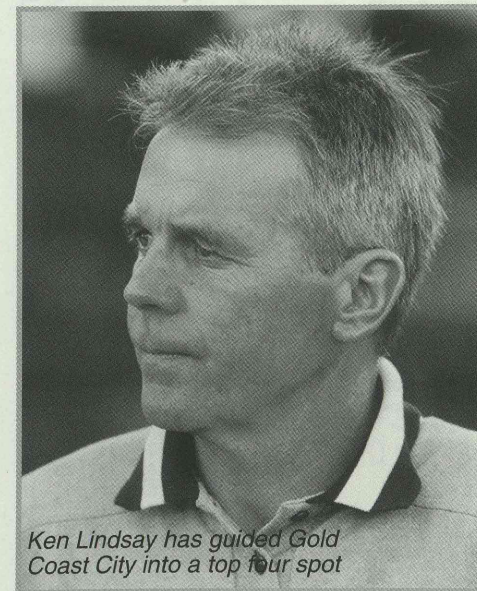

On the matter of former Gold Coast players, it was great to see a former teammate of mine from Taringa, Ian Hutchison, was back playing with the Coast.

Hutchison has been busy on another one of his famous overseas jaunts and will certainly give the club a giant boost.

The Coast has surged into finals contention after a slow start to the year and Hutcho picked up his first goal at the weekend as the club gained a point from a 2-2 draw with Brisbane City.

The Coast has turned itself from an also ran into a contender and the club is in line to replicate its performance of last year.

That's a tribute to the coaching of Ken Lindsay, who has overcome the loss of the core of his side from last year and guided his charges back into the top four.

Ken Lindsay has guided Gold Coast City into a top four spot

The Coast is the side to watch as the season enters its final stretch, with several players rejoining the club from the Brisbane Strikers and the return of the likes of Hutcho.

At the top of the table, City is starting to get a few stumbles as it looks to close out the competition.

The club still holds a massive lead at the top of the table but the gap is closing and Lions can narrow it to five points with a win in their catch-up game.

The two clubs meet next week before City faces another danger game against Rochedale the week after.

It's soccer's form of "Amen's Corner".

Two wins and City can more or less book their minor premiership. Two losses and the race is back on, with City losing favouritism after dominating the competition for most of the season.

Ansett Cup gets down to business

The Northern semi-pro league has shown its dominance over the southern competition by supplying six of the teams in Saturday's four Ansett Cup quarter-final clashes.

The Ansett Cup is the only tournament during the season that gives north and south semi-pro teams the chance to show their wares against each other.

With round one matches completed, the Cup has got down to its business stage, with any one of the eight teams remaining having the ability to go all the way.

Saturday's match at 2.45 between northern heavyweights the University of Queensland and Mitchelton at St Lucia is worthy of a final.

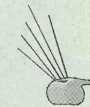

Another match on Saturday pits together Albany Creek and Capalaba at Wolter Park, Albany Creek at 3pm.

In two matches at 7pm on Saturday, Eastern Suburbs travel to North Star and Pine Rivers host the winner of a playoff match between Newmarket and North Pine that was played last night (Wednesday) at Perry Park.

Round 1 aggregate results:

University of Queensland 9 d Souths 3, Capalaba 6 d Grange Thistle 1, Pine Rivers 5 d Redlands United 2, Mitchelton 9 d Olympic 3, North Star 5 d Acacia Ridge 2, Easts 7 d The Gap 2, North Pine 4 d Rocklea United 2, Albany Creek 9 d Beenleigh 4, Newmarket 3 d Slacks Creek 2.

BEFORE THE WHISTLE

Well it was certainly another weekend for some surprising and some may say, unusual upsets.

In division one Annerley finally decided to do something about their low status and defeated Goodna 1-0, Peninsula, down 1-0 at the break to leaders Darra, came roaring back to win 2-1, Samford belied their lowly status and walloped Moggill 3-1 whilst who would have put money on Inala putting four past the previously mean Ipswich City defence.

Darra still enjoy a four point lead, but these results certainly close up the middle of the table, as only a handful of points now separate virtually the next seven teams.

Division Two had even stranger results, if you set aside Bethania's regular drubbing of all comers, Pine Hills had an outstanding win away to Wilston, whilst Bayside's once virtually impregnable home record went in a very one sided affair to Clairvaux, and how about the nine goal thriller down at Woodridge with the Kings ending up one goal better off!

The only amateur match being played this weekend is the deferred match in division five between Souths and Ipswich Knights on Friday night. The Knights should take home the points.

All amateur matches have now been caught up, which is not to say there's not a surfeit of matches being played this weekend, with the round two Ansett Cup matches, the Semi-Pro's and some washed out Premier League matches all being played on Saturday afternoon/night.

This leaves the way clear for a big crowd at Perry Park for the benefit day for young Lincoln Greaves. It should be an interesting afternoon of football, with a XXXX Youth match between Toowoomba and the Sunshine Coast, a media game followed by the Lincoln Greaves Dream Team versus the Brisbane Strikers. As they say at the the show, "roll up, roll up".

The Qantas Cup quarter finals are scheduled in two weeks time, and it is interesting to note that three Sunshine Coast teams are still in the running, although sadly, one will be knocked out as Sunshine Coast's Youth team has been drawn against Kawana, this again shows the strength on the Sunshine Coast. Interesting to note that out of all of the amateur clubs who started, only two division One sides are left, with Clairvaux from division Two and Wynnum and Lions the high fliers from division Four still in it. Could be an interesting set-up for the semis.

Last week it was sad to say farewell to the Federation's longest serving staff member, Trish Cappell, who after 22 years service finally called it a day, to go into business for herself with a franchise in the Wynnum area. Words cannot adequately express the gratitude of the Soccer Federation and I in particular, have for her. She was a tower of strength, and her unfailing memory for detail and knowledge of the workings of The Federation's administration was an absolute joy. She kept me sane on more than one occasion, and I shall sadly miss her. Having said that, I do wish her well in her new venture. She will make a great success of it.

This may well only be an itinerant column for the remainder of the season, as those of you who have followed comments I have made and the minutes of the Queensland Soccer Federation, will know that for the months of July-September inclusive I will be working full time with SOCOG as Competition Manager-Olympic Games Football, Brisbane. I have been working at this task on and off for almost two years now, and with the culmination of the football tournament nigh, all of my waking hours will now be entirely devoted to that. I will, of course, be following the affairs of the clubs, although the writing of this column may well be, as I stated, very much a spasmodic affair.

Best wishes to all players-coaches-clubs for the remainder of the season, just in case my production of this column errs on the fewer rather than the many. To date, it has been a most interesting season, and I can see no reason why it will not continue until the end of August.

Sydney Games flag flies at 'Gabba

A sign that the Olympics are getting closer came last Friday at the 'Gabba with the raising of the Sydney Games flag.

Queensland minister for sport Terry Mackenroth was at Brisbane's Olympic soccer venue to hoist the flag up the pole for all to see.

Joining Mackenroth at the 'Gabba were the Brazilian Carnavale Group, who gave a glimpse of what fans can expect to see at the gala ceremony before the opening match at the 'Gabba on September 13.

Also on hand were boys and girls players from the Queensland Academy of Sport, who played a mini demonstration game.

Mackenroth has also announced that a search is on for talented Queensland musicians eager to perform at the gala ceremony.

Brisbane is hosting football teams from Africa, South America, Europe and Asia, with eight to 10 groups of multicultural percussionists from these regions to perform at the ceremony.

"The eyes of the world will be on the Gabba on September 13 as our event kicks off two days before the opening ceremony in Sydney," Mackenroth said.

"As such, our gala ceremony is a tremendous opportunity to showcase the talent that exists in Queensland to the world."

Musical director Robert Clark said a mix of ethnic percussion influences was needed.

"Drums are as old as time and each culture has its own unique percussive story. The sounds of drums beating from each corner of the globe is the musical effect we are wanting to create," he said.

"Enhanced by the visual elements of ethnic costume and dramatic movement, the power of this international drumming scene will be tremendous."

Roberta Lettieri - one of the glamorous members of the Brazilian Carnavale Group present at the 'Gabba last Friday

Auditions will take place at the Suncorp Piazza at South Bank between 11am and 4pm.

Qualified troupes and cultural percussionists should arrive with their instruments and dressed in national costume. For further information about the audition contact the Queensland Gala Soccer Production Company on 3255 2109.
