Some words of advice for weekend sportsmen: Take up drinking.

You'd be surprised how many sportsmen and women take better care of their equipment than their bodies. They either eat a big meal before playing — which can weigh them down, make them feel uncomfortable. Or they eat nothing at all — which means reserves of energy are soon exhausted.

There's a better way, with Sustagen.
Sustagen is a correctly balanced, scientifically proven meal supplement you use in liquid form. It takes only seconds to prepare — simply add it to water.

Sustagen solves the energy crisis.

Sustagen is a nutritious high energy source which provides all the vital ingredients your body needs for peak performance. And it tastes good, too.

It gives you more energy than a steak meal. But without the bulk. And Sustagen is digested in literally half the time. Which means you can drink it before or between events without fear of discomfort.

You may not be going for a world record this weekend, but if sport is something you enjoy doing well, Sustagen can help you do it better.

Don't play on a full stomach, or on an empty stomach. Play on Sustagen.

Available in vanilla, chocolate or strawberry flavours, in 1 lb, 2½ lb and 10 lb packs, or 2 oz single-serve sachets from chemists everywhere.
